ROTARY CLUB

Dr. George L. West of Newton Centre, Medical Examiner for the district composed of Newton, Waltham, Weston and Watertown, was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon on Monday of the Newton Rotary Club.

Dr. West has been medical examiner for the past twenty years, and notwithstanding the gruesomeness of his office, gave an interesting account of his experiences and duties.

With the declaration of independence maintaining the rights of the citizen to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness Dr. West said it was clearly the duty of the state to see to it that lives were protected and when taken in any violent or unusual manner, the cause should be carefully investigated.

The office of medical examiner succeeded that of coroner in this state in 1877 and was the result of serious abuses in the coroner system. Incidentally, Dr. West said that the office of coroner had come down thru many centuries and was formerly one of great honor and responsibility. It had gradually been shorn of its most important duties until practically all that was left was the investigation of violent deaths.

It is the duty of the Medical Examiner to view the body of every person found dead under unusual conditions, for no one is allowed to disturb the body until it is viewed by him. The list includes death by accident, suicides, murder and under unusual conditions, such as being found dead in bed. It is also the duty of the Examiner to view bodies intended for cremation. Dr. West made it clear that his duty related merely to the medical side of the case and that his report to the district police judge and the district attorney ended his connection with the matter. He told numerous incidents of finding clues by which murderers were convicted and other interesting experiences of his work in this office.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLEY

Mrs. Florence May (Brown) Willey, the wife of Mr. George L. Willey, died last Saturday at her home on Watertown street, Newtonville. Mrs. Willey was born in Charlestown 48 years ago and has resided in this city for about four years. She was a member of the Newtonville Women's Club and the Eastern Star. Funeral services were held on Tuesday. Rev. Dr. Beale of Dedham officiating and the interment was in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. O'Malley have sailed for a trip to the Mediterranean.

ELKS' SHOW

"The 'Brownskin Scandals,' a musical revue by a colored company was presented in the Newton Opera House on Wednesday night under the auspices of Newton Lodge of Elks. An audience that nearly filled the theatre, waxed enthusiastic over the performance, which was perhaps the best of its kind ever given in this city. The committee which procured the show has been overwhelmed since with congratulations from those privileged to attend.

The company carried its own orchestra, and Doc Eisenberg's musicians never executed jazz as did the "Brownskin" players. Dan Ware, Jr., the star of the revue, is a colored took the leading female part, is a pleasing lyric soprano; William Hill as the hero, had a remarkable tenor voice. An excellent singing chorus also displayed great proficiency in doing the Charleston and the other Ethiopian steps now so popular with the Nordic and other Caucasian or near Caucasian races.

PLAYS MELROSE NEXT WEEK

Newton high school hockey team will play the league leading Melrose sextet either next Wednesday or Thursday night at the Arena. This will be one of the six games postponed from the first of the week. Newton high needs this game to tie the last year champions for first place in the preliminary round. Melrose has won all six of its league contests while the orange and black bowed to Stoughton.

Both the Melrose outfit and Newton have victories over Andover Academy, Yale '29 and other fast teams. Melrose defeated Andover by a 4-1 score while Captain Holbrook's outfit shut the same team out 3-0. Newton walloped the Yale yearling team by a 7-0 score while Melrose had to work hard to pull out a 4-2 victory. On the face of comparative scores Newton high seems to have the edge.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. Winfield S. Richards, a resident of Newton Highlands for over 50 years, died on Tuesday at his home on Lake avenue, at the age of 86 years. Mr. Richards was born in Roxbury, Maine, and was the son of Amasa and Mary Hincks Richards. For many years he was engaged in the real estate business in Newton and Allerton. He is survived by a son, Dr. Russell A. Richards and a daughter, Mrs. Samuel Colt, both of Newton Highlands. Funeral services are being held this afternoon, Rev. George G. Phipps officiating and the burial will be in the Newton Cemetery.

ALDERMEN TAKE ACTION

Important Matters Considered at the Regular Meeting Last Monday

Routine Matters

New schools and old water-pipes were the "headliners" at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. A hearing on a petition for a filling station was actually of minor importance. Even before the meeting started, something out of the ordinary happened. City Messenger Lucian Davis pulled off a stunt that outdid anything ever accomplished by Atlas, Samson, Sandow, or any of the famous strong men Lucian carried into the aldermanic chamber the new junior high school, which will be located at West Newton. And for good measure he also carried with the school a considerable part of the school grounds. The model of the school and its yard was placed on a table at the front of the chamber, where it could be admired by all present.

All twenty-one aldermen were present when President George Pratt called the meeting to order at 8.10. The first petition to be heard was one from the Edison Company for a pole location on Dorset Road. No person appeared to oppose this petition. Next on the docket was the petition of Cashman & Ginsberg for a gasoline filling station at 2389 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls. These two young men run a meat market at Upper Falls; also a meat market at Lower Falls. They have erected a new building at the latter place, and desire to sell gasoline in addition to meat and fish. At least, it is supposed they will sell gasoline. It has been the usual custom in Newton during the past few years for persons receiving permits for filling stations, to transfer such stations to one or the other of the big gas producing companies. As such transfers came after those receiving the permits had averred, upon being questioned by the aldermen, that they intended to operate the stations themselves, a certain resentment was engendered in the aldermen because of these seeming breaches of faith. So, Alderman Ball asked Attorney James S. Cannon, who appeared for Cashman & Ginsberg, if his clients intend to conduct the station themselves. Mr. Cannon answered that he supposed they will.

The Cashman & Ginsberg petition having been heard, the next matter on the docket was the petition of John Foran for a permit to build a 3-car garage at 52 Myrtle street. As President Pratt asked for any person who wished to speak for or against the petition, to make such desire evident, Ex-Alderman Thomas Lyons started to extricate himself from a bench in the rear of the hall. Mr. Pratt awaited to hear what "Tom" had to offer against the petition being granted: "Tom" made no protest. He merely was on his way out into the corridor.

Hearings were then announced on various private garages. No opposition developing, permits were granted for the following: Arthur B. Bernard, 14 Oakvale road, Wd. 5, 1-car; Arthur B. Bernard, 20 Oakvale road, Wd. 5, 1-car; Edward R. Berry, 150 Beethoven avenue, Wd. 5, 1-car; Telephore J. Bilodeau, 511 California street, Wd. 2, 1-car; Julia A. Bowering, 16 Chapin road, Wd. 6, 1-car; Herbert Brodbeck, 76 Randlett park, Wd. 3, 2-car; L. R. Cook, 12-14 Whittemore road, Wd. 7, 2-car; L. R. Cook, 12-14 Whittemore road, Wd. 7, 2-car; J. E. Cousins, 48 Shorecliffe road, Wd. 7, 2-car; Mrs. Mary Doherty, 45 Priscilla road, Wd. 6, 2-car; John J. Foran, 40 Myrtle street, Wd. 3, 2-car; Patrick Hickey, 401 Lowell avenue, Wd. 2, 2-car; Charles J. O'Malley, 21 Harvard road, Wd. 6, 2-car; John Regan, 14 Ellis street, Wd. 5, 1-car; R. Vitti, 61 Lincoln road, Wd. 2, 1-car; J. W. White, 25 Albion place, Wd. 6, 1-car; J. W. White, 53 Pine Crest road, Wd. 6, 1-car.

The business of drawing jurors came next. Those drawn to serve at the criminal session of the Superior Court at Cambridge in March were: Frank H. Burbank, 245 Auburn street; A. J. Brown, 405 Volcott street; Edward J. Brown, 405 Volcott street; Edward J. Brown, 405 Volcott street.

Clean Water

At the meeting of the aldermen on January 18th, the question of improving Newton's water supply was taken up and a special committee was appointed to investigate the water system of the city. Those appointed on this committee were Aldermen Ball, Favin, and Gallagher. On the following Sunday Alderman Ball did not have time even to attend church. His telephone started to ring early in the morning of that day and before sundown he had received about 100 phone calls. All the conversations over the wire were on the same subject—water.

Residents of Newton in former years were wont to brag about the water supplied by this city. Milwaukee citizens lavished no more praise on the beer formerly brewed in that burg, than did certain Newtonians about the aquapipa piped in this town. But, the ladies and gentlemen who phoned Mr. Ball did not do so to lavish encomiums on the fluid flowing through the local faucets. On the contrary the remarks of the Ward 5 alderman had to listen to almost made him wish that something stronger than liquor containing 1/2 of one per cent might be legal so that the outraged persons who were telling him what they thought of Newton water, might have some alternative thirst quencher.

For several days prior to the reception by Alderman Ball of the comments and complaints on Newton water, that liquid had been delivered in various parts of the city to householders in a condition that caused some to wonder if it was water or sarsaparilla they were receiving. One man was particularly sore. He said he had been to a party the night before and was suffering from a parched throat as a result. When he turned on the faucet in his house that morning he was almost overcome with joy. The brown liquid running from the faucet looked so much like Bock, that he thought some miracle had occurred. But when he eagerly swallowed some of it, his delight quickly changed to disgust.

Having been honored by his appointment as Chairman of the Special Committee on Water Mr. Ball realized that

New School

Architect Hubert Ripley appeared before the aldermen on Monday night to explain the plans of the proposed new junior high school for the West Newton-Auburndale district. He had constructed a model which afforded a good illustration of the new building; this model was placed on a table in the aldermanic chamber, and it occasioned much favorable comment from those privileged to see it.

The new school structure is an adaptation of the Georgian type; the main building has a gabled roof with a graceful tower rising midway. It will be located on the western corner of the property acquired near Washington and Myrtle streets, where the ground is a little higher than elsewhere along the Washington street front. All the school rooms will be entirely above ground; the first floor will be step above ground level. A long corridor will run the length of the building; the boys' entrance will be at one end, the girls' entrance at the other end. The main portion of the building will be used for class rooms; the gymnasium will be located in the ell at the rear. There will be room on each of the two main floors for 12 class rooms, but as some space will be required for offices and study halls, only 18 rooms will be used as class rooms. Four others will be available if needed.

Under the gymnasium, which will be equally divided by a sliding partition, will be the locker rooms, shower baths and lunch room. The wood and metal working plants will be in that section of the school which will contain the boiler room. The building will have outside walls of water-struck brick. The corridors will be of fire-proof construction; the remainder of the building may be of second-class construction. It is planned so that six additional rooms can be erected on either side as extensions of the wings. The new school will cost about $500,000 and will accommodate 700 pupils. The assembly hall will seat 900 and will contain a large stage. A smaller study hall, 80 feet by 25, can be used for smaller gatherings. At each corner of the main hall will be a room for the storage of chairs. This will facilitate the easy removal of the seats from the

GIRL SCOUTS

What can we do for Troop "Good Turns"? Here is our answer. "Little Women," which was given by Troop III (Newton Centre) just before Christmas in connection with a Fair for the purpose of raising money for the Troop treasury and for the All Newton Budget, repeated the play last week Thursday at the Stone Institute for the enjoyment of the ladies there. It was also given at the monthly assembly of the Mason School this week. On Saturday 20 members of this Troop went to Cedar Hill to enjoy the Jamboree which was held there that day. Besides enjoying the sports some of the Scouts took part in the entertainment which was given in the big barn in the morning. Catherine Condit, Adelaide Blodgett and Carol Moses acted a short play, Ruth Coughlin gave a piano solo and Captain Ordway did some very clever sleight of hand.

One of the Cedar Hill industries is making crocheted bags which are filled with a mixture of seeds and suet especially appetizing to birds. The Chairman of the Conservation Committee of the Newton Highlands Women's Club asked Captain Collins of Troop XI if her Scouts would have some of the bags for sale at the meeting of the Club last week. Mrs. Collins responded to this call, as she always responds to any opportunity to do a Good Turn, and the Scouts were at the meeting with the bags and sold fifty at least. Some of the ladies did not have the means of putting up the bags. The names and addresses of these purchases were taken and in the afternoon a Boy Scout hung the bag on some tree at the address given. The birds in Newton Highlands are feasting when food is hard to find in many places, and the Cedar Hill Industries benefited quite a bit by the sale.

Twenty Scouts from Troop V gave a little play at the Stone Institute in Upper Falls last Saturday afternoon. The Troop was asked to furnish the entertainment for the party which the Visiting Committee for January gave on that day. "The Elfin Slipper," a short entertainment made up of songs and dances done by the girls in fairy costume, was very attractive, and the ladies enjoyed it ever so much.

"Do a Good Turn Daily" is the Girl Scout slogan. Many of the good turns are never heard of excepting by the girls who do them. Every Girl Scout wants to help whenever she can, is

MOVIE CONTEST

Where is that photo of yours which you were going to send to the Contest Editor of the Graphic? Scores of pictures have been received by the Editor but he has not noticed yours among them.

Remember the contest will soon be at an end. The winner will be publicly acclaimed as the Queen of all Newton Beauties, of which the Editor as an elderly male person with a true appreciation of art, besides being a loyal Newtonite, knows there are thousands. In addition to this and far outweighing it in importance, the lucky girl will be featured in the original and elaborate comedy production, "His Holiday," which is to be filmed under the personal direction of H. Bennett FaRelle of the Colonial Photoplay Corporation, Boston. Incidentally but importantly, she will receive under Mr. FaRelle's attention, thorough and complete instruction in dramatic art, poise and camera presence. In itself such tuition is extremely valuable and important. It may also admit her to regular motion picture work and lead to a glorious career.

Remember also, however, that you can have no chance of achieving such success unless your photograph is submitted to the Contest Editor of the Graphic.

Put that favorite photograph of yours in the mail tonight or bring it to the office of the Graphic yourself. You may have it back at the close of the contest if you wish, but don't delay further, as the time during which entries can be received is drawing to a close.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TAKES MIDDLESEX 3-1

The Newton High School hockey team proved too fast for the Middlesex School sextet in a game at Concord, Wednesday afternoon, winning 3 to 1. Almy, playing right defense for the private school team, started the scoring early in the opening session during a scrimmage. It was only a few minutes later, however, that Stubbs tied the count. Captain Holbrook also caged the puck in the same period. In the second period Whitmore, who replaced Powers at left wing for the orange and black, scored the final tally. Frank Spain, the Newton High football star, who has now fully recovered from the injury he received in the Everett game last fall, made his first appearance in the line-up for the Newton sextet. He replaced Stubbs at right wing and showed considerable of the speed that marked his playing at wing on last year's outfit.

The summary:
NEWTON HIGH—Stubbs, Spain, rw; Holbrook, c; Powers, Whitmore, Brown, lw; Proctor, Gilligan, rd; Andrew, ld; Thompson, White, g.

MIDDLESEX—Baldwin, Mahon, lw; Fuller, Woodworth, G. Smith, c; Howard, Almy, rw; G. Smith, Almy, ld; Almy, Lee, rd; Lee, g.

Score, Newton High 3, Middlesex 1. Goals made by Stubbs, Holbrook, Whitmore, Almy. Referees, Penn and Raymond. Goal umpires, Shute and Lynch. Timekeeper, Baldwin. Time, three 12m. periods.

NEWTON WINS ON TRACK

Newton High School indoor track team defeated Brighton High on the Newton track Wednesday afternoon, 46 to 29. The feature race of the meet was the 300-yard run in which Fullerton of Newton and Cannon of Brighton ran a dead heat against time in 37.4-5s. Ted Hammond made one of the best jumps in schoolboy circles this year when he leaped 9 ft. 8 in. in the standing broad jump. Newton cleaned up in the 25-yard dash and the high point scorer for the orange and black with six points was next. McEvoy of Brighton was the high point scorer of the meet with a first in the 600-yard run and a first in the high jump.

The summary:
25-Yard Dash—Won by Lane, Newton; Madden, Newton, second; Buswell, Newton, third. Time, 3.3-5s.

30-Yard Hurdles—Won by Snow, Newton; Ramsdell, Newton, second; Fullerton, Newton, third. Time 41-5s.

300-Yard Run—Dead heat between Fullerton, Newton; and Cannon, Brighton; Buswell, Newton, third. Time, 37.4-5s.

600-Yard Run—Won by McEvoy, Brighton; McManus, Newton, second; Brewer, Newton, third. Time, 1m. 22.3-5s.

1000-Yard Run—Won by Seeley, Newton; Callahan, Brighton, second; McDundell, Newton, third. Time, 2m. 29.3-5s.

Broad Jump—Won by Hammond, Newton, distance, 9 ft. 8 in.; Fisher, Brighton, distance, 9 ft. 6 1/4 in., second; Fullerton, Newton, distance, 9 ft. 5 1/4 in., third.

High Jump—Won by McEvoy, Brighton, height, 5 ft. 8 in.; Hammond, Newton, height, 5 ft. 7 in., second; Mannery, Brighton, height, 5 ft. 4 in., third.

Shotput—Won by Morahan, Brighton, distance, 38 ft. 3 in.; Conniff, Newton, distance, 37 ft. 11 in., second; Pratt, Newton, distance, 33 ft. 5 1/2 in., third.

WRESTLING MEET

The Annual Wrestling Meet of the Y. M. C. A. of Massachusetts and Rhode Island was held last Saturday night at the Cambridge "Y" with four entries from the Newton Y. M. C. A. Teams from Boston, Beverly, Providence, Holyoke, and Cambridge were entered in the meet, with Boston winning the Championship. Arsenal of Newton "Y" won the 147 lbs. championship by defeating Kenney of Beverly by decision, Farrell of Boston by decision, and in his final bout three Pappas of Boston in three minutes and twenty seconds. Cassidy defeated White of Holyoke by decision, but lost his final bout by decision to Daniel of Boston. Santillo lost his first bout to Roberts of Beverly by decision and to Carlson lost by decision to Jacobson of Beverly.

Newton Y. M. C. A. has several other wrestlers of promise and there is a possibility of a strong team for next season. The squad has improved rapidly during the latter part of this season under the coaching of Dr. Simms of the Boston Y. M. C. U., who has been coming to the "Y" once each week.

ALBEMARLE GOLF CLUB

The annual dinner and meeting of the Albemarle Golf Club was held at the Newton Club on Monday evening with an attendance of about one hundred members. A most enjoyable dinner put those present in a most favorable mood to hear the reports of the officers and committees, which were most optimistic for a favorable season, both in play and in the matter of finances.

President Henry J. Nichols was re-elected by these officers: Treasurer, William S. Osborne; directors, Henry J. Nichols, E. J. Fessenden, E. T. Campbell, Joseph M. Everett, William B. Hanna, William V. Hayden, Lester B. Hunter, William H. Rogers, Augustus L. Wakefield and Arthur L. LeBaron. Mr. Augustus L. Wakefield retired after a most efficient service of three years as secretary, and was succeeded by Kenneth P. Kempton.

SENIOR 1000-POINT CONTEST

Six seniors competed in the athletic event of the 1000-point athletic contest conducted in the gymnasium classes of the Newton Y. M. C. A. The event next week for the senior class will be 60-yard potato race, while for the boys it will be the 100-yard dash.

The following are the records of Senior members in the 600-yard run: C. Bruen, 1m. 41.3-5s.; H. MacNeil, 1m. 42s.; G. Anderson, 1m. 43.4-5s.; A. Kohler, 1m. 45s.; A. Winterhalter, 1m. 46.4-5s.; E. Swan, 1m. 53.3-5s.

BOYS' 1000-POINT CONTEST

The following are the ten best records in the pull-ups in the boys' classes in the 1000-point contest at the Newton Y. M. C. A.:

Class A (under 110 lbs.)—G. Zoehler, 20; W. Lockhart, 13; M. Gray, 13; C. Kittredge, 13; P. Ross, 12; E. Clark, 12; J. Estey, 11; J. Hendrick, 10; D. Plouffe, 10; W. Wales, 10.

Class B (110 lbs. and over)—J. Graham, 13; H. Stoney, 11; R. Hunt, 11; A. Pearce, 10; D. Anderson, 10; J. Spalding, 10; A. Kander, 10; N. Pearson, 10; N. Stoney, 9; G. Mooney, 9.

SPORT NOTES

With the championship series in the interscholastic hockey league at the Arena in the offing fans are busy comparing the chances of Newton's team with those of Melrose. The Newton forwards, Whitmore, Holbrook, and Stubbs, are nearly the equal of the Melrose front line consisting of Ripley, Lloyd, and Sanford. With the return of Frank Spain to the front line, the orange and black has an exceptionally fast offence. Captain Guy Holbrook is one of the fast skaters and centre ice men in scholastic hockey this year and the battle between he and Lloyd, the Melrose flash, should be worth traveling miles to witness.

There are some who rate the Melrose centre higher than the sorrel-topped Newton boy, but it is an open question and only the coming game between the two teams can settle it. On the defence Newton is well matched with Melrose. Here again the return of Tommy Gilligan to his old position has strengthened the local lineup. Andres and the Proctor brothers are also rated high at the ice game, while Thompson of Newton and McHugh of Melrose split the honors at goal. The outcome of the coming game between the two teams is a toss-up. Last year the local sextet was defeated at the Arena in the deciding fray because of a lack of secondary material. Coach Martin has some good substitutes this year who can capably support the first string men.

Albert M. Lyon of Newtonville, who graduated from Dartmouth College in the class of '94, has become a director of the Boston National League Baseball Club. The new Braves' director is the father of Stan Lyon, the Newton high and Dartmouth athlete of a few years ago. When in college, the elder Lyon participated in various sports and for three years was the best hurdler at the Hanover college. He has since retained his interest in all kinds of sports and should find his new position congenial.

The Newton Y basketball team is gradually coming into its own. If it continues to play the brand of basketball it has in the last few games it should end the season with a creditable showing. It has now won five and lost six of its eleven games to date. In the remaining ten games it seems to have the edge on all of its opponents but two, Brockton and Lynn.

Not very much has been said about the goal-tending of Joe Thompson of the Newton high sextet. This lad has put up a whale of a game in the net and has proved himself a great guardian. Not many shots have got by him, and he has turned aside many difficult ones. In the St. Mark's game last week he was out of sight a good part of the time in scrimmages in front of the net but only twice did the puck get by.

During the vacation week this month the track team will journey to Andover to run at the games fostered by Andover Academy. At the games the athletes will run on a clay track and will be permitted to use outdoor spikes. This trip will be taken instead of competing in the Huntington Inter-scholastics at the Boston Y. M. C. A.

Newton high indoor track team made a much better showing last Brookline track than they did the week before when competing on the Saturday when competing on the Newton track.

In the running events in the Brookline meet Fullerton, after nosing out McGrath, the Brookline star sprinter, in the semi-final heat of the 25-yard dash, was left on the mark in the final and failed to place. Sam Moore, although in poor condition resulting from an accident the day before, succeeded in scoring one point for Newton in the same event. In the 300-yard run John Buswell, the Newton captain, got away great, but the narrow track was too much for him and all he could get was a third. In the 600 and 1000 the Newton entries were boxed and had no chance to pass the Brookline runners.

Hockey fans are more than pleased to learn that Frank Spain, the popular Newton high athlete, will soon be seen in the forward line for the orange and black sextet. Last year the diminutive athlete was a star on the ice, but, owing to an injury to his shoulder in football last fall he has not been able to play hockey until recently. He has been practicing almost daily with the squad for some time and is in splendid condition. With Captain Holbrook at centre ice and Stubbs and Spain on the wings, the local school will have a forward line equal to any there is in school circles this winter. Such strengthening of the team should boost Newton's stock considerably in the game with Melrose, which was scheduled for Monday, but was postponed on account of the weather, and in the coming championship round robin series at the Arena.

Cambridge High and Latin school swimming team was scheduled to swim Newton high Tuesday afternoon at the Cambridge Y. No contracts were signed and a few days prior to the meet the Cambridge team refused to stage the affair. Coach Hess of the Newton team then arranged the Brockton meet for Wednesday.

Newton high track team showed considerable strength in the field events at Brookline last week. Conniff, Fullerton, Hammond and Pratt shone brilliantly. Hammond jumped several inches higher than he had ever done before in competition and tied Captain Murray of the blue and gold for first. The Newton high jumper then had to content himself with second place in the broad jump. Fullerton, however, came through for the orange and black and took first in this event. Conniff, Pratt, and Macey monopolized the shotput.

The two basketball games at Quincy Wednesday night between the Newton Y and Quincy Y first teams and the Newton Y second team and the First Presbyterian church team of Quincy were both exciting contests. The Newton teams each nosed out a victory. The first team game was a thriller in the second half as the lead saw-sawed back and forth, neither team having more than a two-point margin. At half time the local quintet lead by the score of 14 to 13. It wasn't until the last few minutes of play in the second half that Newton caged a final goal and a foul to win, 31 to 28. Eden's shot in the first period from three quarters the length of the floor dropped clean through the basket and started the local team on its way. In the preliminary game it took a five-minute overtime session to determine a winner. Hitchcock's goal in this session broke the 25 to 25 tie and brought victory to the team with a 27 to 25 score.

Newton Centre Tennis Club continues to set the pace in Class B of the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association series. The local team scored a clean sweep in its matches Saturday with the Milton team and is now two games ahead of the Harvard Club and Harvard University, which are tied for second. In Class C the Newton Centre team won 4 to 1 from the Newton Club. In this class the Newton Centre team is in a tie for third place, while the Newton Club is in eighth place.

At the K. of C. games Saturday night Tom Clausen, the former Newton high 600-yarder, was a great help to the Holy Cross relay team in defeating Harvard. The Newton boy was pitted against "Soapy" Waters, the Crimson star, whom he outran and increased the lead of five yards handed to him by his teammate, Roche, to ten yards. Henrich, the former Newton high school hurdler, now running for Harvard, captured the first heat in the 45-yard high hurdle race at the K. of C. games Saturday night. He failed to place in the final heat.

Joe Stubbs of the B. A. A. hockey team suffered a split lip last Friday night in a game with the Pere Marquette team. The Newton player was struck with the puck when Len Morrissey of the Caseys shot for a goal. All the players stopped to look at Joe and Morrissey followed up and pushed the rubber into the cage for the only score of the game.

Paul A. Goddard of the Newton Centre Squash Racquet team won his first round match in the state individual

Later in the afternoon tea was served.

—A great musical treat is in store for Newton in the near future, Mme. Marie Sundell, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co., recently returned from Europe, will give a recital in Eliot Church on the evening of Wednesday, March 3, under the auspices of the Women's Associations of the Eliot and Methodist Churches.

—Street car traffic on the Elevated system was halted in Newton Corner early Monday morning when a car bound from Nonantum square to North Cambridge jumped the track at the corner of Center and Jefferson streets. The car was making its first trip before 1 o'clock when it left the track, due, it is believed, to the ice on the rails, and for an hour cars were strung out through the square before the wrecking crew had the trucks back on the track. No one was injured in the accident.

ANDOVER SHUT OUT

Newton High hockey team outskated and outplayed the Andover Academy team at Andover last Saturday and won the fastest game played on the Andover rink this season by a score of 3 to 0. Despite the poor ice the Newton puck chasers played fast hockey, Stubbs and Whitmore scoring the orange and black's points. Captain Guy Holbrook failed to cage the puck, but he was the outstanding player of the game, time and again carrying the rubber through the entire Andover team.

Junior Stubbs scored first for Newton in the opening session when he drove from mid-ice. The disc hopped over the Andover goal-tend's stick into the net. Whitmore caged his first point in the second period on a pass from Holbrook after the face-off. In the third period he scored again when he took the puck the length of the ice and drove past Captain Rideout for the best goal of the game. Andover had many chances to score, but its drives lacked power.

The summary:
NEWTON HIGH—Stubbs, Whitmore, rw; Holbrook, c; Whitmore, Powers, Brown, lw; J. Proctor, W. Proctor, Gilligan, rd; Andres, ld; Thompson, White, g.

ANDOVER—Hoyt, Rosenfeld, lw; Luce, Frost, c; Walker, Adams, rw; Richardson, ld; Lamont, rd; Rideout, g.

Score, Newton High 3. Goals made by Whitmore, 2. Stubbs. Referee, W. Wade. Time, three 12 periods.

BROOKLINE WINS SECOND TRACK MEET

Brookline High school indoor track team won the second dual meet of the season with Newton high on the Brookline track last Saturday afternoon, 39 to 29. The Wealthy Town team had to extend themselves to take the second meet, as the Garden City boys did much better work than in the first meet. Brookline's grand total was 861.3 points to Newton's 562.3. It was the second successive double win for Brookline. Last year the two schools agreed to have two meets, one in each gymnasium, the school having the greatest number of total points to be the winner. The same plan was carried out this year and will doubtless be continued in coming years. It gives each team the advantage of competing on its own track, whereas with but one meet the visiting team is always under a large handicap when competing under unfamiliar conditions.

The largest crowd that has ever seen the two schools battle for supremacy on the track witnessed the meet Saturday and the races were all interesting and close. Captain Murray of the Brookline team did not compete in the 600-yd. run as Coach Hines wanted to save him for the relay race at the K. of C. games the same night.

Edward McGrath, the star Brookline sprinter, duplicated his feat of the first meet by winning the 25-yard dash over his teammate Smith by a scant margin. Smith, who was the captain of the Brookline team last year, won the 300-yard run over his teammate Ray Anderson by eight yards, while the latter had a small margin over Captain John Buswell of Newton.

The absence of Captain Murray from the blue and gold entries permitted Cole, a teammate, to walk off with the 600-yard run. It was an interesting race until the last lap when the Brookline athlete cut loose and won by a good 20 yards over McManus of Newton in the fast time of 1m. 25s.

The 1000-yard run was a thrilling race, and when it was evident that Hennessey could win the event, he slowed up and let his teammate Barrie win, which gave the latter his letter. Seeley, the Newton high entry, took third place.

Hammond of Newton sprung a surprise when he tied Capt. Murray of Brookline in the high jump at 5 feet 7 inches. The latter won the event at Newton the week before at the same height.

Jim Conniff of Newton tossed the shot 37 feet 6 3/4 inches, which gave him first place over his teammate, Chet Pratt, by a foot and a half. Newton cleaned up in this event as Macey took third.

Wallace Fullerton, the versatile performer for the orange and black, surprised everyone by winning the broad jump with a leap of 9 feet 7 1/2 inches. In the first meet he failed to win a place in this event, but Saturday he beat his teammate Hammond and Potter of Brookline. The latter won the event at Newton with a leap of 9 feet 4 inches.

Although Brookline led all the way in the relay race, the event was exciting. Badaracco, leadoff man for the home team, turned over a fair margin to Anderson his teammate, who in turn handed over a lead to Potter. Sims, running at anchor for Brookline for the first time this year, finished with a comfortable lead over John Ramsden of Newton.

The summary:
25-Yard Dash—Won by McGrath, Brookline; Smith, Brookline, second; Moore, Newton, third. Time, 31-5s.

300-Yard Run—Won by Smith, Brookline; Anderson, Brookline, second; Buswell, Newton, third. Time, 37-2-5s.

600-Yard Run—Won by Cole, Brookline; McManus, Newton, second; Cummings, Newton, third. Time, 1m. 25s.

1000-Yard Run—Won by Barrie, Brookline; Hennessey, Brookline, second; Seeley, Newton, third. Time, 2m. 34s.

Running High Jump—Tie for first place between E. Hammond, Newton, and Murray, Brookline, height 5 ft. 7 in. Smith, Brookline, third, height 5 ft. 5 in.

12-Pound Shotput—Won by Conniff, Newton, distance 37 ft. 6 3/4 in.; C. Pratt, Newton, second, distance 36 ft. 1 1/2 in. Macey, Newton, third, distance 33 ft. 10 in.

Discovering America In a Flivver

BY FREDERIC F. VAN DE WATER

Never having camped out before, never having been west of the Alleghanies by highway, knowing nothing of the mechanism of an automobile, Mr. Van de Water was ideally qualified to drive his wife and six-year-old boy 'cross continent in a flivver, camping all the way.

What he did and what he saw, how for the first time he got close enough to the country and its people to begin to really understand them, all his mishaps and little triumphs, make up a story that will bring a reminiscent thrill to everyone who has ever done any motor camping—and will fill those who haven't with a desire to do so at once.

Two Paintings and a Pastel

BY JAMES ABBOTT McNEILL WHISTLER

These three examples of the work of the greatest and most individual artist ever born in America, will appeal to all through their delicacy, their simplicity, and their beautiful color.

The quality of these reproductions is truly remarkable. It seems as though the pastel would smudge if you passed your fingers over it, and the two oil paintings are almost absolute in their faithfulness.

JUST A TASTE OF WHAT A DOLLAR WILL BRING YOU IN 1926!

We can't begin to tell you about all the good things that will appear in The Journal during 1926. There's just one way to make certain that you won't miss any of the splendid stories and articles, and that is to send the coupon below for a year's subscription.

Take the March Journal, for instance. In this issue begins an autobiography for which publishers have been clamoring for years—Maude Adams' own story of her wonderfully interesting stage career and personal life, quaintly and charmingly entitled "The One I Knew Least of All."

Side by side with the story of the original "Peter Pan" are the delightful reminiscences, in four installments, of Giulio Gatti-Casazza, impresario of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Personal and intimate memories of the great figures of opera from Verdi down to Geraldine Farrar and Jeriza brighten every page.

Sophie Kerr's seven-part serial "Nancy Davin" starts in the March issue, which also includes short stories by Ellis Parker Butler, Dorothy Black, Elsie Singmaster, and Emma-Lindsay Squier. Also a one-act play, "The Travelers," by Booth Tarkington.

MELVILLE DAVISSON POST

M. A. DeWolfe Howe's article on Booker T. Washington is most important and interesting, and Corra Harris has one of her own inimitable articles on the modern girl. In the College Morals Series Mr. Selden takes us behind the scenes at the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. Clarence Edward Macartney has a most inspiring article in his "Life After Death" series.

Later in the year will appear Crosbie Garstin's new novel "West Wind"—you'll remember his "High Noon"—and Hugh MacNair Kahler's mystery novel of the swamp country of North Carolina, "Black Water." Then there will be Melville Davison Post's "The Revolt of the Birds," a most colorful and imaginative novelette. Booth Tarkington will have several stories throughout the year. In addition there will be a host of novels, short stories, and articles by the best-known writers of the day.

And, of course, the splendid reproductions of great paintings in the famous American Painting series and all the other features which have done so much to win for The Journal more readers than any other woman's magazine can claim.

With such a feast to enjoy, you just can't take a chance of missing anything—a dollar bill and this coupon will bring you all this and more!

CENTRAL CHURCH WINS FIRST

The first hockey game of the series between the Central Congregational and Methodist churches of Newtonville was played at Bullough' pond last Saturday afternoon. The Central church team shut out the Methodist team 3 to 0. Coombs and Bennett scored the goals for the winners, the former twice and the latter once. The second game of the series will be played tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on one of the smaller rinks at Bullough's. The summary:

CENTRAL CHURCH—R. Patey, C. Delesdernier, lw; L. Coombs, A. Pitt, c; R. Hanna, L. Bassett, rw; R. Pickard, ld; R. Bennett, rd; J. Richmond, g.

COUNTRY DAY DEFEATED

Last Saturday afternoon at Concord the Middlesex School hockey team won from the Country Day school 1 to 0 in an exciting contest. The only goal was made by Capt. Smith of Middlesex. On a pretty shot he drove the disc out from the corner of the rink directly at Ellis, the Country Day school goal tend. He made an attempt to stop the shot, but the puck glanced off of his stick into the net. The ice was quite soft, and it was impossible to play the best hockey.

The summary:
MIDDLESEX—W. Howard, Almy, rw; Fuller, Woodworth, c; Baldwin, lw; Almy, Lee, rd; Smith (capt.), ld; Paine, g.

COUNTRY DAY—Fisher, Kent, lw; Garrison, Wilbur, c; Kearnes, Foster, rw; Whorf, Ware, ld; Johnson, Ware, rd; Ellis, g.

Score, Middlesex School 1. Goal, made by Smith. Referees, Fenn and Raymond. Goal judges, Faversham and Field. Timekeeper, Baldwin. Time, three 12m. periods.

SPORT NOTES

Courtlandt Gross, the Harvard centre ice, and one of the two Newton boys on the Crimson hockey squad shot the deciding goal of the Harvard-Princeton hockey game Saturday night. His teammate Hamlen shot for the net, but the Tiger goal tend, Colebrook, blocked the shot, and the rubber bounced out towards Gross. He had time to get set and blazed away. Colebrook lost sight of the puck as it came towards him and it landed in the strings. Clem Coady, the other Newton player on the team, played a fast game on the defense.

In the final run of the New England Fox Hunters' Club held at Concord last Saturday, George Plagg of Newton and his hound, Jim, had a good five hours' run. F. J. Spencer of Lexington was the only lucky hunter of the day and his "kill" was his fourth of the season. Mr. Patterson, also of Newton, had a good run.

The Dartmouth Alumni hockey team was easily defeated last Saturday afternoon at Hanover by the Dartmouth varsity sextet, by an 8 to 0 score. Several Newton boys, former players on the Green team played for the alumni. Ted Learnard was at goal and was peppered throughout the game with all kinds of shots. The undergraduates soon became wise to Learnard's weakness of dropping to his knees and thereafter shot over his head. Bunny Sly and Stan Lyon were the other former wearers of the orange and black of Newton and the Green of Dartmouth who played for the graduates.

Track fans will have a chance to see several Newton athletes perform at the B. A. A. games tomorrow night. Ed Wilson, representing the B. A. A., will enter the two-mile walk. Tom Clausen will run on the Holy Cross relay team and Bill Heinrich of Harvard will be seen in the hurdles.

The girls' senior and junior basketball teams at the high school have been selected. Each class has two teams, called the Red and Blue. They are as follows: Seniors, Red, Frances Brooks, Mary Tilton, b; Mary Duane, jc; Ruth Houghton, Winifred Raynor, sc; Margaret Forknall, lg; Barbara Farham, Rosamond Kembell, g. Blue: Anne Sullivan, lb; Margaret Kenderdine, jc; Rose Valente, sc; Theodora Albee, Virginia Kembell, Elizabeth Parker, g.

Juniors: Red, Marion Frost, Mary Holbrook, b; Cleone Place, jc; Ruth Hosley, sc; B. Bryant, Elizabeth Norton, Margaret Blunt, g. Blue, Sallie Collins, Virginia Kooks, Virginia Spurrier, b; Margaret Pitts, jc; Elfride Carter, sc; Ethel Richardson, Ellen Chase, Virginia Hodder, g.

Newton High has a fine swimmer in Ken Merrill. This lad has clipped several seconds from his time at the start of the season and should score many points for the orange and black in the coming meets with Malden, Brookline, and Boston English.

Easy Lessons in AUCTION BRIDGE

Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 16

An interesting experiment is being tried out by a local group of auction players. They meet once a week and each player keeps track of another player's losses by bidding or leading play. Before the loss is entered, the losing player has a right to justify his bid or play and the other three players decide whether or not he lost and the number of points. At the end of the game, all four players settle up their lost points with one another on the same basis as their trick score so that it is very much to their advantage not only to play well themselves but also to be on the lookout for bad bids or plays by the others. The writer has never heard of a better way to learn auction. About one hand in three causes a discussion so that practically every point of the game comes up for analysis during an evening's play. There are two drawbacks, neither of them serious: First, that the discussions take too much time; and second, that too much criticism may cause bad feeling among the players. These objections can be met by limiting the discussion of any one hand to two or three minutes and by an agreement that the arrangement terminates whenever any of the players lose their tempers. The writer would most strongly recommend a trial of this system to those players who play with one another fairly often. It will not only improve your play but also add to the zest of the game. Try it out and if any bids or plays come up that cause a serious difference of opinion, refer them to the writer and they will be published in these articles.

Here are two hands that were submitted for analysis by the local group who are trying out the system:

Hand No. 1

Clubs—A, 4
Diamonds—A, 4
Spades—A, 9, 8, 7, 5, 4

No score; Z dealt and bid one no-trump. What should A now bid with the foregoing hand? A should pass and open his spade suit. It is almost a certainty that he can defeat the no-trump bid. In this way he can score penalties and also his 100 aces. Any other bid with this hand is unjustifiable.

Hand No. 2

Hearts—A, 4
Diamonds—A, J, 8, 3
Spades—Q, 8, 6, 4

No score; Z dealt and bid one no-trump. What should A now bid with the foregoing hand? A should pass and open his spade suit. It is almost a certainty that he can defeat the no-trump bid. In this way he can score penalties and also his 100 aces. Any other bid with this hand is unjustifiable.

Hand No. 3

Hearts—8, 3
Clubs—10, 7, 2
Diamonds—A, 4
Spades—A, J, 9, 5, 3, 2

No score; Rubber game. Z dealt and bid no-trump. A two hearts, Y two spades. B three hearts, Z three spades. A four hearts and Y four spades. B opened the jack of hearts and Z won the trick with the ace of hearts. Z now led the queen of spades and A played the seven. How should Y now play the hand? When A played the seven of spades Y knew that there were only two spades missing, the king and the ten. If B should hold both of them, he is bound to win one trick. On the other hand if B held the king alone, Y would gain a trick by playing his ace. The play is really a guess but Y should play the ace of spades hoping to drop the singleton king. If he doesn't, then he should play for the clubs and try to set a thirteen club in Z's hand before he loses the ace of diamonds. If Y plans his play in this manner, he should only lose one spade, one heart and one club trick and, therefore, score game and rubber. As a matter of fact, B did hold the king of spades alone. If Y failed to play the ace of spades, B would have won the trick and led a heart which A would have won. The latter would now lead a diamond. Y must now lose a diamond and club trick so would fail to make his contract by one trick. This is a very instructive hand and should be carefully studied.

Answer to Problem No. 9

Hearts—7, 2
Clubs—10, 5, 3
Diamonds—K, 8, 7
Spades—J, 8, 7, 5, 3

Hearts—A, K, Q, 9
Clubs—K, Q, 8, 7
Spades—K, 10

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump. A and Y passed and B bid two spades. Z bid two no-trump. A and Y passed and B bid three diamonds. Z now bid three hearts. A passed. Y bid three no-trump and all passed. A opened the six of clubs. How should Z figure out the cards held by his opponents, both from the bidding and the opening lead of the six of clubs? How should he plan the play of the hand so as to score three odd, game and rubber? Z should figure B with at least five spades and five diamonds. If that is so A probably has only two diamonds and one spade. This conclusion is strengthened by the fact that he opened his club suit in preference to either of his partner's suits. On the first club lead B fails to follow suit, discarding a diamond. Z should now be able to figure out B's probable holding: Spades—A, Q, 9 and two small; diamonds—A, Q, J and three small and three hearts. If this analysis is correct, he can go game by winning the first club trick in his own hand with the seven of clubs and leading the king of clubs. A must win this trick, and it makes no difference what suit he leads back. Z must make game. Suppose he leads diamonds. Z should win the trick with the ace in his hand and lead the king of spades. B must win this trick and should then lead hearts. Z should then win the trick and lead two more rounds of hearts, taking all of the hearts out of B's hand. On the third round of hearts he should discard a spade from Y's hand. He should then lead the ten of spades which B must win with the queen. B must now lead either diamonds or spades, so that in either event YZ will only lose one more trick. Played in this way, YZ should only lose one club, two spades and one diamond trick, thus scoring game and rubber.

YE OLD HAND TUB

(By an Old Timer)

Few, if any, who see a fire or motor fire apparatus rush to a fire know how much different were fire conditions and affairs connected with them in the days of hand engines half a century ago, before the coming of steam fire engines, which, in turn, have been superseded by motor apparatus during the last few years.

Those who were firemen or saw fires and events connected with them in hand engine days, will never forget them, nor the excitement and pleasure they produced, for which they would run miles on the drag rope of an engine, whether firemen or not, and work pumping on the brakes sometimes for hours, in all kinds of weather, often in deep snow, for which firemen received their annual poll tax of two dollars per annum.

It required 45 men for a hand engine company. There never was any difficulty in obtaining that number in most of the villages several times that number if needed in some of them, who were firemen mostly from a love of the service, its excitement and the many social events of fire companies.

There were few fraternal and other associations at that time. A fire company then, was usually the principal organization of a village, and its foreman one of the most prominent and popular of its citizens.

Newton had six hand engine companies: Cataract, Lower Falls, Triton 3 at West Newton, Mechanic 4 at Upper Falls, Nonantum 5 and Empire 6 at Newton Centre. The two at Newton Centre were the first to be retired from service when steam fire engine No. 1 came in 1868, followed by Triton 3 when steamer 2 arrived in 1871. Empire 6 on arrival of steamer 3 in 1874. Cataract 1 and Mechanic 4 when the water system was installed in 1877. After retirement at West Newton the Triton was in service at Auburndale until the water system came.

The Empire was purchased in 1866 by citizens of Newton Centre. It was one of the largest hand engines ever made, with cylinders 7½ inches in diameter, much too large for Newton. It was a Leslie engine made in 1852 for Lynn, where it was in service until 1863. All the other Newton engines were made by Hunsenman with 5½-inch cylinders.

A large fire at the Watertown Arsenal soon after the Empire arrived, it was claimed, originated in a desire to see the Empire in service. It was its first and only important fire. It was demolished in 1870.

With exception of Mechanic and Empire, all the Newton hand engines are now in service and have been since their retirement here, the Cataract at Berlin, N. H., Triton at Wolfboro, N. H., Nonantum at Greenville, N. H., and Eagle 6 at Fitzwilliam, N. H. The Mechanic went to Lake Charles, La., where it was demolished several years ago. The Cataract first went to Hopkinton and the Nonantum to Ashby, Mass.

Before the coming of suction engines in 1823, water for engines to pump onto fires was supplied by bucket passers and poured into box or "tub" of engine, by which name all hand engines have ever since been known.

There was no fire alarm telegraph system in Newton at that time. Church bells and a few on engine stations were used instead. The bell rope on some churches hung outside the building for fire alarm purposes, as they do now in some country villages.

Fires were then first announced by the cry of fire. Unless the smoke or light of a fire could be seen, most everyone rushed to the engine station, where the first to arrive often had to wait for someone with a door key to arrive, but the tub was quickly enroute to the fire or in the direction from which the alarm came. Many then ran to fires including about all the boys, and many times engines were taken to fires by school boys who often assisted on the brakes, especially at day fires.

If the alarm originated in Newton Corner the alarm in West Newton would be taken from the Corner bells. Lower Falls would take it from West Newton bells, Upper Falls from Lower Falls, etc., and local engines would, if the fire could not be seen, start for the village from which the alarm was taken. Often a fire would be extinguished and the nearest engine back in its station before some of the other engines would get the alarm, frequently reaching the scene of a fire before learning that it was extinguished. There were few false alarms, but the moon was the cause of many times.

Town lines did not then determine how far an engine went to a fire. Newton engines often went to fires in Brighton, Watertown, Waltham and elsewhere, and the engines of other towns, the Charles River 1 and Butcher Boy 2 of Brighton, Torrent 1 and Relief 2 of Watertown, Boyden 2 and Neptune 3 of Waltham and those of other towns came to all important Newton fires. Needham, which then included what is now Wellesley, had no fire department at that time. When the Pettie machine shop at the Upper Falls burnt in 1839, the largest fire Newton ever had, engines were present from Cambridge, Roxbury and other towns.

Mechanic 4 of Upper Falls went as far as the Chestnut Hill reservoir gate house, at time of the great Boston 1872 conflagration, and would have gone to the fire, as did steamers 1 and 2, had it not been stopped and ordered back by an assistant chief, or engineer as they were then called. Engines would then go a long distance to a fire especially if it occurred on Saturday night, as many of them did. Young men would then go to fires as they now go to the movies on Saturday nights.

Only a few of the largest cities then had a water supply system. There were a few cisterns for fire purposes in the most populated sections of the village. Rivers, ponds and wells were the usual water supply at fires elsewhere where most of them were.

The first engine arriving at a fire if some distance from water would locate at the supply, lay what leather hose, the only kind then in existence, it carried on its hose cart, or jumper as it was called, and await the arrival of the next engine, which would lay its hose and await the arrival of the next engine, and so on until the fire was reached with one stream. This was known as "line playing" and as many as a dozen engines have been known to be in such lines, often four or five.

Buildings in which fires originated, unless in a village and near an engine station, were usually wholly destroyed. Buildings were then much farther apart than now, adjoining buildings unless close together were usually saved. Some excellent extinguishment of large fires were then accomplished, which, considering the handicap of that period, would compare favorably with those of the present time.

Never in the history of fires and fire departments has there been so much excitement and interest by firemen and their many friends and backers as in line playing at fires, by hand engines.

If an engine in line playing at fires gave another engine more water than it could pass and water flowed over its sides, it was "washed" a defeat all endeavored to avoid, or to have the engine it was playing to pass all the water it was receiving and suck air, which all tried to do to other machines. Fires at such times were of secondary importance to most of those present, but they were never neglected nor allowed to burn. The more line playing contests there were and the longer they existed the more water they passed to extinguish the fire. They were always a benefit in fire extinguishment.

Line playing at fires resulted in many challenge contests, and brought into existence the hand engine musters of the past 75 years, which are still going strong.

Engine companies would sometimes be caught in line playing with too few men to prevent being defeated, which probably would not have happened if its full crew had been present, a challenge contest usually followed. The size of the engine was an important factor in such contests. All the engines in this section and most of those in the state were second class Hunsenman machines. Only two in this vicinity were of different pattern, the big Empire 5, and the Boyden of Waltham, a Jeffers engine of about the same capacity as the other second class machines.

After a fire, if it was an important one, all firemen and those who assisted them were provided with refreshments of coffee or chocolate, crackers and cheese at the nearest engine house. No feast was ever more relished than were those after a fire refreshments. They were prepared by the company steward, who also had the care of the engine and its station, the best paid fireman then in the service.

One of the most important and the last line playing contests between Newton hand engines took place in 1869.

The first Cataract was a Thayer engine. At the Wales Hotel fire close by its station in June, 1868, it failed to work, which caused the destruction of the hotel in the early part of the evening. A new engine was purchased, a Hunsenman of the same size as the others, but with all the latest improvements, including a rubber tail suction hose, the only one then in this part of the state. It arrived in May, 1869, and a large gathering of firemen and others were present to witness its exhibition contest, with the Mechanic 4 in filling a large tank and horizontal playing. The new machine won. It was of importance to its builders that it should win. It also won a supper for No. 4 company later on, for which its builders contributed.

Members of the Mechanic and their many friends and followers were anxious for a line playing contest with the new machine at a fire. It came one beautiful Sunday afternoon at a wood fire in Wellesley midway between the Upper and Lower Falls. Most of the male and many of the female population of both villages were present in anticipation of the wished-for contest. No. 4 drafted and played into No. 1. In a few minutes water was flowing over the sides of the new tub. It was a great day for the Mechanic.

Eagle 6 was the best distance playing hand engine in Newton, but it never had a company large enough to work to its capacity, frequently it had no company at all. The Mechanic was the best in line playing, in which it was never defeated. It always had a large company and the most followers. Its drag rope was the longest and always filled when it arrived at a fire.

Newton hand engines, when in service before the Civil War, were contestants in several musters. They never won a muster prize, as they were not of the size and class of engines that made the best playing records.

The Mechanic 4 was in the second muster ever held, at Ashland, Oct. 6, 1849, where the playing was perpendicular over a church steeple. There were eight engines, the Saxonyville, making the best play, none of which were measured accurately.

At Milford, September 2, 1852, the Nonantum 5 in a line playing contest of twelve engines, lost to the Hydrant of Cambridge and won over the Victor of Natick.

At Natick, Sept. 23, 1853, there were 20 engines, darkness preventing half of them from playing, including Triton 3.

There were 10 engines in a muster at Milford, Sept. 10, 1856, horizontal playing. Triton 3 was sixth with 175 feet.

The second largest muster ever held, the largest of old time musters, was at Worcester Sept. 4, 1857, with 58 engines, perpendicular playing. The Triton 3 was 35th with 134 feet and Mechanic 4, 44th with 125 feet.

The last of the important musters before the Civil War, and the coming of steam fire engines at the same time, was at Manchester, N. H., Sept. 15, 1859, with 52 engines. Triton 3 was 47th with 106 feet perpendicular.

Musters after the Civil War period in which Newton engines were contestants before the coming of the Veteran Firemen's Association in 1889 and its many-time prize winner, Nonantum were: Milford, Oct. 7, 1869, horizontal playing, 26 engines. Empire 5 was 10th with 169 feet and the new Cataract 6, 23rd with 151 feet, 104½ inches. Haverhill, Sept. 20, 1870 with 30 engines the Empire was 13th with 185 feet. It went to the junk heap shortly afterwards. Bridgewater, Sept. 19, 1873, Cataract was 9th of 12 engines, 146 feet. Brockton, Oct. 9, 1874, Eagle Co-operated by the Mechanic 4 company was 20th of 25 engines with 161 feet, and at Waltham October 5, 1876, Cataract was 6th of 17 engines with 188 feet and Eagle 6 operated by an Upper Falls crew organized for that Muster was 13th with 166 feet.

All of these engines, except the Mechanic, have many times been muster contestants since leaving Newton, and have made good prize winning records.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

GRACE CHURCH NEWS

On Monday, February 1st, the members of the Clerical Association of Episcopal clergymen in the diocese of Massachusetts met at Grace Church for their regular monthly meeting. There were ninety clergymen present, among whom were the Rt. Reverend Charles Lewis Slattery, Bishop of Massachusetts and the Rt. Reverend Samuel Gavitt Babcock, Suffragan Bishop of the diocese. The guest of honor and speaker of the day was Canon Duncan-Jones of London, England. After the address, the clergy were the guests of the Rector and vestry of Grace Church for luncheon. The tables were very prettily decorated with daffodils, sweet peas and carnations. The luncheon, under the direction of Mrs. William E. Jones, was served by several young ladies of the parish who added to the beauty of the parish house with their smiles and pretty aprons of bright spring colors. A hearty vote of thanks was given by the clergy to Grace Church for the hospitality and very happy time extended to them.

WATERHOUSE-BEAN

The marriage of Mr. Charles Nickerson Waterhouse of 1008 Beacon street, Newton Centre, and Miss Katharine Adams Bean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bean of Atlantic, Mass., took place last Saturday afternoon at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, where the ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock by the rector, Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan.

The bride was in travelling costume, navy ensemble and a corsage bouquet of orchids. Miss Dorothy Claire, of Newton, her maid of honor, was in blue crepe satin and carried pink roses. Mr. Eugene Waterhouse, a brother of the groom, was the best man.

A reception at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, followed the ceremony from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Bean, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Waterhouse, parents of the groom.

Following a wedding trip in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse will reside at 1008 Beacon street, Newton Centre, where they will be at home after March 1st.

WELL REPRESENTED

Newton was well represented in the list of attorneys who responded to the request of Attorney General Benton to investigate and report on alleged cases of maladministration of justice in the Suffolk courts. Included in the list were Hon. J. Weston Allen, James H. Baldwin, Joseph W. Bartlett, Charles W. Blood, C. Ray Cabot, Albert M. Chandler, Walter Hartshorne, Lowell A. Mayberry, Phillips Nichols, Leland Powers, William L. Pullen and Rutherford E. Smith.

CITY HALL

Under the new rules of the Board of Aldermen hearings on one and two-car garage permit petitions will no longer be held by the full board, but by the Franchises and Licenses Committee. The first public hearings to be given by this committee will be held on Wednesday evening, February 10, at City Hall.

AUTOMOBILE REPAIR

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

In order that children might be more frequently benefited by play in the "great outdoors,"—that they might not be so long confined to the limitations and restrictions of the schoolrooms, a plan was conceived and executed, whereby two afternoons a week should be the children's and the parents' own. How has this plan been followed and its advantages appreciated.

The receipts at the "movie" box office are particularly high on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Eager eyes belonging to impressionable young enthusiasts absorb and store away sights and ideas that are forgotten or unnoticed by the older ones. Lusty young voices applaud cheap deeds of daring and unbalanced heroes and their owners view scenes in innocence which should bring blushes to any individual who has enough intelligence to blush. Yes, the seats are well filled with squirming children on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, while out of doors, hillsides are covered with snow of healthful whiteness—air is crisp and invigorating to minds and bodies. Inside the "movie" house the air is foul, no matter what the system of ventilation; it is hot and sluggish no matter how strong the denials by advertisements. And yet—do parents lead their children by the hands or give the necessary ten cents that they may breathe that air and feed upon the meat of the "movies" whether it be of the best quality or the worst.

Little or no blame can be placed upon the managers of the theatres, for their programs are made for adults and could be changed by adult boycotting, though they could vouch, if they would, for the flood of youthful patrons which begins to pour into their gates as soon as the schoolhouse doors are closed and the "movies" opened. No, the entire blame must be assumed by the parents who so deliberately misappropriate the children's fund of health in minds and bodies. In vain do protests arise from all directions,—in vain do education and intelligence plead for attention to correct the vicious "movie" habits. When—will mothers give heed to the pleas? When—will they cease looking through the glasses—and confront the glare?

F. A. Day Junior High School

A second group of pupils, accompanied by Miss Goodnow and Mr. Pohlman, attended the historical play in the Chronicles of America series, at the Repertory Theatre, Boston, last Saturday. A section of Jamestown colony life between 1612-1614, under the rigorous rule of Sir Thos. Dale, as governor, was portrayed. The gates of the stockade formed an interesting bit of transition, as the various English colony customs were presented. The next subject will be "The Pilgrims." Prof. Countryman linked this picture with its predecessors, in a short lecture.

Miss Blake and Miss Hinckley were the hostesses for last week in the teachers' social room. Their week was marked by the addition of new magazines, flowers, helpful suggestions, and a treat of sweets.

Those of us who were fortunate to have good radio service last Friday evening were proud to hear our own school talent represented on the air from Station WEEI.

Mr. Daniels will give a talk on Japan at the assembly, which is under the direction of Miss Hinckley.

Hyde School

Three Junior Audubon Clubs have been formed in the upper grades.

Miss Hanscom's division of the eighth grade has had no tardy marks since the opening of school in September.

A new class of ten children has been admitted to the Kindergarten, making the capacity number.

A "safety play" written by a group of children in Miss Sampson's fourth grade is attracting much attention.

Mrs. Winona Steeves is the capable substitute filling Miss Dige's place. Miss Dige is absent because of an operation for appendicitis.

A Science Club has been formed in the A division of the eighth grade and an interesting program outlined.

The English Club of the eighth grade is giving a series of readings from "Evangeline," illustrated by lantern slides.

The senior and junior hockey teams of the school have for their captains Archie McLellan and Albert Robinson.

Miss Simon has completed her course of fifteen lessons in Practical Hygiene in the seventh and eighth grades. Certificates will be awarded later to those of the eighth grade having a passing rank.

The girls of the eighth grade cooking classes are much interested in making health posters, with special reference to the food values which they have learned in class this year. The girls have planned breakfast menus, cooked and served breakfasts, and worked out the food value of each breakfast. This work is represented by the posters, which they are now making.

Lasell

The three one-act plays: "Wrong Numbers" by Essex Dane, "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil" by Stuart Walker and "The Trysting Place" by Booth Tarkington, given by the Dramatic Club on Saturday evening were repeated on Monday evening to accommodate a large number who were unable to attend the first performance.

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead will speak on International Affairs at Bragdon Hall on Friday, at 7.30.

Plans are on foot for a Winter Carnival on Saturday, Feb. 6th. The afternoon will be given over to skating races, individual fancy skating and in pairs, a hockey game on the skating rink and races between teams from each class in long distance coasting, snow-shoeing and skiing. In the evening there will be the crowning of the queen of the carnival and a costume party with dancing on the ice to the music of the radio.

Much interest is shown in the trip to the White Mountains, which will occur over the week-end of the 12th to the 15th, about sixty-five already having expressed a desire to participate. Mr. Siekel, director of the physical training department, and Miss Lawrence of the history department will accompany them.

Miss Mayer, secretary of the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, will speak to the members of the Woodland Park School on Sunday afternoon, and will be the guest at tea of Mrs. Stadira Preble McDonald, after which she will give a stereopticon talk to the Lasell students at the regular Vesper hour.

Mason School

A farewell party was given Miss Helen S. Tolman by the teachers of the Mason District on January 28th.

A delightful entertainment of music, readings and games was followed by the presentation to Miss Tolman of a basket of flowers, in which were hidden three 10-dollar gold pieces signifying thirty years of service at the Mason, a gift bearing with it the honor, respect, and love of the entire Mason teaching staff.

Her loss will be greatly felt. A woman firm and strong, of remarkable teaching ability and of the keenest sense of right and justice, she has been an honor to her profession and holds the respect and esteem of parents, teachers and pupils.

Though Miss Tolman resigns from active service, she will keep a keen interest in the school.

All wish for her many years of well-earned rest and enjoyment.

As an expression of their appreciation and respect the pupils of rGrade 8 of the Mason presented Miss Tolman with "The Life and Letters of Walter Hines Page."

A picture representing a scene from the book, the title, the author's name and a hint concerning the story made up the kind of book poster that the Seventh Grade English Club exhibited in Room 13.

This brought so many requests from other pupils that finally an invitation was extended to all members of the seventh grade to make posters. At present, there are many more posters than there is wall space on which to exhibit them, and they are greatly enjoyed by all.

Bigelow School

Miss Searle's class has the highest percent of attendance, 98.33, for the month of January, with Miss Hamilton's class second with 97.05.

The Dramatic Club elected its new officers for the second term as follows: President, James Sutcliffe; Vice President, Virginia Goodell; Secretary, William Perry; re-elected; Treasurer, Robert Bell. When not rehearsing for a play, the club reads such classics as "Miles Standish" and "Evangeline" during the weekly club period.

Two plays, "Hiawatha" and "The Spirit of Christmas" have already been given, and have proven that the Bigelow boys and girls possess much dramatic ability. "Robin Hood," the outlaw hero of Sherwood Forest, will be given at a date to be announced later. The club plans to stage two other selections during the remainder of the school year.

The Science Club has elected the following officers:—President, Edgar Davidson; Secretary, Marlin Poindexter; Treasurer, Thomas Temple.

The weekly meeting is devoted to assignment of experiments and reports on scientific subjects. The last part of each meeting is usually a period of demonstrations and experiments. The subjects treated are pretty much every day science topics with Electricity the most popular.

REGULAR MEETING

Frost, 379 Central street; Chauncy P. Conn, 54 Maple street; Charles R. Butler, 1870 Commonwealth avenue; Archie Wilson, 401 Albemarle road. Three jurors were drawn to serve at Lowell in March; the lucky men were Francis Williams of Glenwood avenue; Valentine Walsh, 204 Grove street; Joseph Vachon, 35 Jasnet street.

Communications from the Mayor and other city officials were then read. The Mayor asked the aldermen to appropriate $5,805 to buy new overcoats for the policemen of the city. Hereafter the police have bought their own overcoats, but for the past few years they have been asking that the city provide them with uniforms. On the suggestion of Chief Burke, the aldermen compromised two years ago by agreeing to purchase uniforms for traffic officers. The policemen who patrol routes could not see why the discrimination was made, and have continued their demands. Apparently they have succeeded in converting the Mayor, at least in so far as the outside winter garment is concerned. The Mayor approved the requests of the School Committee for appropriations of $55,151.50 to furnish the new high school, and $3,810 to provide towels and laundry equipment for this school.

A letter was received from Margaret Mahoney, asking additional damages for land seized at the corner of Walnut and Water streets.

The Mayor submitted to the aldermen for a second time the appointment of Miss Florence Fitzgerald as Overseer of the Poor. Last year the aldermen refused to confirm the appointment of Miss Fitzgerald to this position. The Mayor then made her acting overseer. In his letter to the aldermen, he calls attention to the fact that she has since filled the position in a very creditable manner.

Alderman Fitts, who believes that the aldermen should take the public into their confidence, and that the taxpayers should have full knowledge of all the activities of the city, requested permission for Hubert G. Ripley, architect of the new junior high school at West Newton, to explain to the aldermen the plans of the proposed school.

His request was granted and the information given by Mr. Ripley is printed in another part of the paper.

A communication was received from the Middlesex & Boston Street Railroad Company asking permission to operate its buses on the north roadway of Commonwealth avenue from Lexington street to Norumbega Park; also for permission to operate buses on California street from Chapel street to the Earnshaw Mill. The north roadway of Commonwealth avenue was reserved many years ago for horse-drawn vehicles. Horse-drawn vehicles are now about as scarce as hen's teeth and there has been agitation for a long time to permit automobile traffic on the north side of Commonwealth avenue. It is probable that the request of the M. & B. will not only be granted, but that it will be the opening wedge in permitting autos to be operated on this side of the avenue.

A petition was received from George Snyder and others asking that St. James street be widened 10 feet from Washington street to the B. & A. railroad bridge. Since Charlesbank road was improved to permit connections with the boulevard along Charles River Basin, St. James street has been used extensively by autos. The street is but 20 feet wide. If this street will continue for many years to serve as an artery for automobile traffic, it should be widened its entire length. But it is probable that in the near future some other approach will be developed to bring traffic from Nonantum Square onto the Charles River Boulevard.

A letter of protest was read from Herbert Swanson against the granting of a permit for a filling station at the corner of Walnut and Beacon streets to Henry S. Bourne. A few years ago, Mr. Swanson was granted a permit for a filling station at 1178 Beacon street. Subsequently he leased this property to the Texaco Company and then applied for another filling station permit on the adjoining lot at 1174 Beacon street. The aldermen refused to grant him the second permit. They also refused to heed his protest Monday night. Mr. Bourne was voted the permit to start a filling station at the southwest corner of Beacon and Walnut streets.

The lone alderman to vote against the granting was Norman Pratt, and his negative vote was not made in dulcet tone. Chairman Bliss of the License Committee asked the aldermen to grant the permit with the proviso that the old buildings, now on the property where the filling station will be located, be torn down, before the permit be issued. The aldermen followed Mr. Bliss's request, but they merely wasted the time thus consumed. City Solicitor Bartlett had previously informed the aldermen that they cannot stipulate any conditions such as this, when permits are granted.

Richard McNeil was given a permit to build a 3-car garage at 3 Orris street; Ferdinando Amendello was granted a permit for a 1-car garage at 190 Adams street. On the request of Chairman Bliss, the petition of the Newton Investment Company for a 25-car garage at the corner of Hovey and Washington streets was referred back to the License Committee for further consideration.

Alderman Madden, referring to the proposal to close Elm road to automobile traffic during the hours the high schools are in session, told the aldermen that a count had been taken on certain days as to the number of pupils crossing this street, and the number of autos using it. Between the hours of 8.00 a. m. and 2.30 p. m., 2200 pupils went over Elm road; 24 automobiles travelled on the street during the same hours. Mr. Madden also spoke concerning the ordinance which amends Section 316 of the Building Code. This change was asked to permit the erection of a temporary structure at the Newton Hospital. At the suggestion of the State Board of Appeal, Chief Randlett will be consulted on the matter of fire hazards in this building.

A communication was read, versed in legal terminology that would take a Philadelphia lawyer to understand, regarding the reaching of an agreement with the Metropolitan Water Commission on the change of the course of the Hammond Brook drain near the Co-chituate aqueduct off Pleasant street, Newton Centre. There is a gate house on the aqueduct at this place and the Metropolitan Water Commission has the right to flush the aqueduct through this gate into Hammond Brook. To do this, floods the adjacent low lands and has prevented the development of this land for building purposes. It is proposed to change the course of the drain so that the present owner of this land can proceed to sell it for house lots.

Alderman Heathcote voiced his condemnation of the treatment accorded to Antonio Chiachhia, a veteran employee of the Street Department, recently pensioned. According to Mr. Heathcote, Chiachhia, who had worked on the highways for over 25 years, was transferred to the sewer division. Because of the man's age, this change from working in the sun and fresh air into sewer trenches, caused an impairment of his health and forced him to ask for a pension.

Alderman Favinger took the floor and expressed his regret that his first speech was occasioned by the death of George M. Angier of Waban, who had passed away a few hours before. Mr. Favinger extolled the services rendered to Newton by Mr. Angier and moved that a committee be appointed from the aldermen to draw resolutions.

Alderman Xoane and Fitts asked their tributes to that of Mr. Favinger. Mr. Fitts remarking that he hoped the aldermen will put into effect the plans for new schools advocated by Mr. Angier.

Alderman Baker told the Board that the Legislative Committee had requested City Solicitor Bartlett to withdraw the bill previously presented to the Legislature, asking that body to authorize Newton to prohibit auto trucks on certain streets in this city. Mr. Baker explained that if trucks are excluded from a certain few streets in this city, it will mean that many more such exclusions will be sought and that the aldermen will find themselves in difficulties which will be hard to settle. Persons residing on the streets to which the trucks would be diverted, naturally would object being made the goats.

The aldermen authorized the issuing of sewer bonds to the amount of $100,000. These appropriations were made. Plans for new West Newton Junior high school, $387,777; additional damages on land taking at Watertown and Walnut streets, $750; claim of Mrs. Harriet Ormes, $30.

The next meeting, February 15th, was designated as that at which hearings will be given on the petitions of J. B. Jurad for permission to store 2000 additional gallons of gasoline at 11 Court street, and the Fuller Garage Company for an outside gasoline station on Watertown street, West Newton. The Board adjourned at 11.30.

WATER MAINS TO BE CLEANED

he would be the target of many more barrages of complaints while present conditions prevail in our water system. So he started out to discover the causes of Newton's nut brown water, and to seek means of making it crystal like in appearance. As Exhibit A, he obtained from the water department, through Alderman Gallagher, a small section of water pipe taken from the pumping station. This pipe two inches in diameter, had become so filled with an incrustation of Crenothrix, that a space no larger round than a pencil remained to allow for the flow of water. This piece of pipe was made of wrought iron; the supply pipes in the streets, and running into house connections, are made of cast iron. Cast iron pipes do not develop Crenothrix deposits to the extent that wrought iron pipes do, so the specimen shown by Mr. Ball was an extreme exhibit. As there may be a few of our readers who do not know what Crenothrix is, it might be well to explain that it is a genus of bacteria of the family Chlamydo bacteriaceae which is commonly found in ponds and reservoirs. This fungus absorbs the rust from the pipes as it enters them and causes the brown incrustations in the pipes, and the dirty appearing water.

Mr. Ball explained that he had conferred with Water Commissioner Whitney and Supt. Mark Croker of the pumping station relative to the cleaning of the water mains. There are two ways by which the mains can be cleaned. The first method which will be tried will be "blowing off" of the 20-inch main which runs from the pumping station through Needham, Centre and Ward streets to the reservoir, and the 12-inch main which runs along Walnut street. These two mains are the only ones which can be "blown-off" this Spring. The balance of the mains must wait until the work of laying the new 20-inch main along Commonwealth avenue is completed. Before the work of "blowing off" will be started, three new gates and blow-offs ordered by the Water Department will have to be installed. The work will be done at night by employees of the Water Department, and will necessitate the use of from 15 to 20 millions of gallons of water.

Should the "blowing off" method prove ineffective, the second plan is to engage the services of a concern known as National Pipe Cleaning Company. This company uses specially constructed machines which rotate inside the mains under the pressure of the water. The machines cut the incrustations and the "blowing off" process then follows. It would cost perhaps about $25,000 to obtain the services of these machines. Mr. Ball stated that if the first method does not bring the desired results, the special committee will recommend the employment of the pipe cleaning company. When the mains will have been cleaned of the Crenothrix deposits, not only will the water be fit to drink, but the pumps can force 5 million gallons of water daily through the pipes instead of 4 million as at present.

The committee recommended that the work of completing the 20-inch main on Commonwealth avenue be completed as soon as possible and that it be started just as soon as weather conditions permit. With this main completed, the balance of the old mains can be cleaned. City Engineer Morse and Water Commissioner Whitney urge the laying of the 12-inch main along Waverley avenue and the committee has asked Mr. Morse to prepare plans and specifications for this job. Until this main and the 20-inch main are laid residents of the city will have to expect dirty water, whether our local supply or the Metropolitan supply is used.

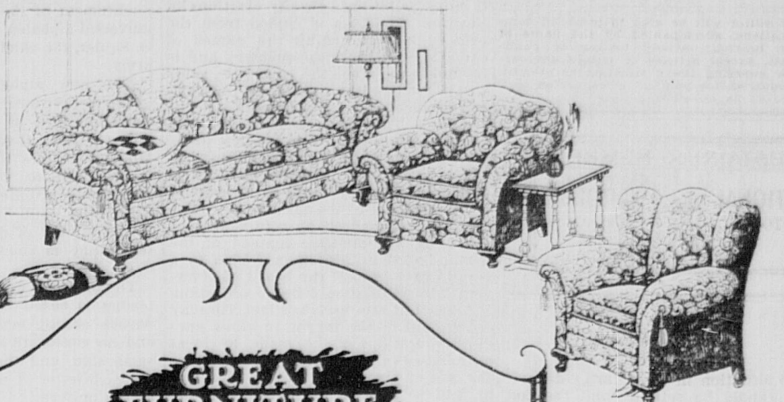

Mr. Ball asked the press to inform the public that when the "blowing off" is being done, every effort will be made by the Water Department to cause as little inconvenience as possible. During the nights when the work is being done the water will be shut off in buildings in those districts where the work is in progress. It may be that it will take three or even four nights to finish the "blowing off" process. Due notice will be given to permit householders to draw a supply of water for use on the nights when the work will be performed. After the water is turned on again it must be expected that it will be discolored for a short time.

Alderman Fitts inquired as to fires breaking out in the district where the water will be shut off. Mr. Ball answered that Chief Randlett had been consulted and would make provisions to lay hose into these districts from neighboring hydrants. Connections can also be made from the Brookline and Metropolitan systems.

Alderman Leahy, who is a master plumber, stated that there will be danger of hot water boilers in houses collapsing when the water is shut off. These boilers are connected directly to the house supply pipes, and a vacuum would be created in them when the water will run out if the hot water faucets are not opened. Mr. Ball answered that householders will be properly notified to take precautions to prevent such an occurrence before the "blowing off" is started. Alderman Leahy also inquired regarding a wooden conduit which leads from the pumping station to the wells at the supply basin. Mr. Ball informed him that this wooden conduit will probably be replaced as it causes some little sediment.

Alderman Fitts asked if other cities have tried the "blowing off" method on their water systems, and he was informed that they have; the process being used frequently. Alderman Pratt inquired if the reason for Newton not having used this method was because

The water mains in this city are old and weak. Mr. Ball replied that this is not the case. Tests have proven that the water mains in this city are in perfect condition. Alderman Heathcote said that Cambridge recently installed a filtering plant for its water system and suggested that Newton might do likewise. Alderman Gallagher told Mr. Heathcote that the Cambridge water supply comes from open ponds

The situation in the Charity department should be settled and settled right. Last year, Mayor Childs, after his nomination of Miss Fitzgerald for the office of Overseer had been refused confirmation by the board of aldermen, virtually insulted the board by naming Miss Fitzgerald, as "Acting" overseer, and as such Miss Fitzgerald had served during several months.

The city charter gives the board of aldermen the right to confirm or reject the mayor's nominations for office. If it is conceded that the mayor can keep in office under the "acting" authority of the statute, persons whom the aldermen declare to be unsuited for the office, it is conceivable that in time, the mayor could fill all executive offices with "acting" officials and the wise provision of the charter that such nominations be confirmed by the aldermen, would become null and void.

We believe that the dignity of the board of aldermen requires the most careful consideration not only of the qualifications of the mayor's nominee, but the attitude of the mayor himself towards the charter rights of the board of aldermen. Incidentally we wonder how the mayor reconciles his oath to support the city charter with his "acting" appointment.

Few men have entered so fully into the charitable, philanthropic and civic life of our community as has the late George M. Angier, whose premature death we mourn this week. Most of our public spirited men devote themselves to the one or two civic matters in which they have a direct interest. It remained for Mr. Angier to lead the way to an all inclusive interest in all good movements. The Red Cross knew his keen interest, the Newton Central Council had his wise leadership, as a member of the city government, he was sane and clear in his decisions, but it was in the school committee that he made his greatest accomplishments. Under his progressive leadership, the Junior High School idea became a fact and his successful efforts to bring about the unification of the High Schools was a real step in advance in educational affairs in Newton.

Mr. Angier was one of our most public spirited and useful citizens, whose passing will be deeply and sincerely mourned by a wide circle of friends.

This week marks the 45th birthday of the Christian Endeavor movement which friends of its founder, Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark of Auburndale, hope to mark with a fund of $100,000, the income of which shall go to Dr. and Mrs. Clark during their lifetime, and to be a memorial to them after their death. Newton ought to be well represented in that worth while fund.

Newton is digging its way out from under a blanket of 14 inches of snow, the result of an all-day blizzard on Thursday. While many Newton residents had to stay all night in Boston on account of the failure of various methods of transportation, no one was hurt and the accidents were limited to stalled automobiles.

Our good friend and former resident here, Mr. Edward K. Hall, calls attention to the serious evil caused by bringing liquor to college football games and urges drastic action by the college authorities to keep all offenders of this nature out of the Stadium in the future.

Lincoln's birthday should cause us all to renew our allegiance to the principle that "the government of the people for the people and by the people shall not perish from the earth."

We are glad to note that active steps are being taken at City Hall to improve the water about which so much justifiable criticism has been made during the past few weeks.

Fog Prevents Frost

A Swedish chemical engineer makes a thick fog with a two-foot machine which spreads smoke blankets over orchards, gardens and fields to prevent damage by frost.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

There is little of direct interest to Newton in the matters under consideration at Beacon Hill. The writer appeared before the Committee on Cities on Tuesday in favor of a bill to allow the use of eight words or the words "candidate for re-election" after the names of candidates on the present form of ballot used in city elections in Newton. The idea is copied from the present law governing the names of candidates at the state primary and is intended to give the average voter some first hand knowledge of the various candidates for city officers. President R. C. Thompson of the Republican City Committee was also present to favor the bill and there was no objection.

A hearing will be given next Tuesday morning before Mercantile Affairs on the petition of the mayor that hearings on proposed changes in zoning be heard by a committee instead of the whole board of aldermen. This is a step to save time of the board of aldermen and there should be no objection.

A hearing was assigned last Tuesday on the bill of the mayor to allow special regulations to be made by local authorities in the matter of prohibiting the use of streets by trucks, etc., but, as will be seen in the account of the meeting of the aldermen, it was not deemed wise to press the matter.

A bill to allow Mr. John W. Cox of Newton to remain in active service after his seventieth birthday next June was heard by the Committee on Pensions and was given leave to withdraw.

POLICE NEWS

Saturday night the "likker locators" of the Newton police went out angling for alcohol and they hooked in Harold LaRosa of 320 Warren street, Waltham, and John Rizzo of 1810 Washington street, Boston. Harold and John were apprehended near Night "Z" Corner by Sgt. Leehan, the Xenosia of the Newton bootleggers, who was assisted by his expert sleuths—Dowling, Dunagan and King. The pair were driving slowly along River street in an expensive Jordan car, when the police stopped them. Thirty-eight gallons of "alki" were in the car with Harold and John. In court on Monday, Judge Allen fined LaRosa $100 for illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor, Rizzo, because the car was registered in his name, was assessed $200.

Harold pulled out a few rolls of fifty cents, any one of which would have caused strangulation to an ox, and paid both fines.

Tuesday evening Patrolman Larry O'Donnell found an abandoned Ford sedan on Cherry street. The car had been stolen in Waltham from Mrs. Jane Briggs of Lincoln.

Auto thieves are no respecters of persons. One of them stole a Goodrich tire off the machine of Alderman Daniel O'Connell on Tuesday night. The car was parked in front of Mr. O'Connell's house.

Wednesday morning the "hoohoo hounds" trailed another "shine" distributor, and landed their prey. Serg. Leehan, accompanied by Officers Dowling and King, captured a Ford sedan in a yard near Lexington street, after a short pursuit. In the car was Stefano DeFino of 384 River street, Waltham. Also five 1-gallon cans of alcohol. DeFino was taken to the lockup and the Ford was taken to the Garden City Garage; confiscated under the prohibition law. The second occupant of the Ford escaped, but was arrested Wednesday afternoon. He is Vincenzo Salpietro of 51 Charles street, Waltham; together with DeFino, he will be tried in court on February 11.

Wednesday night, Officers Frank Feeley, Foley and Mean, arrested Peter Kutz of Dedham for driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried on February 11th.

In court on Thursday, Judge Bacon gave William Sanderson of 729 Dedham street, Newton Centre, a suspended fine of $5 for not properly caring for two cows. The animals are housed in a small barn on Sanderson's property, and the complaint was made that the doors of this barn do not close; the cows not having sufficient protection from the weather.

LODGES

Old-Timers' Night at Newton Council, K. of C., held Wednesday evening at Elks' Hall, brought out one of the largest gatherings of the year, with many of the charter members of 30 years ago present. Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher, formerly United States district attorney, the first grand knight of Newton Council, presided and entertained with reminiscences of 30 years ago. Other speakers among the old-timers were Thomas J. Lyons, Dennis F. Flanagan, William Bright and Dr. Francis M. O'Donnell. The speaker of the evening was William H. O'Brien of the telephone division of the Public Utilities Commission, who spoke on "Abraham Lincoln." Louis Watson, formerly district deputy, who instituted Newton Council, also spoke. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

MAY SUPPLANT MORSE CODE

American Army Officer Said to Have Devised New Alphabet Superior to That in Use.

A vista for the extension of communication by radio, land lines and cables has been opened with the announcement of the invention of a new universal alphabet by Maj. Gen. George O. Squier, the chief signal officer of the army.

The new alphabet, hailed as the greatest advance in the science of communication in many years, is 2,655 times faster than the international Morse code now universally used. It is designed to supplant the latter, which was invented eighty years ago. The Morse code, General Squier said, is entirely out of date and unsuited to telegraphy as known and practiced today.

The principle upon which the new alphabet is based is that the dots and dashes occupy equal lengths of time and no consecutive signals are of the same sign, and the limit of legibility for each letter of the alphabet is practically uniform.

General Squier's other lines of research have developed results of profound importance in a technical, non-spectacular way, and other nations have recognized his scientific eminence with a bundle of honors and decorations. He is a fellow of the Physical Society of London and a member of the Royal Institute of Great Britain, a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and, at home, a member of the National Academy of Sciences, a Distinguished Service medalist and a frequent winner of the Franklin medal.—New York Herald.

HARM DONE BY LEAFHOPPERS

Small Insects Inflict Immense Damage on Vineyards, Greatly Lessening Quality of the Fruit.

Grape leafhoppers, tiny, greenish insects always present in greater or less numbers in vineyards, occasionally do considerable damage to foliage and reduce the quality of the fruit, according to entomologists at the New York agricultural experiment station at Geneva. Most of the damage is done by overwintering adult insects which in the early spring feed largely on strawberry and raspberry leaves, although they are also found on blackberry, currant, gooseberry, catnip, Virginia creeper, burdock, beech and sugar maple, declare the station specialists. Neglected fence rows, brush, weeds, tall grass, etc., furnish ideal winter protection for the pests, and vineyards in the neighborhood of such places usually suffer most from leafhopper injury. The adults lay their eggs on the grape vines and the young hoppers hatch out in large numbers, usually about the beginning of summer.

Cleaning up the hibernating places is one effective step toward combating leafhoppers, while very good results have been obtained from spraying over the young hoppers with nicotine sulphate in water or in bordeaux mixture.

Honor Awarded Scots.

The best English is spoken in Glasgow, or at least John Masfield says so. Mr. Masfield has given Englishmen a shock with this statement. While the Scots have consistently argued for decades past that the best English is to be found in Scotland, and especially in Edinburgh, it remained for Masfield, himself an Englishman, not only to accord the highest honors to Scotland but to hang them on Glasgow. English members of parliament, however, are not willing to accord any such distinction to the members of the Scottish labor party, as the latter are frequently hard to understand in debate. Masfield, who recently was judge at a Glasgow music festival, declared that the quality of speech of Glasgow children came as a revelation, and added that the children promised to be the best speakers of English. He even went farther and said he fancied there might be a time when the Scots would be the best singers of the musical world.

Improved Phone Service.

Edmonton people are now able to talk to those in Salt Lake City, Utah, 1,100 miles away, as a result of satisfactory phone connection established between the Alberta government telephone system and the Mountain States telephone system, which serves some of the western states. It is now possible to talk long distance on a 1,000-mile circuit from Alberta. The new connection was made at Coum's a few days ago, and a conversation held between Edmonton and Helena.

Rubber From Milkweed.

Rubber plantations in the United States may be a realization in the not far distance if the recent prediction of Henry Ford that the common milkweed could produce rubber in satisfactory quantities, is fulfilled. Nor is milkweed rubber an invention of Ford, but in many of the laboratories of this country, investigations have been in progress for several years as to the possibilities of the milky juice of plants of the temperate zone as a source of rubber.

ABOUT TOWN

There is a stationary thermometer in the aldermanic chamber at City Hall. It is located in front of the ventilating shaft near the press table. Monday night the temperature in the hall caused one newspaper man to remark, "Has the coal supply run out?" A current of air was pouring out of the ventilating shaft that seemed to be coming from the North Pole. But the thermometer hung there, cheerfully registered 75.

A certain well-known resident of West Newton, who is a regular attendant at all aldermanic meetings, suggested Monday night, during the discussion by the aldermen as to the means which will be adopted to clean the water pipes, that if a connection will be made from the pumping station across the river to some buildings on the Needham side, a liquid can be obtained that will not only eat up the incrustation inside the pipes, but possibly may dissolve the pipes also. This gentleman said that he talked from experience.

The flag displayed on the staff at Newtonville Square the first of this week looked as if it had been through both battles of the Marne, Chateau Thierry and all of the Verdun fight.

The solicitude of the school committee for the safety of the High School pupils, as manifested by the request for the closing of Elm road during school hours is to be commended. But, it strikes as funny, persons who observe some of the High School pupils standing in or walking along the middle of Washington street on every school day, begging rides of passing automobiles. A count taken by the school authorities showed that but few autos pass along Elm road every hour. Hundreds of cars travel along Washington street every 60 minutes.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold the two-family brick and frame house situated at 70 Clyde street, Newtonville, together with approximately 10,000 square feet of land and two-car garage, recently completed by Vincent Squires. Edward L. Rawson purchases for home and investment. Valuation, $25,000.

Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for Herbert M. Brooks the property situated at 18 Cedar street, Newton Centre, consisting of a ten-room house with approximately 14,000 square feet of land and two-car garage. Alexander Livingston purchases for occupancy. A. T. Lamotte represented the vendor. The property is valued at $18,000.

Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for John D. Peard the English colonial two-family house, together with a two-car garage situated on Langdon avenue, Newtonville, valued at $23,500. A. S. Cotter is the purchaser.

Burns & Sons have also sold for James Higgins a lot of land on Homer street, consisting of 7000 square feet to Ralph B. Webber, being valued at $2000.

DEATH OF MRS. MORSE

Mrs. Georgie E. Morse, wife of Sylvanus G. Morse, died last Friday at her home, 19 Loring street, Newton Centre, following an illness of several months. Mrs. Morse was a native of Exeter, N. H., the daughter of Levi M. Jennings and was 60 years of age.

Mrs. Morse during her fifteen years' residence in Newton Center had allied herself to numerous philanthropic and social activities. She was interested in the Mothers' Rest, was a visitor at the Stone Institute, a member of the First Congregational Church, the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and the Booklovers' Club. Besides her husband, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Annie W. Philbrook of Exeter.

Funeral services were held from her late residence on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Edward M. Noyes of the First Church of Newton Centre and Rev. Dr. Edward P. Dwyer of Auburndale, officiating. The body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

Miss Lois Kendall of Institution Avenue came home from Bradford Academy for a few days, having finished her mid-year exams.

A Patriotic Pageant, "The Making of the Flag," will be presented in Trinity Church, Sunday evening, February 7, at 7.15, by the young people of the parish.

The Fortnightly Club meets next Wednesday with Mrs. Joseph S. Cordingley as hostess. Prof. Kirtley F. Mather will speak on "Beyond the Frontier in South America."

Rev. George L. Parker of the Unitarian church speaks next Monday afternoon to the Women's Alliance of the Second Church in Brookline, on the subject "Christ in Modern Poetry." Arrangements are being made for Ladies' Night by the Laymen's League of the Unitarian church, to be held on Feb. 28, with the artist G. T. Benneker, as the speaker, on the topic "Men are Square."

Miss Eleanor Mason's Exhibition of Miniatures at the Grace Horne Galleries will continue until Feb. 15th. The tea on Monday was well attended and Miss Annie Hulbert Jackson with Mrs. Ralph B. Webber presided at the tea tables.

FIRE RECORD

Last Friday evening at 5.12, Box 45 was for a fire on the roof of the house at 121 Crescent street, Auburndale, occupied by Leroy B. Fay. It was caused by sparks from the chimney.

It was stated in the papers last week that the fire which destroyed the house at 31 Central street, Auburndale, occupied by Royal Taft, was caused by spontaneous combustion in the soft coal stored in a bin. This statement has caused considerable concern to many persons in this city who have been using soft coal, and who contemplated continuing the use of this type of fuel.

There was not over a ton of coal in the bin of the burned house, and Chief Randlett is positive that the blaze did not start as a result of combustion in this small amount of coal. Coal experts assert that combustion will not occur in a pile of soft coal, unless that pile is over 10 feet deep. So, Newton residents who are using soft coal, need not be apprehensive that it will cause fires when stored in the quantities necessary to supply household requirements.

—The Woman's Association of Central Church held its meeting on February third. A group of faithful women began the morning session with work on surgical dressings, another in the adjoining room kept busy with the sewing of garments to be sent to the various missions. Still another group headed by Mrs. Fred W. Rust received and sold food, which netted the Association fifty dollars. At 12.30 luncheon was served by a corps of helpers, headed by Mrs. G. A. Keil, chairman of the luncheon, and Mrs. B. F. Kenney, chairman of the serving committee. Directly after the luncheon, Rev. Hubert Herring, who is Social Service Secretary of the Congregational Church, gave an inspiring speech on "The Fine Art of Living Together." Rev. Herring reminded us that the learning and teaching of the art of living together is truly a work of the church and our work as a church organization. Let us think often as we meet together and live together how we as individuals and as an organization can spread these doctrines in our immediate circles and to our neighbors farther away. A short business meeting was called by our president, Mrs. Wm. H. Allen. Probably the most interesting of all reports came from Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy, who reported receipt of $407 in pledges for 1926.

Ended Friendship.

I was ten and he was twelve. One day we were playing hide and seek and another friend of ours was "it." As there were four playing in the party three of us were to hide. I thought he would escort me to a hiding place. I was fooled. He took my chum and left me behind. Our friendship was indeed broken forever. —Chicago Journal.

Kindness in Business.

It is a great privilege to have an opportunity many times a day, in the course of your business, to do a kindness which is not to be paid for. Graciousness of demeanor is a large part of the duty of any official person who comes in contact with the world. Where a man's business is, there is the place for his religion to manifest itself.

LESSON IN ROYAL WEDDING

Writer Sees Significance in Nuptials of Union of the Duke of York With a Commoner.

The marriage of the duke of York and Lady Elisabeth Bowes-Lyon was invested with an exceptional degree of that human nature which makes the whole world kin and with something more. It was a noteworthy reminder of the radical contrast between royalty in Great Britain and in some other lands; for example, the states of Germany under the monarchical regime. In one of the latter, Willis Fletcher Johnson writes in the North American Review, such a marriage would have been impossible; it would have had to be morganatic, the wife forever doomed to a rank inferior to her husband's and her children debarred from the succession. In Great Britain, though one of the oldest and proudest monarchies in the world, it was not only possible but also was not even regarded as extraordinary, and it was as complete and valid as though the bride had been of royal blood. Before the wedding a subject and a commoner, instantly after that ceremony she was a "royal highness," standing in direct and close succession to the throne as the wife of the heir presumptive. The fine tribute to womanhood was obvious, and no less so was the demonstration of the essential unity between sovereign and people. The best American democrats, who justly boast that any native citizen may become president, must appreciate a kingdom in which a subject and commoner may become queen and the son of a commoner may become king and emperor.

ROMANCE OF LOST ATLANTIS

Spanish Scientists Announce That Island Has Been Located Off Coast of That Country.

People who like their science well mixed with romance will be attracted to the announcement of the Spanish academy which says that the lost island of Atlantis has been located off the coast of Spain. Details of this interesting discovery are not yet available to the public, but that will leave the curious all the more room for speculation.

The age and vitality of the story that there was once a great and opulent country somewhere west of the Pillars of Hercules which grew to a magnificent passing all description, and then sunk into the sea has caused more than one geographer to think that somewhere back in the misty past there must have been a solid basis for the legend. Nobody knows how old the story is. Homer knew it, and Plato gave the world a description of the place, but every mention of it, however early, is accompanied by the assurance that the date of the submergence was even then in the remotest past.

Will Horse Become Obsolete?

Disappearance is not too strong a word to use about the horse. The Agriculture department shows that throughout the world the supply of horses has fallen off 11 per cent since 1913. In the United States it has something over 13 per cent. Imports of breeding horses to this country have fallen from 11,000 to 3,000. The Western breeder is not keen to raise horses, for which there is no market and a falling price. A few horses will have to be kept for the zoological gardens and the movies. For the rest we shall have to take it out in studying Rosa Bonheur's pictures and the skeletons in the Museum of Natural History. Before they know it they will be keeping kind old Dobbin in a cage and charging half a dollar to go in and feed him apples—if there are any apples.—New York Herald.

Telephonic Advance.

The marvelous strides being made in the radio world will soon make it possible to talk to Europe by telephone, according to the research engineer of a Newark radio company. It will be the ordinary after-dinner diversion when time fails, he says, in the near future. "Just lift the receiver and your voice," he declares; "that will be all required to connect you with your friends in Europe. Plans are under way for linking up the telephone and radio in such a way as to make it possible to talk almost anywhere on earth where the two systems reach. One may also talk to friends sailing overseas with the same privacy as the telephone now affords."

Murderer Traced by Handkerchief.

Few murderers escape some penalty or other, even the most careful. A strangling mystery two years old has just been solved by means of a handkerchief the murderer stuffed in the mouth of his victim in her apartment in the Rue des Filatiers, Paris. When a robber was arrested recently for holding up a teller of the Bank of France he gave a previous address in the Rue des Filatiers. The handkerchief was then taken all over France and shown to his relatives and friends. Finally, at Carcassonne, his sister unsuspiciously admitted she had embroidered it for him.

Youthful Lovers Quarreled.

He was shorter than I, but we were the same age and both freckle-faced kids, but each thought the other beautiful. One day he accompanied me down town and we had a quarrel. The day after I made an advance to make up because it was my fault, but he wouldn't. He has tried ever since to make up, but this ended my love affair.—Exchange.

Ben Franklin Enjoyed Good Things of Life

Benjamin Franklin was one of those rare men who lived so happily and so abundantly that the reader of his life finds himself wishing he might have been a contemporary.

He was regarded as one of the wisest members of the First congress, yet he seldom spoke and he spent a great part of his time fast asleep in his chair.

He drank too much, he ate too much; instead of exercising, he played chess. He suffered the piercing pains of gout. He confessed all his faults with delightful humor and frankness.

At sixteen he wrote an article for his brother's newspaper, describing the night life of Boston, and at seventy he was still indulging in pleasant romances with young and beautiful French women. He missed nothing.

As he added years to his age and dollars to his income, he violated many of Poor Richard's precepts.

His common sense led him to take hot baths twice a week, when the general custom was to bathe not oftener than two or three times a year. He believed in fresh air, and even night air, while the doctors were still using leeches as a cure-all.

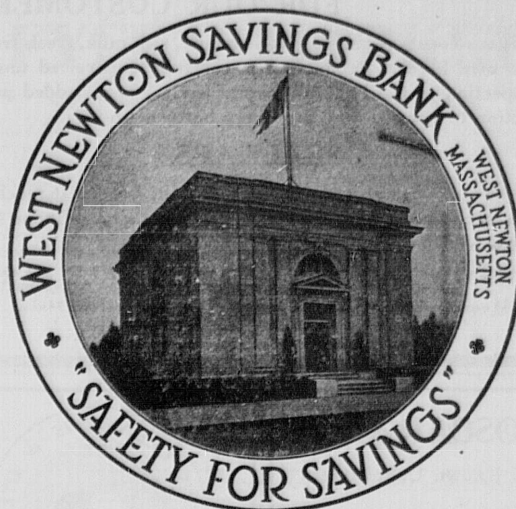

He enjoyed life to the utmost. He was the master of his circumstances from the age of sixteen, when he ran away from home, to the ripe age of eighty-four, when he passed on, with all his affairs in order. He left an estate of a quarter million dollars for his heirs.—William Feather Magazine.

Scientist's Explanation by No Means Flattering

A spiritualist, who also was something of an orator, visited a town where a skeptical scientist lived, and delivered a lecture one afternoon, the lecturer's desire being to convert the scientist to his belief. The audience was large, including the scientist, who had attended by special invitation.

The next day the spiritualist called on the scientist with hope that his effort had been successful. "What did you think of my lecture?" he asked.

"Well," said the scientist, "I couldn't sleep last night at all, and I lay it to your talk."

The spiritualist was highly flattered. "I knew my argument would make you think," he said. "Is it not so?"

"I am not so certain about that. Whenever I sleep during the day I cannot sleep at night."—Los Angeles Times.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

Various Committee activities will be of interest to the federated club women this month, and they should mark their calendars for the following dates. It goes without saying, that having marked them, they refer to them, and hit them hitherward in accordance with that marking!

February 8th is the first open date, and is a Lecture under the auspices of Federal Administration Course, Dr. A. J. Nute of the U. S. Public Service, who is in charge of the quarantine service for the Boston Immigration Station, is to be the speaker. The course is held each Monday morning, at 10.30 o'clock at 3 Joy Street, and is the third in the present series.

February 11th, Thursday, at 10.30 A.M., Americanization is to have a conference at Headquarters, 687 Boylston Street. Mrs. Clarence W. Clark, Second Vice-President, will preside, and the joy of hearing Mrs. Herbert Gurney, is provided. Her talks are always a delight and inspiration, but added to this even she admits that she has some particular things to say. Interesting immigration problems and experiences will be presented by Joseph Spano, Secretary of the N. E. Civic League for New Immigrants, and Charles M. Herlihy, State Supervisor of Alien Education. At 12.30 there will be a pleasing pause for luncheon in Grace Horne's studio. And at 2 o'clock Miss Edna Phillips, of the State Division of Libraries, will tell of their work for foreigners, and she will be followed by Dr. K. A. Kovalsky, Dean of Russian Collegiate Institute of New York, and Director of the Russian Institute of the Women's Municipal League of Boston. Book and other exhibits are promised, and EVERYBODY IS INVITED.

February 18th is Conservation Day, in a conference all day at Richards Hall, 30 Huntington Avenue, beginning at 11 A.M. Community Service workers join in this conference. Mrs. A. M. Hume, President of the Melrose Woman's Club will speak on the intriguing subject: "The Garden Section—an Asset in a Local Club." Even with blizzards blowing, and ice-clad trees, there is the realization that snow-drops are already stirring under the heavy white blanket, and with it stir our desires for that wonderful garden of our dreams that is to materialize this summer!

February 23rd, University Extension begins a Course on Appreciation of Painting and Sculpture, to be given at Boston Normal Art School, by Melville Folsom Webber A.M. of Harvard University. Details may be obtained from the State Department of Education. The Art Committee also announces an Exhibition of Memorial Sculpture in Relation to its Setting, at Rogers Building, Technology, 491 Boylston Street, March 1st to 15th, from 10 A.M. to 6 P.M. It is desired to have exhibits from all clubs. These need not be of expert work in execution, but may be sketch models. The aim of the exhibit is to create public interest in this art, and to secure cooperation of all club women and of the public.

February 16th, Tuesday, is the Mid-winter meeting on Legislation of the State Federation. By invitation of the Boston Section, Council of Jewish Women, this will be held in Colonial Theatre, 100 Boylston Street. The Credential Committee will be on duty at 9 o'clock. White tickets are necessary for admission, and delegates' tickets giving right to vote, are this season blue. Luncheon tickets may be obtained by sending self-addressed, stamped envelope, with check for one dollar to Mrs. H. Friedman, 43 Clark Road, Brookline, not later than Thursday, the 11th.

Morning session opens at 10 o'clock, and our new Mayor of Boston, Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols, will bring greetings, for the first time, to our organization. Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, Legislative Chairman, will present speakers on the several measures that are before the clubs for action this year. —Physical Examination of Minors Entering Employment, School Requirements Extended, and Regulations on Extinguishment and Prevention of Forest Fires.

Club management is urged to have these three measures presented by their Legislative Chairmen at each meeting before this date, the 16th, so that delegates may have knowledge of the matters they will be asked to endorse. In presenting information it is only fair to see that the opposition in each matter is adequately stated, either by the Chairman, or by speakers secured.

At the afternoon session, which opens at 1.45 o'clock, there will be various greetings—from Representatives Elijah Adlow, from Mrs. Carl Watson, Director of 6th District, and from Mrs. Poole, in a Message from the General Federation. The principal address of the afternoon will be given by Dr. Bruno Roselli, on the subject "When Youth Demands Responsibility."

RECENT EVENTS

The Rev. J. Edgar Park, Pastor of the Second Congregational Church in Newton, at West Newton, was the speaker at the meeting of January 28th. He spoke most interestingly on "Does Believing a Thing Make It True?" Mr. Ernest Hermann, Superintendent of the Newton Playgrounds, also spoke briefly, on some of the problems connected with the skating on Bulloughs Pond and the swimming at Crystal Lake. There are two sales held after this meeting; one, the Food

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Newtonville Woman's Club, presided at the meeting held on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Virginia Gardner sang very pleasingly and with refinement of interpretation the following charming selections: "Little Shepherd Boy," by Watts; "Charity" by Hageman, "Song for the Seasons" by Terry.

Rev. Henry H. Crane of Malden gave an able and impressive lecture on "The Scarlet Letter." He spoke of Hawthorne as one of the clearest and most forceful novelists the world has ever seen. The Puritan inheritance had entered into his soul, and his great theme is that all sin must be paid for by someone somewhere. The easy code often adopted in the present—that if one is clever and lucky he can do what he pleases, and that there is but little difference between right and wrong, all is gray—is very different from Hawthorne's stern doctrine of the inevitability of retribution. The following are some of the thoughts suggested by the story of Hester Prynne and Arthur Dimmesdale; God who made the cosmic order did not neglect the moral order; when we explain away moral law there is moral lesion, and weakness is felt everywhere. Not until we come into recognition of the validity of law can we find abiding peace. Only as we face the wrong we do, and seek to make ourselves known for what we are, and recognizing moral law, strive to live by it, can we obtain moral stature.

A Valentine Tea was served with Mrs. H. J. Baringer and Mrs. J. C. Atkinson as hostesses. Presiding at the table were Mrs. W. L. Vosburg, Mrs. Robert E. Bruce, Mrs. Albert D. Parker, and Mrs. W. F. Warner. A very successful Round Table Talk for parents was held at the home of Mrs. Leroy M. S. Miner on Friday evening. Miss Carolyn Gerrish of the Girls' Latin School was the leader. "Children from the Point of View of Citizenship" was her theme. She gave illustrations from papers written by children showing their conception of the ideal citizen. These were very well expressed and showed high standards and a fine spirit of Americanism. It was conceded that the young child liked school, but the dislike often felt by young people of high school age was discussed. The conclusion reached was that they were overworked, partly because of the constantly increasing requirements for college entrance. Miss Gerrish spoke with sympathy and understanding, having had much experience as a teacher.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The two plays given by the Auburndale Woman's Club on February 2nd proved to be most entertaining. "Sardines," a play in one act, was most amusing and included in the cast were our own club members: Mrs. H. G. Musgrave, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Van Patten Steiger, Mrs. W. Gilpatrick and Mrs. G. A. Follett.

"For Distinguished Service," a comedy in one act, was received with much enthusiasm by the audience.

Mrs. Richard Foote, Mrs. Winthrop Stiles, and Mrs. Sumner Shepherd played their parts splendidly.

Between the plays Mrs. Dana Kendall, a club member, sang a group of five songs. Mrs. Kendall has a pleasing soprano voice and sang with much feeling. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lowell MacNutt.

Tea was served by the Hospitality Committee to close a most enjoyable afternoon.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Emma Downing Coolidge will give an Author's Reading at the February 8th meeting of the Monday Club, which is to be an open meeting for guests of club members. "Hoarded Gold," a modern business story, and to be a companion volume for Miss Coolidge's book of "The Dreamer," which she has read before many clubs, is to be one of the manuscripts of her author to read. "Mr. Goddard Gives an Address," by contrast a comedy of a typical present-day family, will be the second offering. Music will be furnished by the hostess club, Mrs. Florence E. Foster will open her home at 1058 Walnut street for the meeting.

Christian Era Study Club

The Christian Era Study Club also meets on February 8th. Mrs. Charles E. Kattelle opens her home at 205 Grove Street for the members, and Mrs. Beiden and Mrs. S. H. Celloy will furnish the program. Mrs. Beiden will give a paper on "Acadia—Nova Scotia," and Mrs. Selley one on "Cape Breton."

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands turns from contemplation of Outstanding Americans, who made our country's history—such men as Washington, Franklin, Jefferson and Hamilton—to contemplation of drama, in the fascinating characters and plots of equally immortal Shakespeare. "Anthony and Cleopatra" is the specific work that the members "go to with delight" for the three coming meetings. Next Monday, the 8th, Mrs. Emory Clark is hostess at her home, 38 Allerton road, and Miss Anna S. Thompson has charge of the opening presentation. On the 15th—the meeting being set ahead on account of the holiday of the 22nd—Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson opens her home at 1090 Walnut street for the meeting, and the enjoyment of "Anthony and Cleopatra" will go merrily forward. The program for the three discussions has been placed in the hands of four club members, Miss Mary E. Hyde, Miss Anna S. Thompson, Mrs. Edward G. Swift, and Mrs. Isaac Goddard, and to them falls the pleasure and responsibility of taking charge of each afternoon in its appreciation and study of Shakespeare.

Auburndale Review Club

Tuesday, February 9th, the members of the Auburndale Review Club take a journey to "South Africa," in another stage of their trip through, and about this interesting country. Mrs. Richard O. Walter entertains the members at her home, 10 Fern street, and three members contribute to the enjoyment of the journey and information. Mrs. Austin Eaton will go on with the story of the continent "From Discovery to Great Trek, 1840"; Mrs. Thomas B. Scott will continue it "From 1840 through the Boer War, 1902"; and Miss Marion Knowlton will give the "Biography of Cecil Rhodes." It may seem a long period of time to cover in a short morning, but it is amazing what hitherto unrealized facts may be brought forward that will live long in memory for a vital picture, and for information truly to be appreciated.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The happy thought of a "Better Acquaintance Tea" takes place for the Auburndale Woman's Club at the Club House, on the 11th, from 3 to 5 P.M., in honor of new members and their sponsors. The day also marks a tribute to young genius in an exhibit of local talent in Art—two expressions of thoughtfulness that should make for a successful and pleasurable afternoon for this Club.

Another enjoyable club function is already well under way for a dramatic evening on the 18th, when "The Hotentot," will be presented under the management of Mrs. Lyman W. Gore. The club has just had to its credit a most successful afternoon with two plays put on by members, and the 18th will, therefore, be looked forward to. Tickets may be secured at meetings before that date, or ordered by telephone from Mrs. G. F. Nudd, of 367 Central Street. Tel. W. N. 0924-W.

Social Science Club

Wednesday morning, the 10th, at 10 o'clock, the Social Science Club holds its usual weekly meeting in the parlors of the Hunnewell Club. Mr. Foster Damon of Harvard will speak on "American Prose in the 19th Century." Mrs. H. I. Harriman and Mrs. F. A. Wetherbee will be the hostesses.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

The Boston Woman's Civics Club will meet at the Hotel Brunswick February 10th at 2.30 P.M. In the absence of the President, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, the Vice-President, Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton, will preside and present the following speakers: Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Massachusetts Director in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who speaks on "Glimpses of the National Activities of Club Women"; Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury, State Chairman of Social and Industrial Conditions, on the work of her department; Mrs. Miner H. A. Evans, who will conduct the current events period.

Newton members of this club thoroughly enjoy it, for while comparatively small in membership the quality of these—composed as it is of many who are noted country-wide for ability and power in club activities—makes for meetings, most decidedly worth-while and inspiring. Leading lights among our own Newton club women shine in the same firmament with leaders in State Federation affairs.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Annual Mid-Winter event of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, under the direction of the Department of Activities, takes place Friday and Saturday evenings, the 5th and 6th. This year it is a Minstrel Show given through the courtesy of Mr. Robert B. Chapin and friends, and coached by Mr. Roy Harlow. The show will be followed by dancing, with Louis V. Haffernheim's Orchestra. Mrs. Robert Chapin is Chairman, and Mrs. George J. Murphy, Director of the performances. Tickets may be obtained by calling the latter at C. N. 0914.

A busy week is promised for the Club, although of course the gala event is the Minstrel Show, made up as we have been informed by many "able" men of the community. The Cooking Course continues, with the second lesson on the 10th, at 2.30 o'clock at the Club House, under the instructive—and humorous—leadership of Miss Weimer of the Washburn-Crosby Company. Cakes, Icings, Pastries, Unusual Desserts will be concocted, and—most interesting—presented for sampling to the fortunate club members who apply for the course. Mrs. Leonard, telephone C. N. 2373, can tell any member if there is still room in the class—if they have put off or neglected to apply.

On Thursday, the 11th, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole comes at 10.30 A.M. to give her monthly lecture on Current Events.

Mrs. John Bergeson, Art Chairman, once more announces another of her fascinating exhibits that she so successfully and efficiently brings to club members, in a Week's Portrait Exhibit in the Art Room, beginning the 11th and extending through the 18th inclusive, open daily from 2 to 5 P.M. William Cushing Loring, well-known in the Newtons for his ability as a portrait painter, is the artist to exhibit, and every one is welcome to take advantage of this opportunity to view talent that belongs among them. Mrs. Murray P. Horwood, Chairman, announces two lectures on "Modern Youth and Its Problems," which will be given February 15th and March 1st, at 10.30 A.M. at the Club House. The speaker will be Dr. Edith Hale Swift of the American Social Hygiene Association of New York. Dr. Swift is spoken of as an experienced and capable lecturer, and one who has appeared before many of the leading educational institutions of this country. Dr. Swift's talk will lay special emphasis on the subject of sex hygiene, and the Public Health Committee feel that it should be helpful to those having responsibility toward young children. In accordance, they have opened the lectures to others than club members, and hope that many will avail themselves of the opportunity.

Newton Community Club

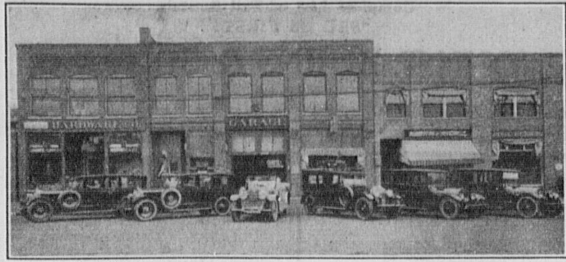

Mrs. Lucy F. Franklin, Dean of Women at Boston University, will speak on "The Rising Older Generation" at the meeting of the Newton Community Club of Thursday, February 11th, in the Underwood School Hall, at two-thirty o'clock. The Home Economics Committee, Mrs. Harold M. Moore, Chairman, will hold another of the food sales after this meeting. (Continued on Page 11)

ODORS LIKED AND DISLIKED

Wide Variety of "Tastes" in Smells
With Which Every Person Is Well Acquainted.

When 63 barrels of wine were emptied recently into New York gutters a crowd of 700 people stopped to watch—and sniff.

The bouquet of wine is one of the few odors which are appreciated by almost every one. Others are the smells of new-mown grass, coffee, spices, bacon, hot buttered toast, seaweed and, of course, most perfumes and all fruits and flowers.

Kings and beggars alike have commented on the ecstasy to be obtained from the odors of cooking. Curiously enough, this is largely due to the fact that smelling and tasting "overlap."

The "taste" of tobacco is often due to sight rather than other taste or smell. There is not half the enjoyment to be obtained from smoking in the dark as in the light. Blind men usually prefer stronger tobacco than those who can watch the curling smoke. Some use tobacco strongly scented.

Incredible as it may seem, there are people, too, who cannot even distinguish between tea and coffee when their eyes are shut.

Tastes differ because the pleasures derived from smells differ in almost every individual. Some like the smell of tar; others hate it. Some revel in the smell of a bonfire; others deliberately avoid it.

There are a host of other smells which to some are a delight and to others unpleasant. Among these are camphor, musk, cressote, carbolic, furniture polish, fresh paint, petrol fumes and the musty odors of old books.

The far-flung cry for help—"S. O. S."—has long since, even before the World War, focused the attention of peoples the world over on how wireless has tremendously lessened the dangers that befall men who go down to the sea in ships. Few, however, even the master mariners, realize as yet that all seamen, have a right to medical service by radio while at sea.

Surgeon General H. S. Cumming of the public health service emphasizes that "even the expense of calling the service by radio from away out at sea is borne by the radio companies, without expense to ship or sailor." This medical service is really a sort of subsidy to merchant ships and sailors.

A century and a quarter ago, when congress established the public health service, under the title of the marine hospital service, it directed it to render medical aid to every American seaman who applied for it, and that for this each seaman should pay 20 cents a month. This was in 1798. In 1870 the tax was doubled. In 1888 it was abolished. Since then all such aid has been rendered free.

Few Phones on African Farms. Farmers' telephones are practically unknown in the British colonies of South Africa, according to a recent report to the Department of Commerce from the American vice consul at Capetown.

"There is scarcely any telephone service in the rural districts," says the report, "and the question of its development in these districts is one of great importance to South Africa. There are thousands of farmers living in places far removed from railways and telegraphs who are practically isolated from the rest of the country. It has been suggested that telephone service in rural districts might be developed as it was in Canada . . . where . . . individuals were permitted to erect and maintain telephone lines." At present, the vice consul reports, "the telephone system in the Union of South Africa is owned by the government and operated by the department of posts and telegraphs."

Buzy Berlin Thieves. Burglars are so numerous in Berlin, Germany, that they are stumbling over each other. The city's plain clothes men have just discovered a case in which two gangs of thieves happened to be on the same "job" at the same time, and came face to face outside the residence they were about to loot.

A brief consultation between the rivals resulted in plundering the place, on the understanding that the spoils would be split evenly. Teamwork made it possible to remove jewelry, silverware and linen to the value of 15,000,000 marks in the course of a few minutes.

Wanted "Dig Boy." Although we have only lived in the neighborhood a few days, my husband has become acquainted with the little boy, about five years old, who lives next door, by playing ball with him once or twice.

We had just finished dinner the other evening when this youngster came to the back door and said to me: "Will you please tell that big boy that lives here that the fellow he plays ball with is waiting for him to come on out."—Exchange.

Bribing the Dentist. Robert had a baby tooth to extract and he walked bravely up to the chair to have it done, but just before I got my instrument he said gravely: "I want to ask you something first. I brought my best marble shooter to give you if you don't make it hurt." You may be sure he got a careful extraction.—Exchange.

These Watches Real Antiques. A watch that is 200 years old has every right to be called an antique. But a watch that was an antique at the time of the French Revolution and was well past the century mark when Louis XIV was adorning himself in satins, silks and velvets, that watch today is an antique in every sense of the word. Two such watches are owned by a man in Newark, N. J. They are French watches and both about 350 years old. When the Pilgrims set sail for America those timepieces were ticking away in French waistcoats, perhaps the pride of some village innkeeper of old France.

WOULD SEIZE HISTORIC ISLE

Dalmatian Town Claims Spot Made Famous by British Monarch in the Middle Ages.

Lacroma Island, where Richard Coeur de Lion was shipwrecked when he was sailing up the Dalmatian coast from the Holy land, figures in a lawsuit recently heard in the Yugoslav courts.

The little island, which lies about half a mile from the shore of Ragusa, has had a romantic history. Richard Coeur de Lion built a monastery on it in gratitude for being saved from the sea. More recently it has had two unhappy royal owners, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico and the ill-fated Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria.

Prince Rudolf's daughter, Elizabeth, received the island as a part of her dowry when she married Otto Windischgratz, who is concerned in the recent legal proceedings.

The town of Ragusa attempted to have the island transferred to the state according to the treaty of St. Germain. But Princess Elizabeth, the owner, who is living divorced from her husband at Baden, asserts that she is no longer a member of the Hapsburg family, "she renounced all her rights on the occasion of her marriage."

The claim of Ragusa was based upon a precedence case heard in Czechoslovakia in which members of the Hapsburg family lost their property. The claim was upheld and rejected successively by two courts, but before it had time to go through the highest courts, Princess Elizabeth relinquished all her rights in the island for the sum of $625,000, which was paid by the state.

HISTORIES CALLED A MENACE

English Publication Condemns Flood of Writings Purporting to Tell of March of the World.

Short histories of the world are becoming a menace. A new genre has been discovered and a flood of books is the result.

Nor is it difficult to see why this should be the case. To write the history of England from 1685-1688 needs years of research, considerable intellectual effort and mental discipline. But to write the history of the world is a very different matter. All that is needed is some half-digested theory, round which can be woven a few carefully assorted facts and any number of hazy prejudices. This history becomes a "criticism," an "interpretation" by a "sympathetic" or "inquiring" mind.

The authors of one recent example betray in their title the nature of their prejudices; for them a Twentieth century slum child or a Twentieth century public schoolboy is the heir of all the ages, born into a world which has in some esoteric manner been getting better every day in every way.

Not for them is the painful possibility that history may be, after all, but a succession of events, some good, some bad, a catalogue of incidents, which it may sometimes be possible to diagnose, but upon none of which it is wise to construct a general philosophy.—London Statesman.

Hurt by Ancient Cannon Ball. A cannon ball fired from a British warship which landed harmlessly in the side of a bank at Kingston, N. Y., after nearly a century and a half, smashed the fingers of a seven-year-old boy. The lad was walking along a street, which overlooks the Hudson river, and saw a queer-looking object imbedded in the bank. He dug it out with his fingers and it proved to be a seven-pound cannon ball. Starting to run home with his prize it slipped from his arms. As he attempted to pick it up it fell on his hands, smashing his fingers. It was in October, 1777, that a British fleet sailed up the Hudson river and anchored off Kingspoint. A landing party of marines captured the battery. The boy's father stated that he would present the trophy to old Senate house, where New York state's first governing body met in council before the capital was removed to Albany.

Traits of Ancient Egyptians. In spite of the military skill which enabled the Egyptians several times to extend the boundaries of their kingdom far to the south as well as over the greater part of Asia Minor, the Egyptians seem not to have been a cruel or fierce race, declares Robert Cresswell, in the New York Tribune. In the large, they had the dispositions that have always gone with patient laborers tilling a rich soil. They hated all foreigners and all foreign ways; they believed in their own country as the only one worth mentioning; indeed, for centuries they were so insular that they called themselves "Romet," meaning simply "men," leaving the despised races around them to share any other appellation they could think of.

Staid Lady and Pink Garters. I am somewhat of a staid lady of mature years, whom no one would suspect of wearing a pair of pink ruffled garters. But I had a new pair, nevertheless, and being rather tight, to ease myself, I pulled them down around my ankles when eating breakfast, on a nice spring morning recently. I started out. I was tripping along happily when I happened to glance downward. Horrors! There were those pink garters around my ankles, and my skirt was after the dapper type. There was nothing to do but stoop and pull them up. A hasty glance over my shoulder revealed a man behind me with a broad grin on his face. I lost no time in turning a corner.—Chicago Tribune.

Poison Cure for Rheumatism. Forty-seven rattlesnakes captured at Black's creek, about twelve miles from Boise, Idaho, have been sent by Robert Limbert to the Dutch government for experimental work. The Dutch government is perfecting a serum which, when combined with the poison from rattlesnakes and injected into the muscles will, it is claimed, cure rheumatism, Limbert said. It took less than an hour and a quarter to bag the reptiles. They were found in a space 20 feet square. Limbert stated that the removal of the fangs does not, as commonly believed, render a snake harmless, for other fangs will grow in about three weeks.

Defining the Sex. Little Evelyn was in the grocery store with her baby brother Billy the other day. A man went by and spoke to Billy. The baby did not answer, whereupon the gentleman said to Evelyn: "She won't speak to me today." Evelyn proudly answered, "She ain't a her; he's a him."

DEATH OF MR. ANGER

A wide circle of friends were deeply grieved to learn on Monday of the sudden death at the Phillips House in Boston, of Mr. George McNeill Angier of Waban. Death was the result of an operation performed last week.

Mr. Angier has been identified with the educational, philanthropic and political affairs of the city for many years. He served as an alderman for four years beginning in 1916 and for nearly five years as a member of the school committee, being its chairman for 1923 and 1924. His services on these bodies was of the highest grade. He was largely responsible for the inauguration of the Junior High school system in this city and for the unification of the High schools. He was also prominent in Red Cross work, where he was president of Newton Chapter, and he was also a prominent figure in the work of the Newton Central Council, of which he was also president. In business life he was president of the Angier Chemical Company with offices and plant at Allston.

Mr. Angier was born in Kansas City in 1867 and came to his present home in Waban in 1896. Although not a graduate of Harvard, he was paid the rare compliment of membership in the Harvard Club of Boston and has aided many young men to obtain a Harvard education.

One of his sons, Albert Edgar Angier, was killed in the World War and the school in Waban was named for him. He is survived by his widow and one son, Donald Angier, both residents of Waban.

The following resolutions were adopted by the board of aldermen on evening of Mr. Angier's death:

Resolved, That the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton has noted with profound regret and sincere sorrow the death of George M. Angier. As a public servant in the Board of Aldermen, as Chairman of the School Committee, in the work of the Red Cross and the Newton Central Council and in numerous other civic activities he gave of his time unselfishly and unsparringly, mindful only of the public weal. As a patriotic citizen he gave a son in the service of his country; as a neighbor, friend and citizen, he was loved and respected by all; in his death the city has suffered an irreparable loss.

Resolved, That the Board of Aldermen extend to his widow and family his sincere sympathy in their bereavement and present sorrow, and that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Board of Aldermen and a copy thereof be sent to Mrs. Angier.

There was a large attendance of friends and relatives at the funeral services held Wednesday afternoon at his late home on Pine Ridge road, Waban.

Rev. James C. Sharp, pastor of St. Barnabas' Church of Falmouth, formerly minister of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, officiated. The bearers were George Angier of Newton, a cousin; Herbert R. Lane, Charles C. Blaney, Gifford LeClear and Henry L. Johnson of Waban, and Frank S. Price of Brookline. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

K. B. B. K. B. B. held an open meeting on Monday afternoon, February 1st. Mrs. Irving Palmer spoke on "Filling the Hope Chest, or Preparing for Life." An additional treat, a number of vocal selections by Miss Gladys Avery, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Lithgow, and a duet by Miss Avery and Miss Topping. It was a most unusual treat to have both Mrs. Palmer and Miss Avery on the same afternoon and we extend our sincerest thanks to them for so willingly giving their services and rendering such a delightful afternoon's entertainment, one long to be remembered.

February 8th Mrs. Francis J. Flagg well-known critic, writer, and dramatic reader, will be our guest. She will dramatize the book of "Job." Hostesses, Eleanor Mildram and Mary Olcott. Another treat, Thursday afternoon, February 18th, a dramatic reading will be rendered by Mrs. Louis J. Steitz, Hostesses, Doris and Barbara Dalton.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

It seems to be one of the most important duties of every Mayor of Boston, one of the very first, apparently, after taking the oath of office, to recommend to the Legislature a bill for a Greater Boston. For many years Democratic Mayors of that city have been criticised in Newton and other cities and towns of the Metropolitan district for recommending this particular legislation. They were supposed to be doing it as Democrats and being Democrats their motives were immediately open to suspicion. Now comes a Republican Mayor, or at least a non-partisan Mayor with a Republican tag, and he is fully as earnest. It must be admitted, in justice to Mayor Nichols, that his scheme is not as inclusive, at least on the face of it, as those of some of his predecessors. He asks that the Legislature pass an act which would enable the United States census to enumerate all municipalities of the Metropolitan District as "Boston." The figures would be imposing, he believes, and would make Boston appear as the fourth city in the United States or somewhere near the top. But why stop with the Metropolitan Boston, why not the entire state of Massachusetts? Then there would be figures worth talking about. Of course the whole idea is part of a hope, we might have used some other word less kind, that Boston may in time absorb all adjoining and outlying cities and towns. Even Mayor Nichols admitted that when questioned at a committee hearing by members of the Legislature. As far as we have been able to observe those who favor the scheme, although insisting the smaller municipalities will be greatly benefited, do not enumerate the benefits. They do not show just what money is to be saved the taxpayers and they do not offer assurance that this centralized form of government is ideal. On the other hand there is still a strong belief that the old "town meeting" form of government came pretty near being the very best available. We think each city and town knows its own needs best and can best administer to them. They again each place has its identity, its community interests and a thousand and other things that are purely local in character and a source of local pride and satisfaction. To wipe these all aside for the sake of making a grand stand exhibition to the rest of the country is not worth while, as we view the situation. Furthermore, we do not believe that the Massachusetts Legislature will take it seriously.

Has anybody 'stopped to figure out why auto bus transportation is so much more favored than the old-fashioned trolley car? "Is it?" we think the hear asked by some one sitting in the back of the bus. Well, that's what we are told and although we haven't looked over the books of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway we have it on excellent authority that "they like them." In this case "they" refers to men and women who are obliged to travel daily from Waltham and Newton by the so-called cross-town route. Is it novelty that appeals or is it preference based on sound judgment? Well, the fact is, at least we must call it "fact" because of our source of information, that "business has picked up wonderfully" since the cross-town busses were put in operation. "It has done more business on this line than we ever expected," said our informant. Asked if he could explain the reason, he replied, "Yes. The busses travel right along; they are new and comfortable and make better time. If one of them gets knocked out, which is very seldom, it can be pulled aside and another one brought out to take its place. There is no interruption of service. Things are different when a trolley goes bad. The whole line is tied up. We have to wait for another car to come along and push us out of the way. Then the busses are easier to ride in than the cars. It seems more up-to-date anyway and it is." We listened closely for we had thought of some of those things ourselves. Then when our friend continued we were even more delighted, for he said, "When we get busses on all the lines you will see the tracks disappear and the wires and poles taken away. The streets will look better and there will be more satisfaction in riding. I tell you what it's going to be a great thing for Newton." Of course we are not expert in the matter of transportation, except as a passenger, and passengers are not supposed to know much, if anything about it. We agree with the man who told us the above and we believe that the more busses in place of trolley cars the better. At the same time we would have one company operate the lines and we believe the Middlesex & Boston should be that company. And we own no stock in it, either.

And while we are on the subject of street railway we must not lose a situation that we discovered in the Park Street Subway. It shocked our moral sensibilities beyond all hope of recovery. We trust, however, that if we describe it here we will not shatter the nerves of our friends. We must tell the story backwards in order that it may be put before our readers as it was brought to our attention. We were one of a crowd that made their way into a Newton-bound car in the subway one evening. Two acquaintances of ours were also members of the "rush." We saw one of them hand the other a dime just as they managed to find seats in the rear of the trailer. "You win," said the man who produced the money. "I thank you," replied the other. "What's the big idea?" we asked. "Don't you play that game?" the former asked us, "you ought to. I pick up quite a little change that way." We asked that he be allowed to know the process. "It's simply this," he explained. "While we are waiting for a two-car train to come along I select a spot and bet 10 cents that the car will stop here. My friend does the same, selecting, of course, a different spot. Usually, one of us wins, although there are times when neither of us picks out the place opposite which the door is opened."

"It's a wonderful way to put joy into these dreary moments of life," our friend added. Isn't it though?

As has been said on one or two prior occasions, life has its mysteries, little and big. We have a notion that many of us are more concerned with the smaller. Rather than engage in a debate we will refrain from seeking to prove such an assertion. It was one of those tiny mysteries that we encountered the other day. The only reason it impressed us was because we couldn't get at the solution. Is there anything more annoying than one's failure to learn all the circumstances after listening to the first part of an interesting story or event? Doesn't it get on your nerves to hear just half of something and then find yourself obliged to go through the day and maybe the night and the next day and the next night, saying to yourself, "I wonder how that came out." Well, we suffered just such an experience and if our readers are willing we should like to have them endure the agony with us. We were making a purchase in a store. A clerk waited upon us while the proprietor engaged in a telephone conversation. The conversation interested far more than our purchase and we became so absorbed we almost forgot to pick up our change. Here is what we heard:

"What did you cut me off for? ... Yes, you did, you know you did. ... You hung-up, that's what you did. ... * I don't care a — what a lady told you, I'll tell you something. ... She's crazy, now you listen to me. ... * What's that, repeat that again. ... Say, where do you get that stuff? Don't you believe me when I tell you it's so? ... * No, you want to think wrong of me, well go ahead, go ahead, go as far as you like. ... * I did, I did, no, I didn't. ... Well, I didn't think you'd be against me, too. ... * You are, or you wouldn't talk like that. ... * Is that so? Well, don't kid yourself by thinking you can kid me. ... * I didn't, I didn't and if I'm the victim of a plot I can't help myself. ... * No, you're right, if I do swear about me what can I say? What can I do? What can I do? ... Our time was up. We had completed our purchase and had no excuse whatever for hanging-on to hear the rest of the conversation. We left the store with many, many regrets. Perhaps some day we may be able to win the confidence of that clerk and get him to tell us what it was all about. We are simply dying, my dear, to find out."

A million dollars is sought by the Newton Hospital. There are 53,003 men, women and children in Newton. Here are two facts that ought to be more closely related. There is just one way to do it and that is to make the contributions to the campaign fund of the hospital as representative as possible. Furthermore, it would be far more equitable. There are our adjoining towns of Wellesley and Watertown which frequently send cases to the Newton Hospital. But whether they do or not their citizens know that to have such an institution nearby means more than appears on the surface. Accident cases occurring in either of these towns can be rushed to the Newton Hospital. Wellesley's population is 9,049, Watertown's 25,480, while Weston has 2,966. We believe that the total justified million dollars asked for by the hospital trustees is not too high. Let these two sets of figures be combined.

BOY SCOUTS AND THEIR FATHERS

What better way for a father to observe Boy Scout Week (Feb. 7-13) than by reading a good book out loud with his boy? Once having started to do this, he will want to keep right on; for many boys' books are as fascinating to men as to their youngsters. And there is no easier way of getting close to a boy than by enjoying a book with him. Any of the following books would be good ones to read first, and all may be found in the Library:

The hike, postponed on account of the weather on January 29th, will take place on the morning of Friday, February 12th, weather permitting. Members who wish to hike, should meet at the home of Miss Margaret S. Ball, in front of the Post Office at 8.15 o'clock. The walk will be along the Charles River from Weston Bridge, past Norwega Tower to Roberts Crossing. Snowshoes will be in vogue if the weather is favorable.

Two clubs are offering the enjoyment and information to be appreciated through Drama Classes, notice of which follows:

Newtonville Woman's Club

The class in Dramatics, formed by members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, will meet at the Junior High School Tuesday afternoon, February 9th, at 3 o'clock. The subject is "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" by Moliere. The play will be read. If it were an open meeting there would be the prospect that the hall would be filled. A program of this wholesome promise would not need the urge of some lectures of "all welcome."

The Hospital Committee will meet Thursday, February 11th, at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kellogg, 66 Prescott St. The baby clothes made by this committee are highly appreciated at the hospital where the numerous arrivals call for many of these little garments.

UNDEEN NEWTONVILLE... A class in gardening will be held in March to which members and their friends will be welcome. The teacher, Miss Elizabeth Pattee, is a graduate of the Lathrop School of Landscape Architecture. Mrs. Raymond Thornton, Chairman of the Flower Committee, will receive the names of those desiring to take this attractive course.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Drama Class is to meet Tuesday morning in the Parish House of the Episcopal Church, to continue the reading of modern plays. Mrs. R. E. Schirmer will be in charge of the program, and will be assisted by several of the club members in reading "The Detour" by Owen Davis, who, it will be remembered, was winner of the Pulitzer prize for his "Ice Bound," read by the class last season.

Those who did not buy tickets for the entire course of five readings, will be allowed to come in on single admissions for the remaining three readings, or may buy a ticket for the three at a reduced price. It isn't always that desirable opportunity knocks twice at life's door even among women's clubs, and this offered to Newton Highlands women is worthy of appreciation.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

American Home Committee Day will be observed on Friday, the 12th, by the West Newton Women's Educational Club, in Players' Small Hall. Luncheon will be served at 12.30 o'clock, and there is to be a sale of books, candy and foods. Mrs. Harry B. Burnham, Chairman of the Massachusetts State Federation American Home Committee, is to be the guest of honor, and will give a talk on "Poetry and Dish Washing," after the business meeting, which opens at 2.30 o'clock. It is an OPEN MEETING, a fact that will be a pleasing announcement, as the title of Mrs. Burnham's talk is curiosity-provoking. Mrs. C. S. Angell is Chairman of the day.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. W. J. Bicknell is providing a most delightful outing and entertainment for club members, for the meeting of the Shakespeare Club of February 13th, by inviting them to be her guests for luncheon at 37½ Beacon street, Boston, the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association, a luncheon place that is most attractive. After this unusual hospitality, the club will enjoy the Quiz which is under the charge of Mrs. H. E. Durgin.

Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

Eliot Church will be the objective of all wise Newton women on Saturday afternoon, the 13th, when the Women's Auxiliary is offering temptation in a most timely Food Sale, commencing at 1 o'clock at that date. No better day than Saturday could be chosen for displaying dainty and appetizing foods, and no worthier object could be aided by the expenditure of money than that of this club in acquiring additions to their fund.

FREE LECTURE

On Monday, February 8, a free lecture on Interior Decoration and Home Building will be given at the Studios, Room 511, 420 Boylston St., Boston at 3 P. M. and again at 8 P. M. The same lecture will be given every Monday during the month of February at the same time. This will be of particular interest to those who wish to professionalize the work as they can earn as they learn.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The Blue Triangle Club spent Monday evening, February 1st, doing service work, under the direction of Emma M. Menge. While the girls worked Martha O. Boothby rendered a few selections, with Mrs. Effie E. Nagel at the piano, which helped to make the evening a most pleasant one.

The second Board meeting for the year 1926 will be held next Wednesday evening with a supper at 6.30. Miss Julia Capen, City Secretary of the National Board, will be the speaker. This evening is being looked forward to with great pleasure by the members. Miss Capen will be in Newton all day Wednesday and part of Thursday to meet with any committees, who desire her advice in planning the work for the coming year.

The Tringle Club, made up of girls from nine to twelve years of age, will have a Valentine party on February 9th, at 2.45. A slight charge is being made for refreshments and all the girls are bringing valentines for gifts to each other.

The Junior High School Girl Reserves are also having a Valentine party. Each girl is bringing a small sum for refreshments and preparing a valentine as a gift.

The High School Girl Reserves, instead of having a Valentine party, on the 12th, are planning to attend the play to be given by the Blue Triangle Club.

"THE COOL COLLEGIANS"

Have you made plans for either next Friday or Saturday, the 12th and 13th, to see "The Cool Collegians"?

All the members taking part are Newton girls, which makes it much more interesting. They are as follows: Alta V. Blakely, Donata Lombardi, Elsie Moulder, Paula F. Melanson, Muriel Anderson, Marguerite M. Womboldt and Harriette M. Hudson.

This comedy is being coached by Miss Evelyn Cunningham and will be held in the Young Women's Christian Association auditorium at 251 Washington street. Between the acts there will be vocal selections by Martha O. Boothby and dancing by Miss Florence Fitzgerald. There will be dancing both evenings.

DEATH OF MR. EDWARDS

William Pierpont Edwards died suddenly Sunday morning at his home, 31 Grant avenue, Newton Centre. He was born in Bromfield street, Boston, a son of Pierpont Edwards, who conducted a large grocery business on Massachusetts avenue, and at one time he was a member of the firm of Luke & Edwards. Of late years he had been associated with Winslow Brothers & Smith Company of Lincoln street. Mr. Edwards was a great-grandson of Jacob Edwards, one of the original settlers of Southbridge, and spent his summers there. One of his ancestors was William Edwards, who helped found Hartford in 1630. He was a grand-nephew of Secretary of State William Larned Marcy, and was a direct descendant of Commodore Charles Morris of the U. S. S. Constitution.

He is survived by his widow, who was Mary Alden of Camden, Me.; and three children, William A. of Newton Centre; Eleanor Edwards, who is now abroad; and Mrs. George Melcher of the Hotel Charlesgate.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at his late residence. The services were conducted by Rev. W. Masses of the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill. The bearers were Zena Sears, Frederick W. Skilton, Harry Allen, Roscoe S. Davidson, John M. Kendrick and Charles Sears. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

MAPPING THE EUROPEAN SKY

Work of Photographers, It is Believed, Will Be Productive of Highly Important Results.

An ambitious scheme to map the entire sky of Europe is being carried out under the direction of the British weather bureau. The bureau, as a preliminary to the larger undertaking, has already successfully mapped the sky of France. Professional weather observers, as well as amateur photographers, in all parts of the continent are to be asked to assist. The work is intended to help the science of meteorology, the progress of which in recent years has been due in no little measure to the synoptic cards on which are reported simultaneous observations made at different stations. It is thought that even more important results and much more useful data will be obtained from synoptic photographs of the sky. The photographers will be asked to co-operate on lines much the same as were adopted in mapping the sky of France, an undertaking that was completed a month ago, and the results of which are now being analyzed. Exposures will be made daily, probably over a period of a week or two, twice a day, once at 9 o'clock in the morning and again in the afternoon. The photographs will be sent to the national weather bureau, where the causes of the weather conditions at the time will be retraced from them.

WRITES OF LIFE IN PERSIA

Cutoms and Costumes Were Something of a Shock to Observant American Visitors.

Arthur Sherburne Hardy writes interestingly of Persian costumes in "Things Remembered." He describes that of the ladies of the court as "a caricature of the costume of the corps de ballet, a dress which had captivated the shah's fancy when visiting Europe" and which spread generally through the upper circles of society. As to the costumes in general, the streets of Teheran offer none of those brilliant color effects which dazzle the eye in India, Mr. Hardy says.

Among other national peculiarities which the author found it difficult to become accustomed to was the apparent complete disregard of the passage of time, and the popular disregard of the importance of punctuality. He tells some interesting things about Persian rugs, some of which, he says, receive treatment as regards dirt which would shock a New England housekeeper. For the Persian spreads his rug wherever he may happen to be, to rest, to eat, to say his evening prayer. The gloss which comes with age he attributes to his bare or stockinged feet.

Riches of the Ruhr Basin.

The Ruhr basin in Germany, extending 32 miles to the east of the Rhine, and practically the center or headquarters of industrial Germany, is one of the richest coal and iron regions in the world, remarks the Detroit News. It has the second greatest coal field, is the seat of the great Krupp works (at Essen), and contains a number of other manufacturing towns. Ruhr not only takes the lead in Germany in the production of iron and steel implements and machinery, but it also produces great quantities of salt and textiles. With only 40 per cent of its coal fields being worked, the Ruhr valley before the World war was producing 90,000,000 tons of coal a year, and it also produced 5,000,000 tons of pig iron.

The valley is naturally of great importance—both from an industrial and from a military and a strategic point of view.

Isolated From the World.

Lonely St. Kilda, one of the outer Hebrides islands, with a population of 75, is just nine months behind the news of the world. When the West Highland steamer Hebrides started for St. Kilda on May 19, she took a big consignment of newspapers, periodicals and books to help the fishermen and their families catch up with the news, or to get acquainted with some of the latest best sellers. For many years the number of inhabitants has remained about the same. During the war the Germans destroyed a wireless station there, and since then the St. Kildans have had no connection with the outside world other than the very infrequent visits of the good ship Hebrides.

Audiences Throw Off Heat.

Exciting plays and motion pictures cause the bodily temperature of audiences to rise and result in the throwing off of heat so that judicious theater owners utilize such plays as a substitute for fuel, according to a Boston professor of note, who says that he had made actual tests on theater audiences in Boston playhouses, and asserts that many theater owners overlooking this phenomena lower their heat supply as acts approach "the end." Fat persons, according to Professor Miller, give much more heat than thin ones as well as greater moisture, which is also beneficial since the average theater atmosphere is rather dry.—Scientific American.

Eastern Hauteur.

The sister of one of my friends recently married a Bostonian, writes Baird Leonard in the New York Morning Telegraph. "And where are you from, my dear?" asked an ancient dowager, surveying her through a lorgnette at the first function given for her in her husband's home town. "From Texas and Missouri." "Mercy! Is it necessary to mention both places?"

WOMEN VOTERS

The World Cause of the Reservations recently adopted by the Senate was the subject of an informal talk by Mrs. Helen M. Talbot, special representative of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association before the Newton League of Women Voters on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Myron Davis, 37 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville.

Mrs. Talbot believes that the reservations were intended chiefly for home consumption. She characterized the reservation regarding financial relationship of the United States to the World Cause as international bad manners. Mrs. Talbot emphasized the importance of this country's membership in the world cause because of the economic influence of the United States.

Rev. Francisco Argento suggested that the Newton League might do a good work in bringing together the various nationalities represented in the Newtons.

NEWTON CLUB CONCERT

The monthly Sunday afternoon concert under the auspices of the Newton Club will be held next Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, the item in our last issue that it was to be held on January 31st being an error.

The program will be given by the Knickerbocker Club of Boston, including Norman Arnold, first tenor; Roy Harlow, second tenor; Walter Kidder, baritone; Cameron Steele, bass, with Robert Nichols as accompanist. Mr. Kidder is the bass at the Eliot Church, Newton, and Mr. Nichols will be remembered as the efficient producer of the 1925 Newton Club Minstrel Show. This quaint concert won the Keith Circuit Contest as the best in New England.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Albert E. Stevens of Brookline and Mrs. Elbridge W. Newton of Somerville will be the hostesses at the matinee auction bridge party at the Commonwealth Country Club, Monday, February 8th. They will be assisted by Mmes. William R. Reed, of Newton Highlands, William R. Sampson of Boston, William A. Schick Jr., Samuel J. Shallow, Lester R. Smith and W. L. Stone of Brookline.

This is a club function and is in behalf of the Fatherless Children of France.

On Sunday next there will be moving pictures and music at the club house from four to six for the enjoyment of the members and their guests.

DEATH OF MR. HASKELL

Mr. Frank S. Haskell, a resident of Newton for the past three years, died last Friday at his home on Morse street, after several weeks' illness. Mr. Haskell was born in Deer Isle, Me., the son of Capt. George C. and Sarah E. Haskell and was 58 years of age. In his youth he followed the sea and travelled extensively all over the world. For the past twenty-five years he has been connected with the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

He was a member of Tremont Temple of Boston, of Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F. and of the Telephone Pioneer Association.

He is survived by a widow and one son, George E. Haskell of Dedham. Funeral services were held from his late home on Sunday afternoon, Rev. James Ryder of Tremont Temple officiating and the interment was in Ridgeland Cemetery, Watertown.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The annual Guest Night of the Mothers' Association was held in the Auburndale Congregational Church on Wednesday evening. There were about eighty-five members and friends present. Music for the evening was furnished by the Auburndale Musical Club. Miss Clara Spence of Maple street was the reader and gave several very pleasing selections from Kipling and from Victor Hugo.

Refreshments were served and Mrs. Harold O. Cook was in charge of the evening.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The conductor, Mr. William Lester Bates, expressed the wish at the last rehearsal that all those who intend to take part at the next concert would come in at the rehearsal next Tuesday evening. He expressed much satisfaction with the work the chorus is doing on Gounod's "Redemption," the beautiful numbers of which are proving very inspiring to the singers. He complimented particularly the tenor and bass sections. They have much to do in this oratorio, as each of these parts frequently divides into two, making a complete male quartet. Rehearsals each Tuesday night at Central church, Newtonville, at 7.45.

LODGES

The Newton Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold a whist party next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Dennison Hall, Newtonville.

Dalhousie Lodge of Masons will hold its sixth dinner and entertainment next Wednesday evening with S. Platt Jones, character study man and monologist as the attraction.

Language of Russia.

The language spoken by most of the people of Russia is Russian, which is one of the Slavic languages that include Polish, Serbian, Bulgarian, Czechoslovak, etc. It has three chief dialects, Little Russian, White Russian and Great Russian; Little Russian is spoken in the Ukraine, White Russian in several departments of western Russia and Great Russian in the remainder of the country.

Goggles Save Tears.

By wearing a pair of cheap motorist goggles, such as purchased at a 10-cent store, while grating horseradish or peeling onions, you will have no need to shed tears.

MUSICAL COMEDY

A very enthusiastic audience filled Parish Hall of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, on Wednesday evening, to witness the musical comedy "The Royal Cut Up."

The leading characters, who took their parts unusually well, were: The King, Charles Valley, the Princess, Mildred Beardsley, the Duchess, Helen Bosworth, the Slave, Hall Preston, the Attendant, Ruth Hutchinson, the Sultor, Lewis Perry, the Villain, Roger Purny, the Lover, William Hall and Tutti Frutti, Donald Smith. The singing and dancing of the eight young girls of the chorus was greatly enjoyed.

Dancing followed the play and the music was by Albert Allen of Allston. Much credit is due Mr. Arthur Merriman, coach, Mr. Frederick Merriman, stage director and Miss Adelaide Hall and Mrs. P. M. Wood, who so ably superintended the whole affair.

DEATH OF MRS. JONES

Friends of Mrs. Margaret C. Jones, a well-known and respected resident of Auburn street, West Newton for many years and the wife of Thomas E. Jones, a letter carrier in the Newtonville District, were shocked to learn of her death last week Wednesday. Mrs. Jones had been ill only a few days and had been a patient at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where she died shortly after an operation. She was a prominent member of St. Bernard's Church, where she was actively interested in charity work and was a member of St. Bernard's Aid Society and the Ladies' Sodality. Mrs. Jones leaves besides her husband, five sons, Edward, Leo Vincent, Theodore and Paul and two daughters, Margaret and Sister Madeleine Pauline, a teacher at Halifax, N. S. She is also survived by two brothers and two sisters.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Boy Scout Week will be observed next week beginning with Monday.

Norwega Council will observe the week with a Scout rally at the High School gym on Tuesday evening at 7.30.

All scouts are expected to attend in uniform their own church on Sunday, February 7th.

Parents and friends of the Scouts are invited to make a special effort to visit the troops at their meetings during that week.

Every Scout is expected to renew the Scout oath and law at 8 o'clock Monday evening in union with thousands of other Scouts throughout the country in recognition of the 16th anniversary of the birth of Scouting.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending January 31—Patients in the hospital, 104; patients paying as much as cost of care or more, 50; patients paying less than cost of care, 26; free patients (including babies), 25.

During the month of January there were 34 babies born in the hospital, 18 girls and 16 boys; there were 492 patients treated by the out-patient department, 24 treated at the eye clinic, 34 accident cases, 168 operating cases, 203 X-ray cases, 46 social service calls made at the hospital and 23 at homes, 13 patients were transferred by the social service car.

Miss Bertha N. Allen, superintendent of the hospital, who underwent an operation weeks ago, is improving.

Sunday evening Mr. Henry Whitmore entertained the nurses with the story of automobile trips which he and Mrs. Whitmore have taken through the beautiful villages of Massachusetts, he told of their historic interest and anecdotes of the inhabitants. The talk was given in front of an open fire, and afterwards Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spaulding sang.

LOAN EXHIBITION

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. of Newton will hold a loan exhibition of old and modern hand-made quilts at the Parish House of Grace Church, Newton, on Monday, Feb. 8th. Mrs. F. W. Bakeman, Mrs. Laurens MacLure and Mrs. John Parker Holmes are in charge and will be in colonial costume.

The collection will be a most interesting one as well as of historical value, containing many quilts dating back to the first of the last century with their intricate and beautiful patterns showing the wonderful hand work and patience of the women of a hundred years ago. There will also be more modern ones showing the hand work of a later date.

The exhibit will be open from 2 to 5.30 p. m. and from 7 to 9.30 p. m.

Miss Benjamin was given permission by Mr. Pollock to introduce the play to the public before its publication and later was warmly commended by him for the manner of her presentation. Since its publication it has received the warmest of press comments and Miss Benjamin's readings of it have been highly commended wherever she has been. "The Enemy" is considered one of the greatest forces for peace in the world today. The music for the service will be two piano solos by Miss Ethel M. Hutchinson and a trio consisting of violin, Glennys Pollard Thompson, piano, Ethel M. Hutchinson, and organ, George Pratt Maxim.

TREE MADE MARRIAGE ALTAR

Romantic Use to Which Beautiful Forest Specimen Has Been Put in Texas Community.

Man has discovered many uses for the beautiful trees that Mother Nature has provided him with, but the young and romantic lovers of San Saba, Tex., come forward with a new use, as they have turned a large, spreading live oak tree into a marriage altar, writes R. E. McNatt in American Forestry.

This huge oak, which is commonly known as the matrimonial altar, stands like a deserted giant in the middle of the public road on the edge of San Saba. All its companions have gone down before the onrush of man, but in spite of the fact that this one stands in the road, its huge size and beauty, and the tradition that goes with it, have saved it from the heavy swing of the woodman's ax.

Tradition in this part of the country has it that long before the white man invaded the valley, brave and daring Indian warriors and shy Indian maidens who had been snatched by the arrows of little Dan Cupid stole from the wigwams and made love under the boughs of this huge oak, while the moon sent its mystic and silvery rays down through the leaves.

Whether the Indian used the matrimonial altar to woo his future spouse is not known, but it is a widely known fact that some of the oldest and most prominent citizens of this section of the country were united for life while under the tree, and today lovers still seek the shady boughs of the spreading oak. In the spring, especially in June, as many as three and four couples are sometimes married under the tree on one Sunday afternoon.

JUNGLE EXACTS ITS TRIBUTE

Thousands of Human Beings Annually Lose Their Lives in India Through Wild Beasts and Snakes.

India still pays its annual tribute of human life to the jungle. In fact the number of deaths from snake bites or the attacks of wild animals has steadily increased during the last few years, a fact which has been attributed to the great floods, a writer in the Washington Star reports. The rising waters have driven the serpents out of the lowlands up into the villages, and have diminished through drowning the natural food supply of the larger wild beasts.

According to the latest annual figures available, 55 persons were killed by elephants, 25 by hyenas, 109 by bears, 351 by leopards, 319 by wolves, 853 by tigers and 699 by other animals, including wild hogs. No less than 22,478 died from the bite of poisonous snakes. The grand total of mortality is something like 25,000.

The losses on the part of the inhabitants of the jungle were nearly but not quite so great as those of their human enemies and the domesticated animals combined. Ninety-one thousand one hundred and four snakes and over 19,000 wild beasts of various kinds were killed.

A great many cases of snake bite were successfully treated with Brunton lancet and permanganate of potash, but it is nevertheless impossible to assert the value of this treatment, since no one knows whether all, or even a large number, of the cases treated were caused by the bites of really venomous snakes.

Bamboo Reinforces Concrete.

Bamboo, which has been chemically treated, is used as a reinforcement for concrete in Japan, according to the magazine Concrete. Henry C. Hitchcock, American consul at Nagasaki, states that the chemicals used in treating the bamboo are apparently known only to the few who have made use of them.

"Bamboo is occasionally used without chemicals to protect it from decay in the construction of concrete ditches, small culverts and the like in districts where there is a great deal of sulphur in the soil and sulphur gas in the air," says the writer in Concrete. "This is done because it is believed that bamboo is not so quickly destroyed by the sulphur as ordinary reinforcing would be."

Parrots Lose Estate

A trust fund of $500 which was provided in the will of the late George Hatt, theatrical lawyer, of New York, to maintain his two parrots after his death was overruled by the Appellate division of the Supreme court.

The court instructed the executors to turn the two parrots over to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, there to be "treated tenderly and in a manner worthy of the status and pretensions of that society."

The rest of the will was upheld, including a bequest of $12,000 to the Society for Ethical Culture for the teaching of sex hygiene to children.

Philippine Trade Statistics.

Sixty-three per cent of the total trade of the Philippine Islands during the year 1922 was with the United States, compared to 37 per cent for all other countries doing business with the islands, according to the annual report of the collector of customs. The imports into the Philippines from the United States during 1922 amounted to $47,738,000, and the exports to the United States were valued at $64,111,600. Imports from countries other than the United States for 1922 were valued at $32,559,319, and the exports amounted to $31,471,697.

hall. Coat rooms will be located in each class room, and provisions will be made for parking bicycles. The building will occupy less than a quarter of the lot purchased for its site and will not be near the brook.

Alderman Flitts explained that the architects will proceed rapidly with the working drawings, which will be ready in April. The aldermen will then be asked to appropriate money for the construction of the building, and the school should be ready for occupancy in September, 1927.

Alderman Weeks said that it will be a problem to finance the building of the school, but this problem can be met either by borrowing, or by paying the expense out of the tax levy. Mr. Weeks opined that the expense of building this school will not materially increase the tax rate.

Alderman Heathcote feared that a repetition of the legal muddle experienced in the building of the Underwood School might be witnessed in the building of the new school. City Solicitor Bartlett assured Mr. Heathcote that the city has a clear title to the property. Mr. Heathcote remarked that he was glad to observe from the plans that this school will be attractive in appearance and not of the monotonous flat roof type, typical of most of the school buildings erected in Newton in late years.

THE MASSACHUSETTS BABY

Those who have been anxious to hear Dean Walter S. Athearn of the Boston University School of Religious Education, a man equally well-known for his striking work on the Sunday School problem, and as a forceful and vivid speaker, will be given an opportunity to do so next Wednesday evening, February tenth, at 7.45, when he will deliver an address in the main auditorium of West Newton Unitarian Church, under the joint auspices of the Laymen's League and the Women's Alliance of that church, on "The Massachusetts Baby and How It Grows," a paper on the influences playing upon the children and youth of our day. There will also be a short program by the organist, Mr. E. Rupert Sircorn, preceding the address. The church is offering this in the nature of a community evening, and hopes to welcome many people from the other Newtons under its roof.

VOL. LIV.—NO. 23

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1926.

TERMS, $3.00 A YEAR

EXPENSIVE STORM

The snow storm of Thursday, February 11th, cost the city $21,000 for labor and hired equipment. The total payroll for the week ending February 11th was $16,992.92. The Street Department had 630 on its payroll for that week; 247 being men employed on the emergency snow work. Newton has 37 miles of streets, accepted and unaccepted. All the main streets were kept open, and some of the side streets. All the available teams and trucks that could be obtained were hired. The cost of plowing the streets averaged $10.25 a mile. There are 450 miles of sidewalks in the city to be plowed, but it was impossible under the conditions to clear all of them.

The statutory limit on expenditure of money by the Street Department for the month of February is $24,000, but because of the heavy expense entailed by the storm of February 11th, and the added burden of the storm of February 10th, the Department has requested the aldermen to appropriate $30,000 additional. If this request is complied with, the city will have spent $44,000 in keeping its streets open for traffic during the current month. The statutory limit of money to be spent by the Street Department, (unless special action such as requested is taken) is determined by the largest amount expended in any one month during the preceding year.

Street Commissioner Stuart has requested the city government to appropriate money to purchase two 5-ton Holt tractors and snow plows. These machines are in common use by cities in many states; communities much smaller than Newton, in this state, have acquired tractors of this type. One such tractor can accomplish much more than a number of ordinary trucks in clearing snow from the streets. They are especially valuable in removing the big drifts, which even the most powerful truck with a plow attached, has great difficulty in bucking. Newton has been very fortunate since the two big storms occurred, in not having any fires on the side streets where lifts make it practically impossible to use the fire apparatus to travel. Not only would the Holt tractors enable the Street Department to remove snow at a much smaller cost than does the present equipment, but they would permit many more residential streets to be cleared of drifts, and remove the hazard of inability to furnish proper protection against fire.

The "Boston Traveler," the other evening, had an editorial lauding the officials of Newton for their efficiency, not alone in the present emergency, but for the co-operation they accord residents of this city at all times.

ON THE AIR

On Thursday evening part of the radio program broadcasted from WEEI consisted of violin solos by Miss Josephine Monahan. Some of the selections played by Miss Monahan, were composed by Frelan O. Stanley of Waverley avenue. Miss Monahan also used a record by Mr. Stanley. The Stanley brothers invented the steam automobile, which for many years was manufactured in this city and Bridgeport, Conn. Like other famous auto manufacturers, Henry Ford, Mr. Stanley has always been a lover of music. One of his pet hobbies is making violins.

K. OF C. LADIES' NIGHT

Newton Council, K. of C., will hold a ladies' Night next Tuesday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Newtonville Hotel. Lecturer John J. Fitzpatrick has provided an entertainment, in which Auburndale talent is in evidence.

NEWTON SPORTS

SWIMMERS IN TIE

The Newton high school swimming team was held to a tie by the Boston English high school team yesterday afternoon in an exciting meet in the Newton Y tank. At the conclusion of the list of events the two teams were deadlocked with a score of 34 points each. Sullivan of Boston English was the star of the meet with first in the 40-yard backstroke and a tie for first in the 40-yard free-stroke.

In the former event the visiting swimmer nosed out Osborne, the Newton captain by only a foot while in the former he was unable to wrest the lead from Lodge of the local team. A slip on the wet tile as he was about to take off cost him the race as he lost five yards at that time. He made up the five yards and succeeded in tying the Newton entry.

Birnbaum of English scored a win in the 100-yard breaststroke in an exciting finish beating Essen of Newton by little more than a foot.

Captain Osborne of the local men was the high scorer for his team with a first in the 100-yard freestyle and a second in the 40-yard backstroke. Newton won the relay.

The summary:
40-yard Freestyle—Tie for first between Sullivan of English and Lodge of Newton; Soule, Newton, third. Time, 22.2-58.

40-yard Backstroke—Won by Sullivan, English; Osborne, Newton, second; Wakefield, Newton, third. Time, 26s.

100-yard Freestyle—Won by Osborne, Newton; Merrill, Newton, second; Hamilton, English, third. Time, 1m. 4s.

100-yard Breaststroke—Won by Birnbaum, English; Essen, Newton, second; Casey, English, third. Time, 1m. 26s.

200-yard Freestyle—Won by Merrill, Newton; Shinnery, English, second; Mahoney, English, third. Time, 2m. 37s.

Dive—Won by Casey, English; Green, Newton, second; Browne, English, third.

FEEDS THE BIRDS

The pleas of the press to people to feed the birds while the ground is covered by snow, have not fallen on deaf ears, at least so far as one Newton man is concerned. "Billy" Riggs, of Centre street, can be seen daily in front of his store, breaking up a liberal supply of bread crumbs to feed the pigeons that frequent this locality.

ABOUT TOWN

"Andy" Prior, Newton's popular Sealer of Weights and Measures, in common with his fellow sealers in most cities of the state, is opposed to Senate Bill 168, introduced by Walter McLane. The purpose of this bill is to allow appeals from decisions of the Director of Standards to the Commissioner of Labor and Industries.

The Director of Standards must, of necessity, obtain a thorough knowledge of the various types of weighing and measuring devices in use in this state. The Commissioner of Labor has not the time nor the opportunity to become qualified to pass expert judgment on weighing machines and measures, and it is impracticable to give him veto power over the Director of Standards, according to the vote passed by the State Association of Sealers of Weights and Measures.

Recently the Director of Standards made a ruling forbidding the use of oil measures commonly used by garages and dealers in auto supplies. These measures have a false bottom, operating on a hinge, which regulates the flow of the oil. They are so constructed that there is always some oil remaining in the measure which cannot flow out. The Director of Standards claims that these measures prevent purchasers from getting the full amount of oil they pay for.

Luther Burbank, the "plant wizard" avows that there is no life in the hereafter. According to Luther, when we die, we are dead, and that is the end of us. One reason he gives for disbelieving in a future existence is "that there is not room enough in the universe to provide standing room, or flying room for the countless humans who have shuffled off this mortal coil in past ages, and who will shuffle off in the future."

This is a poor objection on Mr. Burbank's part. Just a week or two ago, astronomers told the world that they have determined, from photographs, the existence of additional systems hundreds of sextillions of miles distant. These stars and their planets are 70,000 light years away. A world removed a light year from this tiny sphere, is 63,000 times as distant as our sun; which is a mere 93,000,000 miles from the earth. As more powerful telescopes reveal the fact that the universe has no limits, it would seem that the departed of this and other worlds, have ample space in which to wander around.

When Jules Verne wrote "Around the World in 80 Days," it was considered a fantastic tale; but Nellie Bly bettered this time a few years after. Now, in modern airships, can make a flight at the speed of 150 miles an hour or better for a considerable distance. If humans in the spirit state, as spiritists, would travel as rapidly as the electrons which bring radio impulses to our receiving sets, all the souls of the departed, would not only have plenty of room in which to exist; but, would need eternity in which to visit all of the worlds in the Universe. Mr. Burbank should not allow any doubt of lack of space to influence him as a reason for not believing in a future existence.

With few exceptions, the sidewalks in front of stores at Newton Corner, were promptly and thoroughly cleaned of snow after the recent storms. The sidewalks not cleaned, became icy and were allowed to remain in that condition, to the annoyance and danger of pedestrians. It is significant, that in more than one case such sidewalks were in front of "chain stores." The sidewalks in front of stores owned by multi-million corporations should be cleaned of snow and ice, just as sidewalks in front of stores owned by local residents, are kept safe for the public.

At least two persons in this city suffered broken legs as results of slipping on icy sidewalks. The neglect to remove snow from walks, causes particular hardship to aged and infirm persons, who are compelled by circumstances to travel out during the winter months.

One of the charter members who was present at the 40th Anniversary of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. E. was Jonathan E. Horrigan of Church street. Before the fire department was composed of permanent men, Mr. Horrigan served for many years as a

LIBERTY DOLL SHOP

The play, "The Liberty Doll Shop," under the auspices of the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Messiah, was given Thursday evening and was attended by a large audience.

The proprietor of the shop was Mrs. Chipman, Marie the assistant was Mrs. Cortwell, and William Pettipas and Herbert Budding were the porters.

The shop was filled with all kinds of dolls. There were baby dolls, rag dolls, a Chinese doll, a French doll, a Russian doll, a Red Cross doll, talking dolls, and Raggedy Ann (Mrs. H. B. Budding), who gave an original dance.

And then there was the beautiful Liberty Doll (Mrs. W. B. Thelling). The Colonial dolls (Mrs. Dow and Miss Baxter) danced the minuet. The Chinese dance was by Cynthia Cortwell, the Tulip Dance by Janet Gwillim, and three dolls, Miss Veturia Brinkley, Miss Mabel Brennan and Miss Mabel Bradley, represented Italy, Ireland and Russia, and gave dances typical of their countries. Miss Jean Bradley did toe dancing and Miss Mabel Bradley of Medford did specialty toe dancing.

Mrs. Charles Hector was the French doll and the soloist of the evening. The closing number was a march by the dolls and singing by Mrs. Hector.

B. & A. DELIVERS THE GOODS

While the other railroads of the state were badly tied up because of the two recent snowstorms, the trains of the Boston & Albany were running well on schedule time. Even the freight trains plowed through the blizzards without any great delays. The Boston papers had very favorable comments on the accomplishment of the "B & A" in keeping things moving despite the unusual difficulties faced during the past two weeks. A larger part of the credit must be given to the Superintendent of the Boston division of the railroad, John E. Hammill. Mr. Hammill is a Newton boy, but has lived for a number of years just across the line in Watertown. As a schoolboy, he started carrying messages at the local telegraph office, meantime learning the intricacies of the code. Entering the employ of the Boston & Albany, he was rapidly advanced to the positions of train dispatcher and train-master; and upon the death of the late Philip Morrison, Mr. Hammill was appointed Superintendent of the Boston division.

Another man well known in this city who helps materially in conquering the "blizzards" is General Yardmaster Ed Morrison, who, like Mr. Hammill, commutes from the Newton station.

MRS. MARY BRADY

Mrs. Mary Brady of 283 Cherry street died at her late residence on February 8th. She was 60 years of age and had lived in West Newton for over 40 years. Her funeral services were held on Thursday morning at St. Bernard's Church, and interment was in Calvary Cemetery. She is survived by her husband and one son.

member of Engine 1 Company. A large part of his service was as assistant foreman and foreman. The latter designation was later changed to Captain. The call firemen were supposed to answer every alarm, no matter at what hour of the day or night, and under all weather conditions. Most of the call firemen were very faithful in responding, and Mr. Horrigan's record was one of the best.

MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Club of West Newton met last evening in the parish house of the Unitarian Church. After an excellent supper a double quartet furnished the musical part of the evening. Alderman Harry W. Fitts, chairman of the Public Buildings committee of the city government, gave a brief but clear statement of the proposed new Junior High school to be erected on Washington street for the West Newton and Auburndale district. Mr. Fitts stated that the building would probably cost about a half million and that it was hoped to let the contract this spring and have the building ready for occupancy by September 1927. The school will accommodate 700 pupils.

Mr. Charles E. Gibson, chairman of the Newton Planning Board, urged the taking of the triangle of land at Walnut, Homer streets and Commonwealth avenue for municipal purposes and called upon Mr. Henry Bally, chairman of the Assessors, to speak on the financial ability of the city to acquire this land. Mr. Bally also urged the taking of the land and believed the regular increase in valuation would enable the city to handle the financial end of the matter. He called attention to the fact that this spot was the exact geographical centre of the city and was touched by wards and precincts representing over $72,000,000 of the $118,000,000 valuation of the city.

Hon. Jay R. Benton, attorney general of the state, was the principal guest and speaker of the evening. Mr. Benton sketched the various duties of his office covering a surprising number and wide range of topics. He told of a recent escape from the State Prison and exhibited the ingenious tools made in secret by the men who broke away from prison. Mr. Benton told some of the amusing incidents in connection with his work, including some remarkable by-laws passed by some Massachusetts towns and which were sent to his office for approval.

Mr. Benton suggested the formation of a Crimes Commission, similar to organizations now in operation in Chicago, Cleveland, Baltimore and Detroit. A commission which would investigate the causes of crime and keep complete and up to date records of criminal acts, and the work of the courts and prosecuting officers.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

There will be a Sunday afternoon musicale and tea next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 P. M. with Charles Bennett, baritone, George Brown, cellist and Ella Planders, accompanist.

In spite of the bad street conditions a good-sized audience assembled Tuesday night to enjoy the dramatic entertainment provided by the Committee.

Two plays were given, "Op of Me Thumb," in which the parts were taken by Messrs. Dorothy E. Bushnell, Grace E. Brown, Virginia Stokes, Anna S. Parlett, Mrs. R. W. Bartlett and Dr. L. H. Naylor. Dr. Naylor also took part in the second play, "Yellow Roses," in which he was assisted by Mrs. A. C. Cummings.

MRS. MARY W. WOOD

Mrs. Mary W. Wood, widow of Alonzo Wood, died at her late home in Lincoln on February 7th. Her funeral was held at Lincoln on Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. Mrs. Wood was the mother of Mrs. J. Frank Edgerly, and formerly resided on Highland avenue, Newtonville.

BRANCH LIBRARY

Under the leadership of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, which has already done so much to make Newton Centre an attractive place of residence, a drive will be started on March 1 to raise the money for the much needed reading room and branch library, which was more fully described in a circular letter distributed throughout the village last summer. Such an addition to the community conveniently situated near the schoolhouses and the playground, designed with a pleasing exterior, with plenty of light and with good ventilation, with cozy quarters for readers, with pictures on the walls and plants in the windows, with books on the shelves that tell of the birds and the flowers and the trees, that describe the stirring adventures on land and sea of great travellers and explorers, that recount the wonderful achievements in machinery, that place before the reader the very best of the standard works in fiction, poetry, history, and biography, and just within easy reach useful reference books, is a factor in community life beyond all estimate in dollars and cents. In such a cause the efforts of the Improvement Association should be enthusiastically supported by individuals, clubs, and organizations. Another great asset will then be added to the well-stocked treasury of good things already enjoyed by Newton Centre.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

The Sunday to Wednesday program at the Community is headed by "The Wanderer," the eternal story of the wandering son. You see him leave home, you spend a fortune with him, the beautiful Greta Nissen, and Ernest Torrence as the shark of the ancient days, take him and you, to Babylon, and open the town with his fortune. The scenes of live ancient Babylon are as convincing as a certified check and when the storm and the earthquake and the wrath of God flash upon the city, you find yourself in a dramatic spell such as has never before been cast upon you by a motion picture. The production presents a remarkable cast including Ernest Torrence, Wm. Collier, Jr., Greta Nissen, Tyrone Power, Kathryn Williams, and Wallace Beery.

The companion picture, "The Scarlet Saint," adapted from the story, "The Lady Who Played Fiddle," by George Beaumont, stars Mary Astor and Ben Lyon. The change of bill on Thursday presents Pola Negri in "A Woman of the World," a fascinating story adapted from the novel, "The Tattooed Countess." Miss Negri plays a serio-comedy role in a thoroughly American setting creating considerable commotion in a typical rural community giving her an unusual opportunity to display her ability as a comedienne.

In "Durand of the Bad Lands" Buck Jones gives his hosts of followers a full measure of entertainment.

HOLD CHARITY WHIST

A charity whist was held in Dennison Hall on Wednesday evening by Newton Branch of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild, in aid of the Little Sisters of the Poor. This order cares for the aged, regardless of race or creed. The party was under the direction of Mrs. John F. Gallagher.

OLD TIMERS' NIGHT

Newton Lodge of Elks observed "Past Exalted Rulers Night" at its meeting on Thursday. Two hundred and fifty members were to participate in the meeting, which was presided over by P. E. R. Oswald McCourt acting as Exalted Ruler. Mr. McCourt was assisted by Past Exalted Rulers Charles S. Ensign, Malcolm P. McKinnon, Willard L. Sampson, Bancroft Goodwin and Edwin O. Childs. Other past officers who participated were, George M. Cox, Burt Rich, Arthur W. Porter, Richard M. Lyons and Oswald Blakeley.

Remarks were made by the various past officers present. John Flood, the oldest member of the lodge, was given an ovation and responded in his usual happy vein. Mr. Flood, who is 80 years young, attends nearly every meeting of the lodge. Mavor Childs, Representative Everett Saltonstall and Representative Arthur Hollis, who are members of the lodge, spoke on the aims and accomplishments of the Order.

Mr. Charles Alexander, a member of the lodge, who starts today to reside at the Elks National Home in Bedford, Virginia, was tendered a farewell. The Elks National Home is located in the beautiful Shenandoah valley, in the foothills of the Blue Mountains.

Following the regular meeting a high class vaudeville program was provided by the Entertainment Committee, under the lead of Wilfred Chagnon. Newton Lodge will visit Arlington tonight, to enjoy the "circus" which is being given by Arlington Lodge of Elks.

POLICE NEWS

Stefano DeFino of Waltham paid $100 in the Newton Court on Tuesday; Vincenzo Sapietro of the same city received a sentence of six months in the House of Correction. Vincenzo appealed, perhaps he had been reading that the Cambridge institution is very overcrowded, and is apt to be uncomfortable. DeFino and Sapietro were caught last week driving a Ford sedan, which contained five gallons of alcohol, not in the radiator and cooling system.

It is probable that Vincenzo will sojourn at East Cambridge until the snow has gone and the flowers are in bloom. He was under a suspended sentence of six months from the Waltham court for another violation of the liquor law. Although the two Waltham residents were found guilty of illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor, they were acquitted on the charge of keeping and exposing liquor for sale.

Talk about David and Goliath! David had nothing on Bernard Carmichael of River street. Sunday night Bernard was driving by the corner of Washington and Auburn streets in a Ford sedan. A large seven ton Mack truck, employed by the city in plowing the streets, loomed in front of the Ford; but Bernard bucked right into it. While the Ford did not knock the Mack off the road, the impact did hurl to the street, Domenico Dorenzio who was riding on the wing of the plow; slightly injuring him. Carmichael was arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried on February 17.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

GET-TOGETHER NIGHT

The February meeting of the Newton Athletic Association will be held Monday evening, February 15, in the gymnasium of the high school. It will be known as a Get-together night when the members will welcome the 1925 football and baseball teams and the present hockey, track, and swimming teams. Light refreshments will be served and the high school athletes will be treated to a rare entertainment which the committee has arranged. All members are urged to be present to welcome the various teams.

PLAN LOCAL BASEBALL LEAGUE

A meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 21, at 3 P. M., in the Legion House in Wellesley for the purpose of forming a baseball league in the neighboring towns and cities. The Wellesley Athletic Club is sponsoring the idea and it is hoped that it will be possible to form a league with from eight to twelve clubs as members. Among the towns and cities which it is hoped will enter the league are Wellesley, Newton, Needham, Natick, Waltham, Framingham, Sherborn, Medfield, Dedham, Norwood, and Marlboro. With several teams in Newton there is room for at least two in the circuit and the backers of the project are desirous that representatives of these teams attend the coming meeting. The question of the standing of the league will come before the meeting and it will be decided at that time whether it will be an amateur or semi-pro organization. Games will be played Saturdays and Sundays. Any further information regarding the proposed league can be obtained from Mr. Albert E. Sanford of Wellesley, Tel. Congress 3305 during the day or Wel. 0559 in the evenings.

SPORT NOTES

Ed. Wilson of Newton, representing the B. A. A. placed third in the handicap one-mile walk at the B. A. A. games Saturday night. The Newton entry had a 15-second handicap, and at the half mile was leading Willie Platt of the Morningside A. C. of New York and the national champion, started from scratch and shortly after the seventh lap went into the lead. Wilson and Platt, the other B. A. A. entry, engaged in a duel for second place, which the latter, by a great burst of speed won by about ten yards.

Tom Clausen, the former Newton high star, and now a freshman at Holy Cross, was another local entry in the B. A. A. games. He ran on the Holy Cross varsity relay which defeated Boston College and on the Holy Cross freshman relay which won the event over six other yearling teams.

The Newton Tennis Club was pushed out of the lead in the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association series of matches last Saturday and is now in third place. Harvard took the local club over by a 4 to 1 score at Cambridge. W. H. Rice was the only Newton Centre player to win. Harvard Club made a clean sweep of its matches with the Neighborhood Club, which is in last place and went into the lead. The three teams are closely bunched at the top and with the last week of play at hand and an open affair. In Class C Lincoln's Inn took three out of five from the Newton Club while the Milton-Newton Centre match was postponed.

The Newton high school indoor track team is one of forty teams that are entered in the B. A. A. schoolboy games tomorrow at the Boston Arena. The orange and black relay quartet will face Medford and Brookline in a triangular affair.

The Harvard-B. A. A. hockey game Monday night had a very local tinge. Seven Newtonites appeared in the two lineups, four for the B. A. A. and three for the Crimson. George Owen played his usual fast game and connected for two of his team's four points. Clark Hodder, Joe Stubbs and Ted Learnard were the other local players with the Boston team. Courtland Cross, Clem Coady and Bill Ellison played for Harvard. A half-hour before game time the latter was declared ineligible to play in the remaining Harvard games, having made up during the mid-year a deficiency in his number of credits. The tall Newton boy earned his letter last year and his return to the lineup adds strength to the Crimson sextet.

It is rumored that Clem Coady, captain-elect of the Harvard football team, will not go out for baseball this coming spring. Mr. Manning was born in Boston and was 79 years of age.

Mr. Manning entered railroading in Providence in July, 1867, with the Boston & Providence Railroad, and a year later went to Peoria, Ill., with the Toledo, Peoria & Western Railroad. In 1870 he returned to Providence as assistant agent of the Providence & Worcester Railroad, later becoming general passenger agent of the Boston, Barre & Gardner Railroad at Worcester.

In 1879, Mr. Manning became agent of the Hoosac Tunnel Line at Worcester, and in 1880 came to Boston as Eastern passenger agent of the Fitchburg Railroad. In 1882 he entered the service of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway in Boston as traveling passenger agent, and six months later he was appointed general agent, which position he continued to fill until his death.

Mr. Manning was one of the organizers of the Association of Railroad and Steamboat Agents of Boston, and served on its executive committee until 1888, when he became president. For the last seventeen years he had been one of the trustees of the benefit fund of the organization.

He is survived by his widow and one son. Funeral services were held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Paul S. Phalen of the Unitarian church officiating, and the body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

ton's birthday, will be the date for the second set of contests while the final day will be announced later.

NEWTON Y WINS TWO

The Newton Y. M. C. A. first and second basketball teams met the Alpha Pi Club of Belmont for the return games on the Newton "Y" floor Wednesday night, and defeated them for the second time this season. The first team won 33 to 25, while the second team won an easy game 39 to 22. At the end of the first half of the first team game, the Alpha Pi Club team led 19 to 17, but in the second half Newton forged slowly ahead making 16 points to Alpha's 6. Shields, who has been playing regularly at forward and center, was substituted in Rae's position at guard, and played a good game at the defense position. MacGillivray, Brimblecom, and Eden scored for Newton, and Steele, Marsh, Stalling, and MacClain for Alpha. Cunningham continued as high scorer for the seconds with McDonnell a close second.

So far the first team has won six and lost six games, while the seconds have won eight and lost three. Saturday, February 13th, Newton plays Brockton at Brockton.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Edward V. Ambler, General Secretary of the Gloucester Y. M. C. A. will speak on the subject "From Gloucester to the Tropics with Uncle Sam," at the meeting of the Fellowship Club on Monday, February 15th.

Mr. Ambler, who is the author of a number of Naval Radio stories, has traveled by submarine and various naval craft, as well as a South Pacific Trader manned by a Singapore crew, in the collection of story material, and starts his journey from Gloucester, where he shows pictures of this famous old seaport, and thence to the tropics, and into a Central American jungle.

Any young man who is interested in this talk is invited to this meeting. Dinner is served at 6.30 and Mr. Ambler will begin speaking at seven. Mr. S. T. Emery of the firm of Gilmore-Rothery & Co. gave a very interesting talk last Monday, February 8th on Insurance. There will be no meeting of the Fellowship Club on February 22nd, Washington's Birthday.

ROTARY CLUB

At the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held Monday at the Woodland Golf Club, Mr. H. Howard Smith of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company spoke on the subject of "Gas, the Ally of Industry." Mr. Smith said that many people think of gas as being a means of lighting or cooking and overlook the enormous business which has been established in the various industries. In 1914, about 90 billion cubic feet of gas was used in this country while in 1925 it had increased to over 400 billion cubic feet. This he said was a long way from the time the first gas street light was placed at the corner of Broadway and Wall street, New York, and the people kept quite a distance away from fear of an explosion. Mr. Smith showed a number of lantern slides showing the use of gas in many manufacturing establishments.

Elaborate plans are being made for the Ladies' Night to be held next Tuesday at Lasell Seminary.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. Sam Winkley Manning, a resident of West Newton for thirty years, died last week Thursday at his home on Lenox street, after a long period of failing health. Mr. Manning was born in Boston and was 79 years of age.

Mr. Manning entered railroading in Providence in July, 1867, with the Boston & Providence Railroad, and a year later went to Peoria, Ill., with the Toledo, Peoria & Western Railroad. In 1870 he returned to Providence as assistant agent of the Providence & Worcester Railroad, later becoming general passenger agent of the Boston, Barre & Gardner Railroad at Worcester.

In 1879, Mr. Manning became agent of the Hoosac Tunnel Line at Worcester, and in 1880 came to Boston as Eastern passenger agent of the Fitchburg Railroad. In 1882 he entered the service of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway in Boston as traveling passenger agent, and six months later he was appointed general agent, which position he continued to fill until his death.

Mr. Manning was one of the organizers of the Association of Railroad and Steamboat Agents of Boston, and served on its executive committee until 1888, when he became president. For the last seventeen years he had been one of the trustees of the benefit fund of the organization.

He is survived by his widow and one son. Funeral services were held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Paul S. Phalen of the Unitarian church officiating, and the body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

HASLAM-CHILDS

The wedding of Miss Carolyn Helfenstein Childs, the daughter of Mrs. Edwin O. Childs of Richardson street, Newton, and Mr. Lewis Scofield Haslam of St. Louis, took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John P. R. Sherman, an aunt of the bride, at 124 Vernon street, Newton. The ceremony, which took place at 4 o'clock, was performed by Rev. Dr. Raymond Calkins of Cambridge.

The bride wore a gown of French blue satin back crepe embroidered in blue and silver with hat of the same color. Her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Wallace Simmons of St. Louis was the best man and ushers were Mayor Edwin O. Childs, brother of the bride, Hon. Thomas Weston, a cousin of the bride and Messrs. Arthur P. Day, Charles P. Kellogg of Hartford, Conn., and Boyle Rodos of St. Louis.

A reception followed the ceremony, the house being attractively decorated with palms and pink roses, while a trio of violin, cello and piano furnished music.

Following a wedding trip in the South, Mr. and Mrs. Haslam will reside in St. Louis where they will be at home after April 1st.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The Vannini Symphony Ensemble consisting of twelve Symphony Orchestra Players with the conductor, Augusto Vannini, likewise of that famous orchestra, will give the concert at the Commonwealth Country Club, Sunday afternoon, February 14th, at 4 o'clock. The assisting artist will be Jesus Maria Sanroma, the noted young pianist.

Mrs. Albion M. Boothby and Mrs. F. E. Shepard are the hostesses at the Luncheon Lecture at the club on Monday, February 15th. Mrs. J. W. F. Kennedy (Barbara Bradford) will lecture on "They Knew What They Wanted" a play having a phenomenal run in New York, but which has not yet appeared here in Boston. These luncheon lectures are in aid of the Disabled Veterans of the Late War.

NORDBLOM-PAYSON

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Payson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Payson of 17 Central avenue, Wollaston, to Robert C. Nordblom of Newton Highlands took place at the Wollaston Unitarian church Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, D.D., of the Wollaston Congregational Church.

The bridegroom was attended by Herbert Linbach of Wollaston, Pa., as best man. Miss Priscilla Streeter was maid of honor and Miss Marie Jones, Miss Vera Burke, Miss Margaret Burke and Miss Dorothy Dana, all of Quincy, were bridesmaids.

Messrs. Harold Thomas of Ashmont, William Derwin of Los Angeles, Joseph Lyons and John Nutting of Ashmont, John Payson of Wollaston and John Nordblom served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bridal couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Payson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Nordblom of Newton.

MRS. EMMA A. COLE

Mrs. Emma A. Cole, widow of Sumner B. Cole, died on February 5th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stephen A. Smith, 15 Woodliff road, Newton Highlands. The deceased was born in Needham 84 years ago. Besides her daughter, she is survived by one son, Alonzo A. Cole. During her late years she was an invalid. She was interested in many charitable works, such as the North End Mission, the Mt. Hope Home for Children and the Boston Home for Incurables. She was an officer and director of the Martha and Mary Club of Boston for many years.

DEATH OF MRS. DOWNS

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Downs, the widow of the late George S. Downs, died last Friday at the Fritz Carlton Hotel in Boston. Mrs. Downs will be remembered by the older generation as the author of many popular novels, writing under the name of "Georgie Sheldon." For some years, Mr. and Mrs. Downs resided on Boyd street, Newton, and Mr. Downs was at one time a member of the Common Council of Newton. Later he was superintendent of the shoe factory in the state prison at Charlestown. Mrs. Downs was a member of the New England Women's Press Association. Her parents were Edwin A. and Elvira S. Furbush. Her only immediate survivor is a brother, Walter R. Furbush, who lives in Church street, Newton.

HENRY E. HILL

Henry E. Hill of 32 Chesley road, Newton Centre, died at the Newton Hospital on February 6th. Mr. Hill, who was born in Toronto, Ontario, 48 years ago, had lived in Newton for 34 years. His funeral was held on Monday afternoon at the chapel in the Newton Cemetery; Rev. Edward M. Noyes officiated. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Fannie Hill.

MME. SUNDELUS COMING

Newton is to be congratulated upon an opportunity such as is seldom given it to hear exceptionally fine music here at home and without going in to Boston. Through the activities of the women of the Methodist and Eliot Churches, one of the finest singers of the Metropolitan Opera Company, Mme. Marie Sundelius, has consented to give a song recital in Eliot Church on the evening of March 3rd. Mme. Sundelius has many friends and admirers here, both personal and musical, since most of her early life was spent in Boston and her musical career was begun as a soloist in the First Baptist Church and later at the Old South. For the past ten years, she has been a member of the Metropolitan Opera Co. and is now singing such important roles as Nedda in Puccini, Michaela in Carmen, Mimi in La Boheme and Elsa in Lohengrin.

An active committee is in charge of the arrangements, composed of the following women: Mrs. James G. Barnes, Mrs. Arthur S. Plinn, Mrs. Charles B. Gleason, Mrs. William G. Lennox, Mrs. John B. Raelhite, Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs, Miss Florence L. Heard, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, Mrs. George R. Strandberg, Mrs. J. West Thompson, Mrs. Loren D. Towle.

All music lovers of the city and not only of Newton Corner are urged to avail themselves of this unusual opportunity.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

DON'T FORGET! "The Cool Collegians," to be presented by the Blue Triangle Club, will be given in the Y. W. C. Auditorium, 251 Washington street, Newton, tonight and tomorrow night at eight o'clock.

On Wednesday at twelve fifteen, the members of the Newton Central Council will have their monthly luncheon and meeting in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Representatives from all the organizations in Newton, doing Community work, are expected to be present, and the association considers it a great privilege to be hostess at this time.

NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

Clyde Hess, Boys' Secretary at the Y. M. C. A. had a narrow escape from asphyxiation last Thursday while placing chains on his car in the garage at the rear of his residence at 16 St. James street. The motor of the car was running and the carbon monoxide fumes overcame him. Fortunately he was discovered by another occupant of the garage in time to be removed to the open air and resuscitated.

COMEDY AT LOWER FALLS

"The Cast Rehearses," a comedy in one act, will be presented at St. Mary's Parish House, Concord street, Newton Lower Falls, on Friday evening, February 12, at 8 o'clock by the Priscilla Chapter of the Order of the Fleur de Lis, under the direction of Miss Louise H. Smith of Wellesley Farms. Dancing will follow the play.

Miss Mary Seale, as leading lady, will be ably supported by a cast which includes the Misses Helen Hanson and Nancy Schofield of Wellesley Hills, and Dorothy McLean and Myrtle Cooper of Newton Lower Falls. Miss Hazel Chase of Wellesley Hills is stage manager, assisted by Miss Jenima Mahan. Miss Barbara Rimmer will supervise the sale of Valentine hearts and other sweetmeats, and Miss Helen Cooper will be in charge of the punch table.

THE LIP READING CLASS

The evening class in Lip Reading at Newtonville closes this week after a session of about thirty lessons. The attendance has been very regular and the number more than double the previous year. It has been a grand opportunity for the deafened adult to begin this necessary training and it is hoped that more people will avail themselves of this if the course is continued another year.

Beginning in October, the class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday evening. There were two divisions the beginners class and what was called the advanced class, but a usually took advantage of the same training.

Students come from all about Upper Falls, Lower Falls, Newton Corner, Auburndale, West Newton and Newtonville.

While it would be absurd to say that anyone could master such a difficult art as lip-reading in the short time allowed in the class, yet real progress is made, an opening has been started and once on the way there is no reason why the students should not become expert readers.

It is true that some people learn much more readily than others, but lip-reading as with everything, by the study develops not only the eye and the faculty of observation but trains the whole mind; especially is valuable in memory training.

The course also develops self-reliance, which is very valuable to the deaf. It teaches the pupil to depend upon himself, not to be afraid to speak on his feet and to speak with accuracy and decision. The manner of the deaf has been called wistful—pathetic—sometimes pitiful. After the training in a good lip reading class these adjectives certainly can no longer be suggested.

The School Committee have the thanks of everyone for establishing this very essential course in the schools. The next thing is to reach the hard of hearing children, especially the young men and women in High School. These are not deaf enough to go to an institution for the totally deaf but will not be able to rank with hearing people when they go away from school and home unless they have a good knowledge of lip-reading. There is at the present time a young man who is going through M. I. T. with his knowledge of lip-reading. Without it, it would have been impossible for him to do this.

Parents do not begin to realize what a handicap it is to the child to be hard of hearing. Children themselves do not know, as they are protected and considered while in their homes but as soon as they go away they find it very different and they suffer much hardship and injustice. These might be avoided by lip-reading training.

Many of the large cities are providing these courses for the hard of hearing child as a part of the regular curriculum and Newton will not fall behind in such very good work.

BELLE

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER

Interest in quilts brought together about 60 of the members and friends on Monday afternoon, February 8. The chapel of Grace Church, Newton, was transformed into a museum for the exhibit of rare and beautiful handwork. These quilts had been collected by some of the members who have an especial liking for this form of needlework and who have acquired very discriminating taste in the appreciation of the finer points which escape the less intelligent. Among the women who are treasuring and handing down these rare mementoes of past skill and industry are Mrs. F. W. Bakeman, Mrs. J. H. Holmes and Mrs. Laurens MacLure. Into some of the coverlets were woven historic figures and emblems. One from Pennsylvania had pictures of George Washington, the state seal, and the design of a steam boat, the first attempt, even before the days of Fulton, when the writers of the Constitution took a recess to see what a daring inventor was launching in the waters of the Delaware. Another from the same state recalls the Pennsylvania Dutch and the design was of their church. "Eagle quilts" were loaned by Mrs. F. M. Sherman and Miss Grace Lyman. A quilt made by Adeline Barton is called the "Centennial," composed of ten blocks, each containing one hundred pieces. The "Rose Window" made by Anne Buckwell Adam of Shotton, England, was a part of her "hope chest." She was married in 1796. This was loaned by Mrs. W. C. Jones. Mrs. J. L. Damon was the owner of the Whipple quilt, 100 years old. The flax of which it was made was raised, dyed and woven on the farm at Croydon, N. H. Some were beautiful mosaics made of those enduring fabrics of the past, in designs of baskets, sun bursts and flowers, showing how the women artists of days gone by could express beauty through the medium of the needle and the scraps at hand. What stories one can imagine looking at this handwork of past generations when woman's activities were bounded by the walls of home! It is not a lost or forgotten art, and choice quilts made by Mrs. MacLure and others delighted the eye. There was a tulip design, like yet unlike the antique, for the delicate purple Darwin tulips were displayed with long stems in graceful curves. An exquisite fillet spread, made by Mrs. Holmes was much admired. The period of the "crazy quilt" was not forgotten and there were gorgeous effects made by the gay coloring of the rich silk pieces put together at random.

On the platform a quilting frame, spinning wheel, and antique cradle added interest to the occasion. A brief business meeting was conducted by the regent, Mrs. John N. Eaton. There was candle light and the ever friendly intercourse over the teacups. At the table some of the ladies were in old fashioned gowns. Those who poured were Mrs. MacLure, Mrs. H. L. Whittlesy, Mrs. A. L. Walker and Miss Olive Webster. Mrs. E. K. Titus was chairman of the tea.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Patients in hospital, 119; patients paying as much as cost of care or more, 62; patients paying less than cost of care, 30; free patients, including babies, 27; babies born, 8; patients treated by out-patient department, 92; patients treated at eye clinic, 5; accident cases, 4; social service calls at the hospital, 5; at homes, 2; patients transferred by social service car, 5.

The recent heavy snow storm was very beautiful at the hospital. Traffic was delayed on Washington street by the drifts, and several extra men were employed to shovel, and work in the shoveling line is still going on there. One of the students scheduled to go on the Yarmouth boat was delayed until Monday.

The children at the hospital received several boxes of material for making valentines which they were allowed to mail to their families.

The hospital received a gift of a rocking chair and foot stool from the Newton Ladies Home Circle. These have been placed in the room which was furnished by the same group four years ago.

The Newton Medical Club met at the hospital Monday evening, February 8. Dr. Frederick G. Irving of the Boston Lying-in Hospital was the speaker. Twenty students enjoyed a sleigh ride on Monday night.

Two pupil nurses will attend the Student Y. W. C. A. Conference at Northfield this week-end.

On Tuesday, February 9, a class of 16 students were enrolled at the hospital. Misses Marion H. Belyea, Clare Cogswell, Esther M. Conners, Jean C. Dearborn, Evelyn L. Frude, Esther F. Hussey, Harriet E. Lee, Doris E. Mooers, Hazel W. Oakes, Ruth O. Odel, Almira E. Rankin, Marjorie Reynolds, K. Eileen Ritchie, Viola M. Seeds, Audrey Turner, and Charlotte Barlett.

LENT AT ST. MARY'S

At St. Mary's Church at Lower Falls, special preachers have been arranged for Ash Wednesday evening and the Friday evenings in Lent. The services will be at 7:45 P. M.

Ash Wednesday evening, February 17th, the preacher will be the Rev. Philo Woodruff Sprague, for many years Rector of St. John's Church, Charlestown, but now retired. Mr. Sprague is an eloquent and forceful speaker and will be welcomed gladly by St. Mary's people and the public generally.

There will be two celebrations of the Holy Communion Ash Wednesday morning, one at 7:15 A. M. and the other at 9:30 A. M.

There will be no service on Friday evening, February 19th. The services and speakers for the following Fridays in Lent will be announced later through the papers and by special cards.

Mrs. Ethel E. Patterson's Practicing Mission, which is being held evenings this week at 7:45 P. M., except Friday evening, will end with an address by Mrs. Patterson next Sunday morning at 10:45 instead of in the evening, as was previously announced.

The Sunday evening service will be that of The Healing Mission at 21 Hillside road.

Old Sex and New Footlights The Treasure Hunt

"What is the matter with the theater today?" "There's nothing the matter," says the New York first-night audience, "it's just the way we like it." And, as New York first-night audiences can make or break a play by their verdict, the rest of the country must pretty much follow their lead—or stay away from the theater.

But it is a fact that most of us feel that there is something the matter with many of the plays of today. And Mr. Tarkington shows very clearly that the modern stage is far too preoccupied with that oldest of all themes, sex, to realize what today's national audience really wants to see and hear.

From the exploits of Tish in "The Treasure Hunt" one can easily believe she originated the idea that all is fair in love and war. The hunt was in the dark. The clues obscure. The race open to all Lake Penzance.

From a bad start to a heroic finish Tish brushed aside her difficulties like a captain of industry, crook, and detective rolled into one. Crippling machines and men, and flouting the minions of the law, she followed the trail through the penitentiary and the police station till she found the thing that she was looking for—and several things that she wasn't. Following Tish in her wild evening makes exciting reading.

MIDDLESEX COURT OBSERVES
40TH ANNIVERSARY

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F. observed the 40th anniversary of its institution in Elks Hall on Tuesday evening. Of the nine surviving charter members, seven were present: James Diviney, Jonathan F. Horrigan, John Mulligan, Patrick O'Brien, Dr. Francis M. O'Donnell, George E. Stuart and Thomas M. Waters. These veterans indulged in reminiscences of the early days of the organization and told of the changes in this city during the past 40 years.

William P. Eustis was in charge of the meeting and introduced High Chief Ranger James O'Hara of Salem as the principle speaker. Others who spoke were Deputy John Gallagher, of Watertown and James Ryan, the veteran treasurer of the Court, who holds the record for attendance at meetings. An entertainment was furnished by Sheehan's Orchestra; Ian Frazier, singing comedian; Mary and Katherine Morrissey, dancers. Following the entertainment, a collation was served. The Court has 893 members and during its existence has paid $106,000 to the dependents of deceased members. Under the lead of Chief Ranger Thomas Peppard, it is starting a drive for new members.

GAMMONS-SCHLEM

The wedding of Mr. Roland F. Gammons, the treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank, and Mrs. Robert Schlem of South Duxbury took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennie Whitney of Brookline on January 28th. Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Park of the Second Church of West Newton performed the ceremony.

In the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Edmunds of Wellesley Hills and Mr. Charles K. A. Wilson of Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. Gammons will reside in Weston.

One of the important matters which ought to be considered by the city government is that of biennial elections for members of the city government. Our present custom of annual elections shows a serious lack of interest in the years when there are only aldermen and members of the school committee. The average voter takes little if any interest in the personnel of our city government except for the office of mayor. Considerable money could be saved if we omitted the election in the off year.

The board of aldermen ought to give careful consideration to the important matter of changing the present non-contributory pension system now in force in Newton to an up-to-date contributory plan something like the present system in Boston. The present system is expensive and archaic.

This is a good day for each one of us to "highly resolve" that this "government of the people, for the people and by the people" shall not perish from the earth.

What is more useless than the shovelling of snow. It gives the least return for the money than any other form of municipal expenditure.

We regret that in our issue of last week we confused the object of the Central Club annual show, held tonight and tomorrow night.

We are glad to note the movement in Newton Centre to raise funds for a suitable branch library. It is a most worthy object.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Favorable action has been taken in two matters affecting this city. The first to change the preferential election law in this city so as to allow eight words to be placed after the name and address of candidates for city office, and second to allow hearings on proposed changes in zoning to be held before a committee of the board of aldermen in place of being held before the full board. This latter measure was heard on Tuesday. City Solicitor Bartlett appearing in favor and was immediately reported favorably by the committee on Mercantile Affairs.

Mr. Philip Nichols appeared before Legal Affairs this week in favor of a bill on petition of Mr. A. W. Blake more to prohibit the solicitation of appointment as fiduciary. The bill would prohibit Trust Companies from advertising the fact that they were in business to act as trustees and in other fiduciary capacities. The real meat in this matter is the fact that lawyers have an unwritten law that it is unethical to advertise and because they thus choose to muzzle themselves they attempt by legislation to prohibit other people and corporations from advertising a perfectly legitimate business. The writer, as the representative of over a hundred Massachusetts newspapers, entered a strong protest against the limitation of the advertising field in this manner.

Mayor Childs has petitioned for authority to appoint Dennis J. O'Donnell, Jr., as a police officer of Newton without a civil service examination. It seems that O'Donnell has done considerable temporary police work while on the eligible list for appointment, but has been taken off the list at the present time on account of passing the age limit for regular appointment.

LITERALLY DRESSED TO KILL

Warriors of Old Were Dandies in Their Costumes, but Famous Fighters in the Field.

The Greeks won the battle of Marathon by a lucky fluke and were dazed at their good fortune, for never before that day had they dared to face the terrible Persians, whose noblemen, formidable warriors, clad themselves in canary yellow silk trousers, embroidered with meandering jade green vines sprayed with blossoms crimson and blue; their pink silk jackets were adorned with appliqued lions and tigers, elephants and rhinoceroses, ostriches and peacocks of the gayest hues; they carried their throats with triple and quadruple necklaces of gold filigree set with every jewel known and their arms in similar bracelets and armlets by the dozen; their fingers were loaded with rings; their turbans blazed with jeweled aigrettes; the hilts and scabbards of their scimitars were encrusted with diamonds, emeralds and rubies; yet they were always ready to wade ankle deep in gore or knee in mud, at any crisis of battle or march.

The traditions of such fashions have, in many years of the world, lasted almost or even to our days. The boyars of Muscovy, the princes of Poland, the magnates of Hungary upholstered themselves with wadded coats sewed all over with seed pearls, such as the famous diamond-encrusted heirloom coat of the Esterhazy family, which, according to one tale or the other turns out to be true, was either successfully hidden from Bela Kun and his communists or treacherously betrayed to them and by them scissored into salable snippets.—Exchange.

Man, left to his own devices when his wife goes on a summer vacation, is inclined to be a little wild. He makes an evening meal of such an unholy combination as sardines and crackers and onions from the back yard garden; so we learn from a suburban married friend who is occasionally left to his own devices.

The unbalanced ration makes its grisly appearance at once as soon as the thoughtful care of the guardian of the household is withdrawn.

If summer vacations lasted very long, to what state of wretched malnutrition would home-staying man be reduced, removed as he may be from the life-saving station of a fair-to-middling restaurant for morning and evening sustenance?

Breakfast and supper out of a box. In many instances, why should not man add to his accomplishments in sports the art of simple cooking? That also is a sport if practiced only on occasion.

The more complex, of course, the sportier. Amateurs have been known who did not hesitate at lemon jelly cake however much those invited to share it may have. And what a victory to achieve a really edible one! It is really as inspiring as a triumph in golf or tennis.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Romance Gone From Gold Fields.

Gold stampedes have lost their romantic trappings. An honest-to-goodness stampede after real gold has just taken place in Batavia and Kameep boom district, South Africa.

There were no six-guns, such as distinguished the mashing for precious metal in the western states and Australia. Boots, spurs, liquor, gambling paraphernalia have gone by the boards.

None of those once necessary adjuncts to the proper staking of a claim remain essential. Stampedeers of 1923 traveled in automobiles and motorcycles.

Within two hours of the time the first stake was planted the field had been entirely covered. The show was over and nobody was killed.

The new field is confidently expected to produce gold, but the least observing can see that it will never produce a Bret Harte.

African Grapes Sent Here.

Dried black grapes are being produced in South Africa at the present time solely for the purpose of supplying the requirements of the American market, the growers hoping for a minimum price of from 10 to 11 cents per pound delivered in New York.

Consul Charles J. Pizar, Cape Town, informs the Department of Commerce. According to South African authorities the 1922 crop of dried black grapes amounted to 850 tons, while the growers hope for an estimated yield of 1,300 tons this year. It is said that the shippers of these grapes are going to the utmost trouble in order to have the very best possible quality produced, and there seems no doubt that the quality of this season's output shows a marked improvement over the output of last year.

Canadian Farm Lands.

The average value of occupied farm lands in Canada for the year 1922 is $44 an acre, according to a report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. This included improved and unimproved land together with houses, barns and other buildings on the farms. The average value in 1921 was $40 an acre, while it was $48 in 1920 and $35 in 1915. Average values are higher in British Columbia, where the figure is given as $120 an acre. The other provinces vary from $64 in Ontario to $24 in Alberta.

DON'T VISIT WITH BUSY MAN

Experience of Colonel Waiters With President Harrison Might Well Act as Warning.

We once heard a busy man say he wouldn't care to see his long-absent beloved brother on a busy morning. Thereby hangs a tale. Copper's Weekly observes. The regiment of Col. L. H. Waiters was brigaded alongside of Gen. Benjamin Harrison's brigade for several months during the Civil war, and the two men became great friends.

After the war General Harrison returned to Indiana and became President of the United States. Colonel Waiters became one of the West's distinguished lawyers. One time Waiters went to Washington on business and while there decided that it would be an act of discourtesy if he didn't go up and call on his old army pal, President Harrison, then in the White House. So he made himself known to the President's secretary. "Walk right in," said the secretary, "the President is at his desk alone right now." Waiters walked in. President Harrison had his nose down to his desk and didn't look up. The colonel shuffled his feet to attract the President's attention. This didn't bring results. Then he coughed. Whereupon President Harrison looked up and growled, "Well, what do you want here?" "Not a thing," retorted Waiters as he turned on his heels and walked out.

Speed Reduced to Figures

"Going at the rate of sixty miles an hour" is an expression dear to many writers, both of fiction and of fact. Just what does this mean from the prosaic standpoint of science? What if an automobile proceeding at the rate of 60 miles an hour should come to a sudden stop, such as, for instance, by striking a heavy bridge abutment? A fair idea of the completeness of the wreck may be had by imagining the machine falling from a height of 120 feet or from the top of a ten-story office building. An object falling from a height of 120 feet would have the same velocity at the instant of striking the ground as the motorcar would have when traveling 60 miles an hour.

The energy possessed by a 2,400-pound automobile traveling at the rate of 60 miles an hour is 290,000 foot pounds, which is the same as that of a body weighing 1,000 pounds at the instant of striking the ground from a drop of 290 feet.

Were a resistance of 6,600 pounds applied to the automobile it would come to rest in a distance of 44 feet in one second of time and in coming to rest would be doing work at an average rate of over 257 horse-power.—New York Herald.

Causes of Cotton Gin Fires.

Investigations by the United States Department of Agriculture have shown that a great many of the fires in cotton gins, which in some seasons cause losses in excess of a million dollars, are caused by static electricity which collects in certain parts of the machinery as a result of friction. There are other causes, such as matches in the cotton, overheated bearings, friction between the saws and cotton stuck in the ribs, and sparks caused by pieces of metal and other foreign particles passing through, but static electricity is an important cause and one which may be controlled.

If certain parts of the machinery in the gin are grounded by proper wiring any electricity will be drained off and no sparks will be formed. The Department of Agriculture has issued a circular, No. 271, in which the system of wiring is explained and shown in diagram.

Pullman Laundries Kept Busy.

The Pullman company probably has laundered the greatest quantity of linen of any concern in the world. In one year 300,000,000 pieces were cleaned, this total including 2,531,340 coats worn by porters and waiters. Sixty-five laundries handle the Pullman linen, and they are frequently inspected and constantly checked to see that the special formula prescribed by the Pullman officials is followed in the washing. As the linen comes from the mangles it is inspected, and such articles as are torn or stained are set aside. Hopelessly soiled linen is thrown away, while the repair rooms attend to the slightly torn articles. The total linen repaired at all points for one month amounted to 316,804 pieces.

Modern Syria.

Syria has an area of 90,000 square miles, about the size of the state of Georgia, with a population of 3,000,000. It was made independent of Turkey, and placed under a French mandate by the allied powers in 1920. For convenience of administration, France divided the country into four provinces: Aleppo, Latakia, Damascus, and Hama. The eastern part of the country is dry. Great Lebanon, however, is very fertile. The population is largely Mohammedan.

Strange Experience.

While out walking with my beau one evening we cut through a vacant lot. I lost a small coin purse containing $9 or $10. Of course, we went back for matches and a flashlight, but did not find it. We finally gave it up as lost. Coming back home we went the same way. I kicked something, stooped to pick it up, and behold, my lost purse.—Chicago Journal.

AUCTION

ARTICLE No. 17

Of what practical use are conventions of bidding? One hears this question continually but seldom an intelligent answer, and yet the reason is a very simple one. The conventions of auction are like the words of a language. They enable partners to give information as to their hands and so exchange intelligent thought with one another in the endeavor to arrive at the best bid of the combined hands. Auction is a game where the players are bidding against one another for the privilege of playing the hand, and unless partners understand one another's bids, they will frequently bid against one another to their disadvantage. The object of all bidding at auction is to arrive at the best bid of the combined hands and this can be done only by intelligent cooperation between partners. If you bid one heart, meaning one kind of hand at one time and an entirely different type at another time, how can you give partner information of any value? He will be forced to guess as to your holding and, as usual with guesses, he is much more apt to guess wrong than right. Let your original

No score, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no-trump and all passed. A opened the deuce of hearts. Y played the four, B the jack and Z the ten. B now played the king of hearts and all followed. B now played the seven of hearts, all followed and A won the trick with the ace and led the ten of hearts. Y discarded the ten of spades. B the deuce of spades and Z the deuce of clubs. A now led the nine of spades. Y played the four, B the five and Z won the trick with the ten. The problem is for Z to so play the hand that he can win the balance of the tricks. Z should lead a low club and play the jack from Y's hand. He should now play four diamond tricks, winning the last trick in Y's hand. On these tricks, A is forced to make two discards. He can discard one spade and one club. If he does that, Z's queen of clubs will be good on the third round. Or A could discard two spades. If he does that, Y's queen of spades will be good on the third round. In either event, YZ must score game. It should be noted that if A had led clubs at trick five, instead of spades, he could have saved game.

The tricky bidder was doing his best in the following hand but after a good start, he fell down and spoiled a chance for a big gain.

A now bid four clubs, Y and B passed and Z doubled. A redoubled and Y and B passed. What would you have done with Z's hand? Z should certainly bid four spades after A's redouble. That is where A made a bad bid. He had bid his hand very trickily up to that time but when he got his four club bid doubled, he should have been satisfied. His two heart bid was an apparent bluff bid and should

During the Lenten season the Newtonville churches will hold a series of Union Sunday evening services. The first of these will be in the Methodist church on February 21st. Rev. James P. Hugel, D.D., pastor of the Thompson avenue Congregational church of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the largest Congregational church in the world, will be the speaker.

CENTENARY CHURCH,
AUBURNDALE

Sunday, February 14, at the morning service, 11.00 o'clock, Dean James A. Beebe, dean of Boston University School of Theology and President-elect of Allegheny College will preach.

The principal anthem of the service will be "Jubilate Deo," by Stanhope.

The pastor, Rev. Earl E. Harper, will deliver addresses Sunday and Monday at Greenfield, Williamstown, and North Adams, Mass., and at the Sunday Evening Forum at Bennington, Vermont. Two weeks ago he was the speaker at the meetings and services in New London, Conn. Port Chester, N. Y., and at meetings of the Methodist Social Union and the New York Hymn Society in New York City.

At a reception tendered by the Young Men's Club to the Young Women's Club Thursday night an unusually large number of the young people of the parish were in attendance. Games and amusements were conducted by Mr. Franklin E. Bass, director of young people's work, and refreshments were served by Lewis Patterson, representing the Ginter stores.

Shower baths and a large heater which instantly supplies hot water in any quantity have just been installed by the Young Men's Club. The official board furnished the heater but the young men themselves, by selling napkins, giving plays and suppers, paid the entire cost of remodeling the room and installing the showers.

Centenary Choir and the choir of the Needham Heights Methodist Church are rehearsing portions of the "Passion According to St. Matthew" for presentation in the respective churches during Holy Week. This work is recognized as one of the greatest choral works ever written but it is seldom presented. So far as can be ascertained this is the first time it has been presented in any complete way in a Methodist Church.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

STATE FEDERATION

Two dates of interest to club women are marked for State Federation activities. On the 16th occurs the Annual Mid-Winter Meeting for discussion of legislative matters, an all-day conference that brings women from all over the State, and furnishes information on those measures that the Executive Board has decided to present for favorable action. The Colonial Theatre, Boston, is the place of meeting, with the Boston Section, Council of Jewish Women as hostess. Delegates' tickets may be stamped as early as nine o'clock, and the meeting opens at ten. Mayor Nichols will welcome the organization, and Mrs. Robert J. Culbert will present the speakers on the three measures to be acted upon. In the afternoon, Representative Adlow, Mrs. Carl Watson, Mrs. Poole, and Dr. Bruno Rosell will be the speakers.

February 15th is Conservation Day. At 11 A. M. a conference given jointly by this committee and Community Service opens at Richards Hall, 30 Huntington avenue. Mrs. A. H. Hume will be the first speaker in the afternoon, on Gardens, a topic which is already awakening interest, in spite of the drifts in the streets. Already most wonderful catalogues are arriving in the mail, defying the wintry blasts. That hopes, too, may not be blasted in the coming balmy months when we watch for results of our labors, it would be well to attend these conferences and classes offered among local and federated clubs. Mr. Winthrop Packard, of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, whose personality is as compelling as his words, will speak at 11 A. M. on "The Bird and the Home Garden"; Mrs. Ward Cornell will speak on "Every Day Art," and Mrs. Frederick Swan will speak on "Moving Pictures from the Standpoint of Education." In the afternoon Mrs. Mabel R. Edwards will tell of "Moving Pictures from the Standpoint of the Producer," Mr. Edward P. Goodnow on "What to Look for in the Movies," and Mrs. John P. Bainbridge will tell of "Lace and Lace Making."

RECENT EVENTS

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

In spite of the bad travelling from the storm, and of the cold, practically all the members of the Monday Club and many guests—of whom a number were from out of town—gathered in the home of Mrs. Florence E. Foster on Walnut street, on Monday afternoon, the 8th. In celebration of their fortieth birthday, honor was paid to Mrs. George Phipps, founder of the club, and his honorary president, and when called upon for a "speech," she responded in ready humor and depth of feeling and understanding of her fellow members, and in fact, of mankind, in a most pleasing manner. Mrs. Anna K. Patton had prepared festive honors for her speaker, singer, and Past Presidents, in bouquets of sweet peas and yellow boutonnières, ribbons, and jonquils, the club color being charmingly brought out in all notes.

Mme. Mario Laurenti, who has achieved fame abroad for her operatic work, sang with delightful effect a group of songs, for which Mrs. Robert Ingraham accompanied. Her voice, a dramatic soprano, brought out in all its loveliness and power the Aria from "Madame Butterfly," and a series of French songs, among them Massenet's "Elegy," established her ability to render the more tranquil and pathetic compositions. "The Kiss" by Tosti, a wistful bit of song, brought a throb to one's throat, and the slower beauty of "Calm as the Night" gave the depth of her tonal quality.

In introducing the reader of the afternoon, Miss Emma Downing Coolidge, who was to give one of her own comedies, "Mr. Goddard Gives an Address," Mrs. Patton said: "Miss Coolidge needs no introduction to you. As a woman she is known to you, and as an author. Her well-known book, 'The Dreamer,' she read to you last year, and we are delighted to have her here again with us."

"The comedy of family affairs, when 'Mr. Goddard' struggles valiantly for many weeks to prepare his address, to the complete wrecking of family peace and happiness, caused a continuous appreciation of mirth from the audience. After the program, a social hour was enjoyed, with appetizing and tempting refreshments.

hopes and splendid ideals, and gave to all who attended it inspiration that will endure through the years of club life. On Wednesday afternoon a group of people gathered at the site of the new Memorial Library building, corner of Chestnut and Davis streets, to lay the corner stone. The foundations and enough of building operations have been completed to make a good beginning.

Mrs. Louis Bell, who with some others, first conceived the idea of a new Library building for West Newton, gave in a short speech the history of its conception and of the raising of money to bring it into being.

Mrs. Arthur Hosmer, the first President of the Community Service Club, by whose efforts the Library is being built, presented the box of treasures to be put into the corner stone.

Mrs. Ellery Peabody, a loyal past President and Chairman of the Library Committee, then stepped forward, and with mortar and trowel placed the corner stone with these words:

"May this building, of which we lay to-day the corner stone, be a permanent memorial to those who have lived in and loved our village."

"May those who use it in the years to come find help and inspiration here, and may it always stand for progress and all that is highest and best for our community."

The company then dispersed to the Unitarian Parish House, where the Annual Meeting was held and new officers for the coming year elected.

The meeting was then given over to the Legislative Committee in charge of Mrs. Robert H. Gross, who introduced Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, who gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on "The World Court."

Social Science Club

The meeting of the Social Science Club of Wednesday, February 10th, was cancelled on account of the storm. The next meeting of the Club will not be held until February 24th, as the meeting of the 17th is omitted.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Richard O. Walter was the hostess for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club February 9th. Mrs. Austin Eaton, Chairman of the morning, described the first discoveries and general conditions prevailing in South Africa from its earliest time until 1840. From 1840 through the Boer War, Mrs. Thomas B. Scott gave the history of the country, including the first self-government of the Boers, back to re-annexation, and on through each thrilling experience, until the war was over, and the British flag was flying from Cape Town to Zambesi. The morning closed with a chapter from the Life of Cecil Rhodes, one who had helped make history in this great "Hinterland."

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands
The Shakespeare Club is to have a "different" celebration for its next meeting, due to the ingenuity and generosity of Mrs. W. J. Bicknell, who plays hostess in an unusual manner, by giving a luncheon to club members at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association, 37 1/2 Beacon street, Boston. Following this delightful entertainment there will be the usual program of discussion of some play of this master of drama. For the past few meetings the play under inspection has been "Winter's Tale," certainly most appropriate in title, at least, for the few days just past, and the review will be in charge of Mrs. H. E. Durgin, in the form of the Quiz that always follows the completion of the story.

Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

On Saturday afternoon, at one o'clock, the Women's Auxiliary wisely puts temptation in the way of Newton women—although it may be surprising to know that temptation may ever be wise, and especially when the scene of that temptation happens to be a church—when they hold a Food Sale at Eliot Church, Newton. Being desirous of adding to their funds for their splendid cause they offer this excellent opportunity to supply Sunday needs in the way of appetizing home-made foods, and it is only necessary for wise housewives to become aware of this sale for them to profit by the timely event.

Waban Woman's Club

Monday, the 15th, is Legislation Day for the Waban Woman's Club with a most attractive program. Miss Alice Stone Blackwell—whose name conjures up many interesting and inspiring activities in the furtherance of aims and ideals of woman—is to speak on "The Pioneer of Woman." The title might well be of many experiences of her own, when she bravely was indeed a pioneer in a most unpopular cause—as are all new issues—but, whether of her own memories, or of the bigger—perhaps—problem of woman as a pioneer in many undertakings, what she will have to say will be enlightening, awakening, inspiring, and inevitable. Professor Katherine Lee Bates, who was to be the guest of honor, will be unable to be present on account of illness. Mrs. Frederick A. Beckford of Dedham, a member of the Legislative Committee of the State Federation, will discuss the bills which that organization is presenting for study this year. The meeting should be one unique even in club circles.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands holds its next meeting on Monday, the 15th. Instead of on the 22nd, as would be the case if it were not for the holiday. Mrs. Samuel E. Thompson is to be club hostess at her home, 1090 Walnut street, and continuation of the study of "Anthony and Cleopatra" is to be the program. Four club members have charge of presenting this play in three meetings, this coming one being the second of the series.—Miss Mary E. Hyde, Miss Anna S. Thompson, Mrs. Edward G. Swift, and Mrs. Isaac Goddard.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Clendenning Smith will be hostess to the Travel Class on Monday, February 15th. The meeting is advanced a week on account of the holiday. "The Religion of the Hebrews: Judaism, Its Doctrines and Principles" is the subject of a paper to be given by Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Legislation is once more to the fore on Monday night, February 15th, which is Legislative Night for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club at the Club rooms in Emerson School. Miss Elizabeth Ryan is Chairman in charge.

Mr. Thomas W. White, Collector of Internal Revenue of Boston, and past state chairman of the Administration and Finance Commission, and past president of Newton's Board of Aldermen, will be the speaker on Federal, State and City Legislation. Mr. White is well fitted to speak, and as he is one of our village boys and a resident, all Club members will be interested. Refreshments and a social hour will follow his talk.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Life Secrets of Wild Flowers and Animals," is the subject of the lecture by Arthur C. Pillsbury which will be given before the Newtonville Woman's Club in the Junior High School on Tuesday, February 16th. Please notice the change of hour to 3.30 P. M. This is made necessary by the regular schedule of the school activities. The club appreciates the co-operation of the Junior High School and of the Principal, Mr. Frank P. Carr. Admission for children between the ages of ten and sixteen will be ten cents. Others will be admitted at the usual guest rate of fifty cents. Mr. Arthur C. Pillsbury is the official photographer of the Yosemite National Park in California. He has devoted years to the study of wild flowers and the invention of a method by which he films them in all stages of their development. He has woven his flower reels into a motion picture which includes animal and bird life and rare scenic aspects of Yosemite National Park. Botanists of renown have watched the pictures, but their delight has not been greater than that felt by the untrained man or woman. Children, too, are entranced by the unusual pictures and have a greater appreciation for nature after seeing them.

Music has been arranged by Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings. The Literature Class will meet Wednesday, February 17th, at 2.30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. W. A. Corson, 63 Elm road. Subjects of study will be "From Immigrant to Inventor" and "The Iron Puddler." Both these books are unique autobiographies, and records of foreign-born Americans whose achievements have greatly enriched the country of their adoption. The classes have been conducted in an informal way and there has been much interest in the discussions. All members of the club are welcome.

The Class in Gardening will meet March 11th, 18th and 25th at 10.30 A. M. at the home of Mrs. George A. Clapp. The fourth lesson will be a practical demonstration at Groton in May when the charming gardens at the Lothrop school are at their height. Mrs. Raymond Thornton will receive the names of those wishing to take the course.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Usually snow is considered a necessary adjunct for a snow-fest and throughout January, the Health Committee of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club waited for a sizable snowfall in order to announce the annual winter sports on the Aqueduct. In consequence, last week, with the prospect of plenty of material, the event much anticipated by the children of the community, as well as their elders, was duly heralded to take place Saturday afternoon. But alas for the well-laid plans of the committee! There was too much snow, instead of too little and sled races and the like would have been rather difficult for the children to engage in.

Accordingly the date was postponed until this week Saturday, the 13th, and unless another blizzard intervenes, the plans for skiing, snowshoe races, hot chocolate, and doughnuts will be carried out as planned for a week ago.

The regular Club meeting on Tuesday, the 16th, will be addressed by Dr. Henry H. Crane of Malden, who will speak on "Lightless Lamps." Dr. Crane comes to the club, heralded as a brilliant speaker, and his address is (Continued on Page 5)

Will remove all spots and stains out of your garments. It is made of all-wool fabrics. This cleaner will rub off most of the spots dry, like an eraser will rub off pencil marks. If this should fail to remove the spots, use any cleaning fluid, or warm water, in a saucer, add a spoonful of ammonia, dip the cleaner into this, just enough to wet the surface of it, then slide it over a cake of any soap you have handy, rub the cleaner over the spot or stain and it will surely vanish. Therefore you should have two cleaners on hand, one for dry and one for wet. Your local Stores will sell them for 15 cts apiece or enclose your remittance and write to

ENGLISH LITERATURE

"English Literature" by W. N. C. Carlton, and "Some Great American Books" by Dallas Lore Sharp, the second and third in the "Reading with a purpose" series of reading courses, have recently been received by the Newton Free Library, according to the statement of Mr. Lucht, the librarian. Each constitutes a brief introduction to its subject and a guide to a few of the best books, arranged for consecutive reading.

The hundreds of people who have always wanted to become better informed and better read, but have never found the time and place and impetus to begin—those who have planned some day to know or renew acquaintance with Hardy, Fielding, Emerson, Wharton and other great authors, will find these courses just what they have been waiting for.

"Biology," by Vernon Kellogg, announced a week or two ago, began a series. There are also courses on economics, appreciation of music, psychology and other subjects. The courses, and the books they recommend, may be borrowed from the Newton Free Library. Paper-bound copies of the booklets may also be purchased or ordered at the Main Library or at any of the Branch Libraries at a very reasonable price.

NURSES HAVE A BUSY MONTH

The Newton District Nursing Association held their regular monthly meeting on Monday of this week. Miss Ross, the Superintendent, reported that the nurses had made 1041 calls on 294 patients last month. This means about thirty-five patients a day, about a third of the number cared for in our Hospital daily. January is always a busy month for the District Nurses and it is doubly hard because the transportation has been so difficult and the District family is in all of the eleven villages of Newton.

The Middlesex and Suffolk County Visiting Nurse Associations are to be the guests of the Newton Association the afternoon of Friday, February 12. The meeting is to be in the Parish House of the Second Church, West Newton, at 2:30 P. M. After the meeting tea will be served by the Board of Directors of the Newton Association.

DOWNE-ALEXANDER

At Central Presbyterian Church, New York City on 3rd of February, Archibald Downie of Newtonville, eldest son of the late Archibald Downie and Mrs. Downie of Campbelltown, Scotland, to Elizabeth Ferguson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Alexander of Doagh, County Antrim, Northern Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Downie are now spending their honeymoon in New York and Washington. They will be at home after March 1 at 139 Norwood avenue.

NEWTON CEMETERY CORPORATION

The adjourned annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation will be held on Saturday afternoon, February 13th, at 4 P. M. for the election of trustees and any other business that may legally come before the meeting. This meeting will be held at the office in the Administration Building.

ABOUT TOWN

The new busses of the M. & B. proved their worth during the blizzard. While the electric cars were hopelessly stalled, the busses were plowing their way between Newton and Waltham. And this, despite the fact that the city of Waltham did little or nothing to cooperate. The street department of Newton had auto plows constantly running along the streets over which the busses travel; the State kept Stowe street in Waltham plowed. But Waltham, which had made such incessant demands for bus service, left these vehicles to push through unplowed streets, and had Newton done likewise, it is more than probable that hundreds of residents of the Watch City would have been unable to have returned to their homes.

Newton is fortunate in having a Board of Aldermen composed of members of diversified talents. Thus, at the last meeting, Alderman Hickey displayed the requisite knowledge of coal handling to make sure that the city will not be put to unnecessary expense in having fuel delivered at the new junior high building. Alderman Leahy was on the "qui vive" to have precautions taken to assure that no damage will result to house plumbing when the water mains will be cleaned. This was particularly magnanimous on Mr. Leahy's part, for, by keeping silent, he might have permitted enough damage to the "blowing off" process as being performed on the water pipes, to have placed local plumbers in the way of making fortunes. Alderman Gallagher, who is a physician, is on the alert to improve the water supply of the city.

About 35 years ago, this city passed an ordinance requiring sidewalks to be cleaned of snow within 24 hours after a storm. This ordinance was passed as a result of demands from a majority of residents who had been forced to wade through snow, swish through slush, and who had in many instances suffered broken bones, abrasions and loss of equanimity by falling on icy sidewalks. It was enforced rigidly for many years, but in recent years has been ignored to a large extent. Some of the older residents have conveniently forgotten this law; the newer residents appear not to have become aware of it. A few of our policemen, mindful of their routes who do not obey it; and become unpopular with those notified. Many of our policemen make no effort to have this ordinance obeyed by householders on their routes.

A few of those on whom this ordinance works a hardship, are women of limited means, who have no men residing in their homes to shovel the snow after a storm. But, in many cases, sidewalks are not shoveled in front of houses where male occupants reside, who are capable physically of indulging in a little physical exercise, and who would benefit by it. Others, who have not the time nor disposition to shovel the sidewalks in front of their property, can well afford to hire some poor man to perform this task. And there are many men in Newton, who have been idle for many weeks, who would welcome such employment.

A remark frequently heard on the day of the big storm was,—"The taxi men are making big money today." As a matter of fact, the taxi men lost money. Early in the day one car took several hours to carry a passenger on a 25c. fare; another taxi consumed 36 gallons of gas making a trip to Wellesley and return. By mid-afternoon of that day most of the taxis had to quit. Only Mack trucks or tractors could buck the drifts.

Too many motorists are disobeying the law which forbids autos passing street cars on the left side. This law was passed after many persons had been killed because of such practice. What chance has a passenger, alighting from the front end of a street car, to escape from some auto which comes speeding along by the hidden side of the electric vehicle? Since the storm, it would appear that a majority of motorists have yielded to the temptation to "brush by" on the left side of street cars from which passengers are alighting. Human lives are of more importance than the loss of a few seconds' time to some autoist who is in a "great hurry" to arrive at some destination, and who perhaps will loaf for hours after reaching said destination. Sufficient arrests should be made to compel the cessation of this dangerous practice.

Formerly, the Boston Elevated Railway Company was required to remove from the streets, the snow which its plows piled alongside the car tracks. Hundreds of large puns were owned by the company for this purpose, and later, many big auto trucks were hired every winter. But, the "Elevated" had a bill put through the Legislature in an unobtrusive manner, which released it from this obligation. The result is apparent in the condition of the streets in Watertown, Cambridge, and Boston since the big storm.

There may be some other cities in this vicinity where the principle streets were cleared of snow, following last week's storm, as rapidly as were the streets of Newton. But if so, we did not observe such a fact. Street Commissioner Stuart and a force of men, plows, and trucks, clearing the streets and carting the snow away, even from the beginning of the snowfall. Nonantum Square and the other business centres of this city were passable on the day of the storm; and were practically freed of snow on the following day.

In adjoining places, such as Brighton, the business sections were still blocked with snowdrifts on Saturday night. In Newton, the principle streets had plows running on them while the storm was in progress, and were passable all times. In most of the adjoining cities and towns, the principle streets were not cleared for at least 24 hours after the storm had ended, and some have not yet been plowed. All of which goes to prove, that Newton is a very desirable place in which to reside. Notwithstanding the efficient work of Commissioner Stuart and his force, the office of the Newton Street Department received dozens of telephone calls on the day after the storm, from persons who were quite indignant because outlying residential streets had not been plowed.

Some persons in this burg, who pride themselves on being more or less in the pink of physical condition, chafe considerably because they must shovel snow off a short length of sidewalk. What would they do if financial circumstances compelled them to shovel snow over the sides of high trucks for 12 or 15 hours at a stretch?

When Alderman Richard Leahy, at the last aldermanic meeting, called attention to the possible collapse of hot water boilers in residences of Newton, when the water mains will be "blown off," John Ahern, who was "listening in" had a grin that stretched from ear to ear. John is a plumber. What plumber would not smile at such a happy prospect?

The young folks of today enjoy some winter sports which were not accorded to the young folks of the last generation. Skiing, for instance. Skiing practically all through the winter, on such places as Bullough's Pond. Shoe skates, instead of the old-fashioned attachable skates, which sometimes would stay put and other times would not. The old-fashioned skates also had a habit of falling off when one was speeding, causing nasty falls. But the young folks of the past generation enjoyed some winter pastimes which the present rising generation is not privileged to participate in. The long swift coasts on the hilly streets; going "like sixty" on the big double-runners and bob sleds. The sleigh parties to Bailey's at South Natick in George's Bush's big puns or in Stephen Cates' boat sleigh. Those were the nights of "real sport": the crisp winter air; the silvery moon shining; four or six horses plodding along to the accompaniment of jingling bells; choruses of oldtime songs sung by happy voices. To be preferred, many think, to the modern diversion of motorizing to an automobile inn, and jazzing for several hours.

TWO DEATHS IN DUNCAN FAMILY

Harrie E. Duncan of 26 Berkshire road, Newtonville, died at his late residence on February 5th, after a week's illness with pneumonia. He was born in Worcester 75 years ago and had resided in Newton for 35 years. His funeral services on Monday afternoon were conducted by Rev. E. T. Davidson and Rev. Albert T. Parker. Cremation will be at Mount Auburn.

Mr. Duncan's daughter, Caroline L., died on Wednesday morning after having been ill five days with pneumonia.
Her funeral services are being held this afternoon at 2:30, the same clergymen officiating, who officiated at her father's funeral. Cremation will be at Mount Auburn. Miss Duncan, who was 51 years of age, is survived by her twin sister, Miss Katherine Duncan.

Auburndale Woman's Club

On Tuesday, February 16th, a regular meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held in the Auburndale Club. The afternoon is in charge of the Legislative Committee, Mrs.
John Brown, Jr., Chairman.

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, the "War
President" of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak on "The Spirit of the Present."
Mrs. Gurney is well-known throughout New England and the Middle West and is a most fascinating speaker. There will be music, and tea will be served.

"The Hottentot" is scheduled to be given by the same Club on Thursday evening, the 18th, this being only another of the many triumphs achieved by the Auburndale Woman's Club in entertainment of its fortunate members. Mrs. Lyman W. Gore is directing the play, and Mrs. G. F. Nudd has the

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Art Room of the Newton Centre
Woman's Club is now open for a week of exhibit of Portraits by William Cushing Loring, and residents of Newton will not only appreciate this opportunity to view works that are most worth seeing, but they will welcome the opportunity in viewing them to honor one of their own talented artists. Mrs. John Bergeson, the Art Chairman, has arranged for Mr. Loring's paintings to remain in the Art Room from the 11th to the 18th of February inclusive. Mr. Loring studied painting in Boston under Edmund C. Tarbell, and Frank W. Benson, and in New York under William M. Chase.
In England and France he has studied under various masters, and enjoyed rare experiences and opportunities that have developed his ability. For fifteen years he has been Head of the Drawing and Painting Department in the Rhode Island School of Design at Providence. For the past twenty years he has been a member of the Museum Committee of that city, and is still serving in that honored capacity. The new museum which has just been completed is one well worth a visit for any who travel to Rhode Island.

February 15th is the date for the first lecture offered in the course of two by the Public Health Committee, at 10:30 o'clock at the Club House.
The speaker is to be Edith Hale Swift of the American Social Hygiene Association of New York, whose subject is "Modern Youth and Its Problems."
Mrs. Murray P. Horwood, Chairman announces Dr. Swift as an experienced and capable lecturer, and a familiar speaker in many of the leading educational institutions in this country, and as one whose talks should be most helpful to those having any responsibility toward young children, since she will lay special emphasis on the subject of sex hygiene. The course is open not only to club members, but to all who may be interested.

The third and last lecture of the Cooking Course, arranged by Mrs. E.
D. Leonard, Chairman of Home Economies, takes place on Wednesday afternoon, the 17th, at the Club House at 2:30 o'clock. Miss Weimer, the instructor, representing Washburn-Crozier Company, will give as that time her final hints on the making of Icings, Cakes, Pastries, and Unusual Desserts, and her last appetizing samples—unless, of course, her pupils have fortunately mastered her art for their own pleasure in the future!

Newton Community Club

Mrs. Ida Porter-Boyer will give the Current Events Lecture postponed from Thursday, February 4th, on Thursday, February 18th, in the Underwood School Hall at 2:30 o'clock.
This is the fourth in the series of six lectures given on the first Thursday of each month during the club year.
Tickets may be procured from Miss Margaret H. Aubin.

Social Science Club

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held at the Hunnewell Club on February 24th, instead of on the 17th. There will be a paper by Miss Dorothy S. Emmons on "Dress and the Personal Equation." The program which was scheduled for the 10th, and which meeting had to be cancelled on account of the storm, will be given at some future date.

Dates of Next Meetings

February 13. Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands.

WORST AMONG EVIL SPIRITS

Among Other Misdeeds, Asmodeus Is Said to Have Usurped the Throne of Solomon for a Time.

In Jewish demonology Asmodeus was an evil spirit who was said to have possessed what today would be called an X-ray eye. Asmodeus is sometimes jeerily spoken of as destroying matrimonial happiness. In the apocryphal book of Tobias, the Detroit News states, he is represented as loving Sara, the daughter of Raguel and Edna, and causing the death of seven husbands on the bridal night. Tobias, instructed by the angel Raphael, buried the heart and liver of a fish that he caught in the Tigris, and the smell drove the demon into Egypt, where Raphael bound him, leaving Tobias and Sara in peace.

According to the testament of Solomon, Asmodeus brought to Solomon's service the magic worm Shamir, whose touch split stones; he then for a time usurped the throne of Solomon, performing many of the evil deeds attributed to Solomon. Le Sage has made Asmodeus the title character of his "Le Diable Boiteux" ("The Limp-ing Devil, or Devil on Two Sticks").
Asmodeus being fabled as having become lame by breaking his leg. He is released from his prison, a bottle, by Don Cleofas, a young Spanish scholar whom Asmodeus carries in his flight over Madrid, giving him the power of seeing through the roofs and walls of the houses.

TO QUENCH AMERICAN THIRST

Veritable Sea of Soft Drinks Consumed by Thirsty in This Country in a Single Year.

The soft drinks consumed in this country in a single year make up a quantity of liquid refreshment so large that it is hard to conceive of such a volume of varicolored and varifavored waters. If our last year's supply had been available to Methuselah at the beginning of his alleged 969 years he would have had 8 bottles to dispose of every minute of his mortal span. The cold figures estimated by statisticians tell us that each year thirsty Americans consume 4,000,000,000 bottles of soft drinks, and this total does not include beverages such as near beer, made from cereals. This sparkling flood is poured out from 10,000 bottling establishments and over 110,000
soda counters.

This enormous thirst-quenching industry is a relatively recent development, a result of the rapid commercializing of the discoveries of the chemist.
Had not great changes taken place in the beverage industry it is hardly probable it would ever have grown to present proportions.

Manners and the Motor.

The Victorian era undoubtedly had its faults but it's passing has taken away a few things which the world would do better to retain. For instance:

The other afternoon three elegantly dressed young gentlemen, driving up Woodward avenue in a large open automobile, espied a young lady of their acquaintance being taken northward in a street car. They moved over under her window, attracted her attention by several blasts of their horn and, by signs and nods, indicated that she should alight at the next stop and climb in with them.

This she did and the last the writer saw was the four of them bowling merrily along in earnest, but obviously very juvenile, conversation.

But—and this is the point of the story—during all these goings-on not one of the elegantly dressed young gentlemen removed his hat.—Detroit News.

Church Will Conduct Clinic.

A clinic in which the discoveries of modern medical and psychological science will be invoked to effect cures will be conducted by the Plymouth Congregational church of Seattle,
Wash., according to Dr. Chauncey J.
Hawkins, its pastor. Plymouth is one of the oldest and largest churches in Seattle.

"This is no fake faith cure proposition," said Doctor Hawkins. "Faith cures, we know that, but faith is not credulity or superstition. Faith must be based on reasonable and working knowledge."

"When some definite and physical cause is at the base of a disease, medical and surgical science will be used.
But when the disease is of such a nature that it can be best reached by the psychologist, the patient will be placed under the care of these specialists."

Queen Establishes Rest Cure.

Queen Victoria of Sweden has begun the establishment of a rest cure for women as her investment of the $45,- 000 which she received on her sixtieth birthday last year, as a gift subscribed by the women of her country, and her popularity has been enhanced more than ever by this act.

The site of the new rest cure is the picturesque island of Oland, in the Baltic, just off the southwest coast of Sweden, where the queen's favorite summer villa, "Solnaden," is situated.
She has purchased three houses, which will be reconstructed for the new institution.

Outlawed Moth Baggage.

Empty grain bags have been outlawed in Guatemala, their importation being prohibited by presidential decree. The purpose is to prevent the introduction of a moth, called the "gorgojo," found in many of the coffee-producing countries and very harmful to the coffee bean.

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

One morning after many trying incidents of irregular nature a kindergarten teacher was busy getting her room in readiness for the following day when a Mother, leading by the hand a small "only child," entered.
By her dress it was easy to tell that her life was well padded by luxury though by her manner one would have rather assumed that she toiled from dawn till dusk. The child was only five years of age but as blazé as a society woman of forty.

"Are you in charge here?" queried
the woman in a condescending drawl.

"Yes," replied the teacher with as much grace as she could muster in response to the lack of it in the other.
"Well, my little girl is too young to go into the first grade, though she is, of course, quite able to mentally, and I wish to make a few inquiries concerning the kindergarten. Does it really do any good? Oh, of course,
YOU would say so—but I mean is it any more than a nursery, so to speak?
I don't really care about her coming—
I feel it would be a waste of her time but most of her little friends are in school you know. Of course they don't learn anything here, I suppose."

All that to a teacher who had thought so highly of her work that she devoted her life to it. She had met others before with more or less the same ignorant theories and she had found that explanations and instructions of the kindergarten's great good to children fell on desert air when offered to closed minds. She wasted no words, therefore, but simply said, "Your little girl would doubtless find much to help her here."

The little girl never arrived, but her first grade year was a failure. Her highly nervous nature was unable to cope with the many readjustments necessary when school is first started.
The kindergarten might crudely be compared to the hot soup course of an otherwise large and difficult meal.
It prepares the way! It is in other words, almost indispensable.

Stearns School

Last week it was the privilege of the Stearns School to have Mr. Robert Emory, better known as Big Brother, speak to the boys and girls of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. His short talk on thrift and courteousness was certainly well understood by the children. He also tried to impress upon them that their place in the evening is home. The boys and girls who listen in on the radio must be at home to do so. Big Brother wasn't serious all of the time. He entertained us with songs and humorous sketches. One half hour with him was altogether too short.

A short time ago a group of Newton teachers were invited out to the Children's Museum at Jamaica Plain in order to find out how such an institution might help them in their teaching. A certain number of talks or informal lectures are prepared each year by various members of the staff. These are illustrated in as many ways as possible. Whatever material the museum may have, as a study of that topic, is used when possible. Teachers by previous arrangement may avail themselves of this valuable work.

Our motto is, "A bank book for every child; every child putting something into a bank book." Competition amongst the rooms is very keen. Not only are the different rooms trying to see who can deposit the most each week but also they are trying to see which room has the greatest number of depositors. Mr. Lewis' sixth grade ranked 92 per cent during the past week. Miss Stoddard's room was second with a record of 78 per cent.
Miss Walker's room deposited $8.59 and Mr. Lewis' room $8.58.

In spite of the storm and bad waking, Miss Lovely's room had a record of 98.98 per cent attendance for the month of January. Miss Walker's room was second with a record of 97.4 per cent.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Harold Lloyd in "Girl Shy" was enjoyed by a very large assembly in our school auditorium last week. Slow motion sport scenes and Pathe views added interest to a program acclaimed by many hearty laughs.

On Wednesday Mr. Daniels entertained the school at assembly in an illustrated talk on Japan.

Miss Goodnow and Miss Kingman were the hostesses for the week. They gave a tea for the teachers on Monday.
About twenty-five visitors, accompanied by Miss Bragg, had lunch at the school on Wednesday.

It was necessary to dismiss the school at one o'clock because of the storm Thursday. Our usual good attendance was marred by this storm.

There has been excellent skating on the school rink, due to the good care given to it by the boys during their gymnasium periods.

Lasell

The winners of the races in the Carnival held on Saturday on the recreation grounds were as follows:—
Skating Races, Frances Robertson, Melrose; Fancy Skating, Singles,
Frances Robertson; Fancy Skating, Doubles, Virginia Wood, Tiverton,
R. I., Victoria Jackson, Toronto, Canada; Snowshoe Races, Frances Robertson; 100-yard Ski Race, Doris Cobb, Woodford, Me.; 1/2 Mile Ski Race,
Dorothy Quimby, Englewood, N. J.;
Ski slide for from, Barbara Winslow, Hyde Park. The Freshman Class were the winners in the toboggan race for distance.

In the evening Virginia Wood was crowned queen of the Carnival, after which she led her subjects in all the various sports, concluding with a general good time and refreshments at the Gardner Gymnasium.

The faculty, students of the school, and friends will be the guests of Dr.
and Mrs. Winslow on Friday evening when a program of musical numbers and readings will be given.

The Midwinter Reunion of the Laselle Seminary Alumnae Association will be held at the Twentieth Century
Club, 3 Joy street, Boston, on Monday February 15. A business meeting of graduates will be held at 12:15 o'clock to consider the new Constitution and luncheon will be served at 1:30 o'clock.

READ FUND LECTURES

The Read Fund Trustees announce a series of six lectures on American Statesmen by Edward Howard Griggs to be held in the Underwood School Auditorium on Saturday evenings, February 20, 27 and March 6, 13, 20
and 27th.

The lectures are free to the public and the doors will open at 7:30 P. M.
with no reserved seats.

Dr. Edward Howard Griggs of New York is one of the most popular and forceful lecturers on the American platform today.

He has neither cult nor sect nor institution behind him. A university graduate, a student and traveler abroad, tutor at an age when others are pupils, a winning teacher, Dr.
Griggs is, above all, a profound scholar and a fluent pleasing speaker.

GARDEN CLUB MEETING

The February meeting of the Garden Club will be held this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F.
Freedy, 148 Jewett street.

A delightful evening was spent by the Club last month, at Miss Georgia Emery's. The house was attractively decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, and the guests enjoyed seeing many interesting garden books and the numerous photographs of Miss Emery's gardens, one in Newton and the other in Jaffrey, N. H.

Miss Emery, in a short talk, gave some of her experiences abroad, last summer, and also spoke of Miss Case's Hillcrest Garden School for Boys, the Hilltop School in Groton, and the nature walks in the Arnold Arboretum.

DEATH OF MR. DELANO

Mr. Frank Delano of Beacon street,
Waban, died early Wednesday morning at the Newton Hospital, following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Delano was 42 years of age and is survived by his widow and one son, Philip Delano.

Mr. Delano was the owner of the Delano Men's Hat stores of Boston.
He was vice-president of the Sandy Burr Golf Club, a member of the Duxbury Golf Club and connected with several social and fraternal organizations.
Funeral services are being held this afternoon at his late home, 1572 Beacon street, Waban, Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Park officiating, and the interment will be in the Newton Cemetery.

NEWTON CENTRE GET-TOGETHER

Men's Clubs of Different Churches Have A Most Enjoyable Evening. Rev. Dr. Crane A Speaker

The annual "get-together" of the men's clubs of different churches of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, held on Tuesday night at the Newton Centre Methodist Church, about 10 men sat down to an excellent supper prepared and served by the ladies of the churches participating. Ralph Emery was chairman of the supper committee and Mrs. Emery was head waitress. She was assisted by the following young ladies—Margaret Ferguson, Marjorie Duthie, Sally Collins, Elizabeth Bonney, Reita McClellan, Evelyn Marston, Carol Eaton, Harriet Maynard, Gladys Smith, Rachel Horner, Mrs. Eleanor Speare, Winifred Aynor, Mrs. Gertrude Gilcrea, Mrs. Dorothy Mirick, Margaret Gold, Edith Orrill, Florence Orrill, Mildred McLeod, Catherine Leitz, Mrs. John H. Murray, Margaret Burns, Esther Chandler, Dorothea Callowhill, Florence Wyman, Mrs. Lillian Ellis, Gram Achesah. During the meal, a number of the songs popular during the war, were sung under the lead of Rev. Ralph E. Emerson.

After a bountiful supply of "eats" had disappeared, groups from the five churches presented stunts; Harry R. Amphere acting as master of ceremonies. The first stunt was given by a jazz orchestra composed of men from Trinity Church under the lead of Leonard A. Arnold. The musicians, who in weird instruments, produced close and distant harmony were—Clifford Lassen, Norman Hall, Harold Haines, Gus Brietzke and C. G. Parsons.

For the second stunt, the Unitarian church presented "Goldie" and "Dustie" in the persons of Maurice Quinlan and Keith C. Brown. They sang several selections in a manner that produced a demand for encores. As a diversion, Charles E. Kelsey made an appeal for those present to operate in the coming campaign to be held to raise $1,000,000 for the Newton Hospital. He told that no additions have been added to the hospital in the last 18 years; with the result that there are insufficient quarters for nurses and employees, some of whom are sleeping in the basements of hospital buildings. Much more room is required to make proper provision for

CENTRAL CLUB SHOW

The first annual show of the Central Club, the men's organization of the Central Congregational Church at Newtonville, was held last Friday and Saturday nights at Players Hall, West Newton. The entertainment was under the direction of Frederick B. Munro and Helen Parker Munro of Boston, the proceeds being turned over to the fund for a memorial organ at the church. The 11th Cavalry Orchestra of Boston assisted; Mrs. Munro served as accompanist. A. L. Wakefield was stage manager and the costumes were furnished by Curtis & Weld of Boston.

The first part of the program consisted of a number of specialties. As the curtain rose, the audience looked on a scene depicting the manager's office of the "Central Personnel Bureau" with the janitor, "Fuller" asleep on a chair. "Fuller" was impersonated by H. D. Billings. Fred M. Blanchard assumed the leading part as the manager and filled the character in a manner befitting a professional, despite a wig that looked like a dry mop. Specialties were furnished by C. E. Huntley, who danced cleverly; A. L. Wakefield, a Babe number; and Harold Earle as "Officer Mulligan," a pugacious Celtic cop. The hit of the evening was made by Raymond Tucker, who, in clerical garb, delivered an eloquent sermon on the second story of "Mother Goose." After Mr. Tucker, as the Rev. U. R. Batter, had concluded his discourse, the audience had a clear knowledge as to the Whys, Wherefores and Whens of Patty Cakes. Rev. U. R. Batter was the most austere appearing clergyman ever seen in Newton. The Musicians, consisting of H. W. Shedd, Leonard Basset, Sidney Webster, Stanley Kidder and E. C. Kidder, gave jazz melodies on the piano, saxophones and uke; with Mr. Kidder singing songs on local topics. The first part was concluded by a mournful monologue on matrimonial experiences by S. L. Sholley.

Part Two of the program was an old-time minstrel show by the Central Club Minstrels. Mr. Blanchard, minus his wig, was interlocutor, and all dolled up, proved that the male of the species can be made quite as attractive as the female, when the same aids to beauty are used. The end men were H. L. Earle, S. M. Hill, P. N. Aborn, C. E. Huntley, E. T. Campbell, H. D. Billings, W. B. Hanna and S. V. Claggett. A real good quartette consisted of D. Brewer Eddy, Mark Mohler, Enoch Bell and Frank Brooks. Included in the chorus were—

P. E. Allen, F. C. Alexander, R. C. Ashenden, A. D. Auryansen, C. H. Bowman, J. A. Bricket, A. H. Burdick, E. W. Chamberlain, Ken Chaplin, W. A. Clark, W. E. Cooper, D. P. Frail, A. W. Gilkerson, D. M. Hill, N. P. Hudson, Ned Kenison, E. C. Kidder, W. J. Kidder, G. W. Kimball, A. L. LeBaron, H. H. Lounsbury, W. E. Leonard, A. P. Martin, R. B. Parker, W. E. Perkins, W. M. Ross, W. H. Sears, E. L. Tenney, W. D. Thompson, E. K. Titus, Ray, Tucker, C. W. Tylee, A. L. Wakefield, W. D. Walker, G. W. Wright, E. C. Wyatt.

The following musical numbers were given: Opening Chorus The Entire Company End Song, "Yes Sir! That's My Baby," Harold L. Earle Duet, "That Certain Party" Messrs. Kidder and Cooper Ballad, "Save Your Sorrow" Arthur H. Burdick Song, "Pal of My Cradle Days," D. Brewer Eddy Bass Solo, "Fuzzy Wuzzy" Franklin G. Field End Song, "Personally," William B. Hanna Quartette, "Barber Shop Chords" End Song, "Farmer Gray," Edwin T. Campbell Closing Chorus The Entire Company

The performances reflected credit on Mr. and Mrs. Munro, who coached the show, and on all the principals and chorus. The merit of this first show of the Central Club will cause future shows by the same organization to be eagerly awaited. Large audiences on both nights made the venture a pleasing financial success. The 60th Anniversary of Central Congregational Church will occur in 1928, and it is planned at that time, in conjunction with other improvements, to have installed in the church an excellent modern organ, which will serve as a memorial to those young men of the church who gave up their lives in the World War. It was to assist in raising funds for this memorial, that the show was given.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

An innovation, which appeared to strike the members of the Newton Rotary Club most favorably, was the presence at the weekly luncheon on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club of a young lady speaker. She was Miss Doris Greenwood, director of the Massachusetts Safety Council and her pleasing personality was greatly enhanced by the charming way in which she put her message across. Miss Greenwood stressed the need of "Safety Education" in our public schools and told of the work now under way throughout the state in this direction. There are some six or seven such councils in the Newton schools and the work should be extended until every school had such a council. Two children from each school are selected as active members and all other pupils in the school can become associate members by pledging themselves to keep on the side of safety. A little chart is furnished each room with a sliding marker by which the growth of the associate membership in each room is noted. When the marker indicates that nearly all the pupils are members, the limelight of undesired publicity beats upon the few who will not bind themselves. The children have committees on suggestions and investigation and after investigation some one will announce to the class, for instance, that coasting is dangerous on such a street and then call upon everyone who will not coast on that street to hold up their hands. The same method is followed in case of dangerous skating and in many other directions. Miss Greenwood emphasized the point that the old method of saying "Don't" had been superseded by this plan of enlisting

BEGGING RIDES

The following resolutions regarding the practise of begging rides on passing automobiles have been adopted by the Citizenship Classes of the Newton High schools and endorsed by the presidents of the senior, junior, sophomore and freshmen classes of the High School.

The Citizenship Classes of the Newton High School and Junior High School through this notice wish to inform the citizens of Newton that we condemn and deplore the practice of "bumming rides," a habit that has increased considerably in the last few years. We hope that the citizens of Newton will not judge the good citizenship of the majority of pupils by the actions and practice of a few who make a habit of "bumming for lifts," thus endangering life and limb and becoming a nuisance and danger to the drivers of automobiles. We also request that car-owners will help us stop this annoying practice by refusing to give a lift to the boys and girls who make beggars of themselves by walking in the streets bumming rides. A small group of pupils from the High Schools and the Grades are to a great extent lowering the fair name of our schools, and we ask the citizens of Newton not to judge our citizenship by this group.

May we appeal to all the Clubs, Societies, and Organizations of Newton to help stamp out this practice and ask that a lift be refused these "Roadside Beggars."

Alderman Madden Opposes Granting Additional Permits On the Main Thoroughfare of the City

City Hall is infested. Not by grafting politicians, not by bribing lobbyists; but by rats. It has come to a pretty pass when repulsive rodents will brazenly intrude into the sacred precincts of the Aldermanic Chamber even as a delightful collation is being enjoyed by the aldermen. Some of the aldermen have complained that they are pestered by applicants for garage and filling station permits, so it was the last straw, when, on Monday evening, a rat whose application was not on the docket, walked boldly into the committee room where the Finance and Public Works Committees were finishing a supper furnished by Caterer Marshall. The rat was applying for cheese. Usually Caterer Marshall provides Roquefort cheese, but on Monday night he had for a change, "Young America" cheese. This cheese is so named because it is fresh. The rat, making its rounds through the building, detected the odor of the cheese and butted into the aldermanic supper.

The recent hunt of the Roosevelt after the "ovis poli" was tame compared with the chase that started after that rat. But, Red Grange is not in that rat's class when it comes to side-stepping, and the nearest anyone of the aldermen came to catching it was, when Alderman Grebenstein, in trying to corral it, slammed a metal waste basket over the tip of its tail.

The rat gave a squeal and headed in the direction of Alderman Norman Pratt. That gentleman started to shake his legs "a la Charleston" and gave the rat a kick in the ribs. The rodent, thoroughly disgusted at the nature of the reception it received beat a hasty retreat up into the retiring room, and escaped.

City Hall is becoming so filled with rats, that it has been suggested that City Messenger Lucian Davis procure a ferret to rid the building of the invaders. It is bad enough to have the old structure a fire-trap, without making it a rat-trap. Another argument has been found for a new City Hall.

The regular meeting was called at 8.10. With the exception of Alderman Leahy, all members were present, though Alderman Gordon had to depart early in the meeting. The first business before the meeting was the hearing on the application of the Fuller Realty Trust for an outside gasoline selling station adjoining the garage at 956 Watertown street, West Newton. Judge Thomas Weston, who appeared for the petitioners on May 15th of last year, when they sought the garage permit, again appeared for them Monday night. He said, "Many will remember late last Spring when the Cate estate applied for the garage permit nothing was said about an outside pump." Mr. Weston is a man

CHAMPIONSHIP HOCKEY SERIES

The long-awaited round robin series between the four leading hockey teams in the interscholastic league is definitely scheduled to start Monday afternoon at the Boston Arena at 2 P. M. The four teams which will compete will be Melrose, Newton, Cambridge Latin, and the winner of the game to-night between Arlington and Stoneham.

The drawings for the games have been made and announced. Newton will play the winner of the Arlington-Stoneham battle while Melrose and Cambridge will cross pucks.

While the dates for the second and third sets of games have not yet been decided upon the drawings for opponents have been made. On the second day Newton and Melrose will face each other for their long anticipated meeting while Cambridge will face the fourth team in the series. In the final round Newton will play Cambridge while Melrose will take on the other survivor.

Wednesday afternoon at the Boston Arena the Harvard freshman hockey team shut out the Newton high school sextet 3 to 0. It was the second defeat of the season for the local team. The score does not tell the real story of the game as Captain Guy Holbrook's team put up a game fight and penetrated the Harvard Cubs defense time and again only to have Jackson, the Crimson net guardian, make a brilliant stop of a seemingly certain goal.

The collegians, who have not tasted defeat this season, although they were held to a tie by the fast Melrose high outfit tallying in each of the three periods.

Holbrook had a bit of tough luck in the first session when he received a nasty gash in the head. The game was stopped while the cut was treated. When he returned to action the Newton boy was somewhat unsteady but after his head cleared, he played one of the finest games of either team.

With the first period nearly over Carleton pushed the puck into the net after receiving a pass from Whiting. In the second period Captain Tudor scored unassisted while in the third period Putnam scored the final point on a pretty play. He took the puck from a scrimmage in front of the Newton goal, circled around the left defense and let go a close-up shot which Thompson could not handle. The summary:

Harvard, 1929—Crosby, Cunningham, rw; Putnam, Winston, Tudor, Carlton, lw; Bigelow, Covell, rd; Stanley, Whiting, id; Jackson, g.

Newton High—Spain, Powers, lw; Holbrook, c; Stubbs, Whitmore, rw; Andres, id; Pr

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Seldom does a legislative or governing body seem willing to change its decision or shift its position on a matter. This reluctance is not unnatural, for the members have an idea that they may be open to criticism; that once having taken a stand they ought to maintain it. We trust, however, that the Newton School Board will reconsider its decision to abandon the plan of sounding a "no school" signal on stormy days. What happened in the recent severe weather appears to have aroused no little discussion. We have a report that certain pupils made the struggle through the drifts simply to get there was to be no session that day. It cannot be said that the pupils, or the parents who sent them, were not abiding by the School Board's own rule that there would be sessions, come what come woe, and that absentees would forfeit marks or something or other. As we recall, the School Board's decision to hold sessions no matter what the weather was looked upon as an experiment. If that is true, then, in our opinion, the experiment has proven that the old system was the best. There may be objections to sounding the fire alarm for "no school," but it cannot involve the discomfort, inconvenience and general worry that beset a household when the question of school attendance is debated, beginning before breakfast. The best ordered family is not at all times free from debates over small matters and a stormy day can provoke much unnecessary conversation in a home where there are youngsters of school age. Again, the teachers, too, are entitled to consideration and to expect them to brave heavy weather for the sake of holding their job is demanding more than seems reasonable; at least as we view it. We believe that some rules are drawn a bit too tight, even by the thoughtful citizens who willingly give their time and efforts to governing the schools of Newton. Confident of the open-mindedness of our fellow citizens who so conscientiously perform their duties we look to see the rule altered.

The names of those identified with the Y. M. C. A. in its early days are still honored among us. The following excerpt from the historical sketch mentions several of our leading citizens of those days: "Doctor, Hampden B. Jones, having had private conference with Mr. George C. Dunne and Mr. George S. Trowbridge in September 1877, invited them with others to meet Friday evening, Oct. 5, 1877, at his home for a conference upon the subject, which resulted in invitations being extended from the several churches, for a meeting of men in Elliot Lower Hall, Thursday evening, Oct. 16th, 1877, at which meeting after a general discussion of the temperance work and how it could best be accomplished, a motion was made that it be expedient and that we do organize a Young Men's Christian Association." The following gentlemen spoke on the subject: Chas. W. Basset, A. I. Benyon, Henry E. Cobb, George C. Dunne, George S. Harwood, Dr. D. G. Harrington, W. H. Partridge, Moses H. Sargent, Daniel E. Snow, George S. Trowbridge and W. O. Trowbridge. A committee consisting of Messrs. D. Fletcher Barlow, Henry Bates, I. Benyon, E. W. Cate, H. W. Down, George C. Dunne, Reuben Forkall, George S. Harwood, Daniel E. Snow and George S. Trowbridge, were appointed who drafted a constitution, which was adopted at an adjourned meeting held Oct. 23, 1877. A committee at this time was appointed to nominate officers, who were duly elected Monday evening, Oct. 29th. A study of the list of officers shows that the first board included George S. Harwood, president; George S. Trowbridge, vice-president; George C. Dunne, clerk; F. M. Trowbridge, treasurer; E. B. Earle, E. W. Cate, J. M. Kellaway, H. B. Jones and Daniel E. Snow, directors.

We cannot resist placing before our readers these two paragraphs from the Y. M. C. A. history which are well worth attention: "The first attempt to organize a reading room and physical training department was made Feb. 3, 1879, when the records show the committee on rooms was authorized, 'to purchase two small tables, two checker boards, Indian clubs and dumb bells, and a Boston Journal for the Association rooms,' but appropriate space for the use of the gymnastic apparatus, which was later on increased by the addition of two pairs of chest weights, was difficult to secure, and it was not long before the entire apparatus was consigned to a dark, dusty closet where it rested until recently." What will the boys and men of 1926 who enjoy the magnificent gymnasium, swimming pool, etc., of the present building say to that?

And now for the "eternal problem" of the presence of fair ladies which seems to have confronted the founders of the association. The historical sketch has this to say: "Early in the year the question of opening the religious meetings of the Association to ladies was agitated, and for several years they were conducted as mixed meetings, until the date of incorporation of the Association under the laws of the Commonwealth, which occurred April 11, 1891."

Every citizen of Massachusetts will have an opportunity next Monday to shake hands with the Governor of the Commonwealth. But every citizen will not take advantage of it. This, we believe, is not as it should be. When that magnificent memorial, the Hall of Flags in the State House, is thrown open for such an occasion there should be far greater numbers on hand than make up this annual gathering. We have attended these events regularly and therefore insist that we have a pretty fair idea of who comes and who does not. We must say, and with no little regret, that Newton is seldom represented as it should be. People and organizations from other places turn out in larger groups and delegations, but somehow, Newton fails to hold up its end. We hear a good deal of patriotism everywhere and would not discourage such utterances. What we would like to see is a demonstration that means something. Surely there is no more inspiring anniversary for every American than Washington's Birthday. The ancient custom of ringing bells was to our mind worthy of continuance, but somehow there were those who thought the only fitting occasion were those of present day political significance. On these they would have bells rung, probably to emphasize their private views of a public question. However, with that point we are not so much concerned as with the representation from Newton at the Governor's reception. It is not only a good way in which one may show one's patriotic ideals, but it makes an interesting holiday. To see the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth and shake his hand, to see the military and civic bodies marching through the receiving line and to hear lively marching strains from a band is worth while. The Governors have always felt that children would enjoy the experience and to that end have made special arrangements to receive the youngsters. It may be a small thing to the grown-ups, although it should not be, but it means a whole lot in the life of a boy and girl. We sincerely trust that more Newton boys and girls will be on hand next Monday as the Governor's guests on Beacon Hill.

Lovers of birds have had some pretty severe tugging at their heart strings of late from the fact that the birds have suffered from lack of food. It must have been cheering to them, however, to see so much, or at least a wider interest in the feeding of crumbe, suet, etc. We do not feel there is anything that we can contribute along this line except to urge upon all our readers the general importance of doing their share so that the suffering of the birds may be alleviated as much as possible. We would like to tell of two interesting things that are important in this connection. More than one family, it appears, have found themselves perplexed for the reason that the birds have not always obtained the food intended for them. Scraps thrown out have been first discovered by dogs who have lost no time in eating them. One woman was telling another how difficult it was to prevent the dogs from eating the bird's meals. "I'll tell you how to overcome that," said the other, "because I have tried the plan myself and find it works with success. Instead of throwing the crumbs on the ground, we put them on the roof of the porch. The birds soon find out, for they are knowing little things, and there they can sit and eat their food without interruption. No stray cat or dog can harm them in their elevated dining room." This suggestion so impressed us that we gladly pass it along. Another discovery regarding the feeding of suet. The woman who discovered that piazza or porch roofs are the best feeding places for birds says that suet should not be suspended from a string, but tied to the branch of a tree. It should not be suspended, but bound to the branch. The birds can then reach it much more easily.

One of our readers insists that when it comes to the matter of English language he is a Grade A purist. This seems about as high as anybody can possibly go. To prove his standing he insists that the popular phrase, "So's your old man" should at once be edited and made to read, "Likewise your paternal parent." We insist, however, in view of the vast amount of shoveling the head of every home is called upon to do, that the phrase, if it is to be revised, should be made to read, "Snow's your old man."

We hear a good deal of patriotism everywhere and would not discourage such utterances. What we would like to see is a demonstration that means something. Surely there is no more inspiring anniversary for every American than Washington's Birthday. The ancient custom of ringing bells was to our mind worthy of continuance, but somehow there were those who thought the only fitting occasion were those of present day political significance. On these they would have bells rung, probably to emphasize their private views of a public question. However, with that point we are not so much concerned as with the representation from Newton at the Governor's reception. It is not only a good way in which one may show one's patriotic ideals, but it makes an interesting holiday. To see the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth and shake his hand, to see the military and civic bodies marching through the receiving line and to hear lively marching strains from a band is worth while. The Governors have always felt that children would enjoy the experience and to that end have made special arrangements to receive the youngsters. It may be a small thing to the grown-ups, although it should not be, but it means a whole lot in the life of a boy and girl. We sincerely trust that more Newton boys and girls will be on hand next Monday as the Governor's guests on Beacon Hill.

Lovers of birds have had some pretty severe tugging at their heart strings of late from the fact that the birds have suffered from lack of food. It must have been cheering to them, however, to see so much, or at least a wider interest in the feeding of crumbe, suet, etc. We do not feel there is anything that we can contribute along this line except to urge upon all our readers the general importance of doing their share so that the suffering of the birds may be alleviated as much as possible. We would like to tell of two interesting things that are important in this connection. More than one family, it appears, have found themselves perplexed for the reason that the birds have not always obtained the food intended for them. Scraps thrown out have been first discovered by dogs who have lost no time in eating them. One woman was telling another how difficult it was to prevent the dogs from eating the bird's meals. "I'll tell you how to overcome that," said the other, "because I have tried the plan myself and find it works with success. Instead of throwing the crumbs on the ground, we put them on the roof of the porch. The birds soon find out, for they are knowing little things, and there they can sit and eat their food without interruption. No stray cat or dog can harm them in their elevated dining room." This suggestion so impressed us that we gladly pass it along. Another discovery regarding the feeding of suet. The woman who discovered that piazza or porch roofs are the best feeding places for birds says that suet should not be suspended from a string, but tied to the branch of a tree. It should not be suspended, but bound to the branch. The birds can then reach it much more easily.

One of our readers insists that when it comes to the matter of English language he is a Grade A purist. This seems about as high as anybody can possibly go. To prove his standing he insists that the popular phrase, "So's your old man" should at once be edited and made to read, "Likewise your paternal parent." We insist, however, in view of the vast amount of shoveling the head of every home is called upon to do, that the phrase, if it is to be revised, should be made to read, "Snow's your old man."

"The first attempt to organize a reading room and physical training department was made Feb. 3, 1879, when the records show the committee on rooms was authorized, 'to purchase two small tables, two checker boards, Indian clubs and dumb bells, and a Boston Journal for the Association rooms,' but appropriate space for the use of the gymnastic apparatus, which was later on increased by the addition of two pairs of chest weights, was difficult to secure, and it was not long before the entire apparatus was consigned to a dark, dusty closet where it rested until recently." What will the boys and men of 1926 who enjoy the magnificent gymnasium, swimming pool, etc., of the present building say to that?

And now for the "eternal problem" of the presence of fair ladies which seems to have confronted the founders of the association. The historical sketch has this to say: "Early in the year the question of opening the religious meetings of the Association to ladies was agitated, and for several years they were conducted as mixed meetings, until the date of incorporation of the Association under the laws of the Commonwealth, which occurred April 11, 1891."

Every citizen of Massachusetts will have an opportunity next Monday to shake hands with the Governor of the Commonwealth. But every citizen will not take advantage of it. This, we believe, is not as it should be. When that magnificent memorial, the Hall of Flags in the State House, is thrown open for such an occasion there should be far greater numbers on hand than make up this annual gathering. We have attended these events regularly and therefore insist that we have a pretty fair idea of who comes and who does not. We must say, and with no little regret, that Newton is seldom represented as it should be. People and organizations from other places turn out in larger groups and delegations, but somehow, Newton fails to hold up its end. SCHOOL NOTES

Now, in the time of year when patriotism receives its extra tributes and our country's greatest men are once remembered in the minds of all, find time for such remembrance could seem that the best possible in which to demonstrate the esteem, which is not lessened but increased with years, would be to consider how far from their ideals we have travelled. Have we progressed in manners and grace as any child the writer has ever known, was playing in one of the municipal playgrounds so long ago. She happened to be the representative of her race present. All was quite serene until one of the white children conceived a fitful, one of the oldest and meanest ideas which till cross and impress, too "putty-ish" they matter.

"Oh look at the nigger! Hey—you see—what's playin' with a nigger or?" they shouted. The smile that had been so sweetly happy on that little girl's face did not disappear, as had thought it would, but it visibly changed. She was making a gallant effort to rise above a situation which in elder person would have carried with less dignity. "Nigger—nigger!" they shouted, bent on destroying her equilibrium and determined to bring her to the point of tears. They did not succeed. Her attitude was one of the most perfect likenesses to the attitude of Christ when he was jeered by the multitudes that could be witnessed. And she triumphed—her masters found their pleasure decidedly non-satisfying. But why—after all our years of progress and concentration upon the greatness and not the littleness of minds, should those white children have conceived that ancient and some where they learned to think of the negro as inferior to themselves. Where?—in their homes? Where does our civilization find room for such teachings? Of what use to each patriotism without—its ideals?

In 1925, thirteen thousand, nine hundred sixty books have been drawn from the public library at Newton Centre. This is three thousand four hundred forty-four books in advance of last year and no other section of Newton can boast of so large an increase.

Before Miss Chase of the Newton Library began her delightful talk about books to the seventh grade pupils on Friday afternoon, she congratulated them on their extensive reading and urged each and every child to help boost the drive for the new $10,000 library which Newton Centre hopes to achieve.

In a friendly, chatty style, this lover of books related story after story to eager listening ears and when the hour was spent the anticipation of getting to the library in time to draw the books of their choice was the greatest help to an otherwise reluctant withdrawal.

Hyde School

Some of the Fifth Grade boys are leaving baskets while the girls are tending the sewing class.

A spelling match between the two with grades a short time ago resulted in a three point victory for Miss Green's class.

A number of the teachers visited the Children's Museum at Jamaica Plain recently, preparatory to conducting groups of pupils to that institution to see at first hand many things they study about in their books.

The Washington and Lincoln birth exercises were held in the assembly hall this morning. The primary grades celebrated at nine o'clock, the summer grades at eleven. The entertainment consisted of exercises by children, each grade being represented.

Miss Ryder's Fifth Grade is divided into three groups of about ten members each. A captain, chosen by the group, is in charge. Each group has short meeting once a week. Much interest in friendly competition in person drills and games is manifest. Cooperation, loyalty, self-control and other civic virtues are fostered by this plan, as each child feels responsible for the rank of his troop.

Vincent Del Gallo, a seventh grade boy, was one of Martino's advanced pupils, who broadcasted from W. E. E. I. last week. Only thirteen years of age, Vincent has already shown that he has splendid talent. This, with his determination to make the most of his voice, would seem to assure his success in a musical career.

Perfect Attendance
Following are the names of the pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy from the opening of school in September to the first of February.

Grade Eight (Miss Hanscom): James Coffey, John McCourt, Allan Mitchell, Chester Tudbury, Nathalia Beals, Dorothy Bowen, Betty Cudworth, Elizabeth Gallagher, Eugenia Martin, Helen McMullin, Janet Rytter, Catherine Thompson, Virginia Townsend.

Grade Eight (Mrs. Blakemore): Ellsworth Benson, Donald Briggs, Warren Billaway, Winthrop Lewis, Edward Patterson, Carl Watt, Helen Coffey, Florence Lynch, Margaret Oakes.

Grade Seven (Miss Prentice): June Chelland, Elizabeth Drowne, Olive Dunham, Marjorie Munsil, Alice Thompson, Ruth Weeks.

Grade Seven (Miss Tabory): Mary Elizabeth Kerr, Catherine Martin, Margaret McKenna, Edward Cobleigh, Warren Colby, James Coveney, John Hodgkins, Clark Wisner, William McKenna.

Grade Six (Miss Merrill): Richard Briggs, Marcelle Dunphy, John Haughey, Martha Swail, Jane Riley.

Grade Six (Miss Abbott): David Hapgood, Elliot Robinson, Florence Albee, Ruth Bell, Julia McKenna.

Grade Five (Miss Green): John Gallagher, Helen Chelland.

Grade Five (Miss Ryder): John Nichols, Vernon Drowne, William Bittenbender, Kimball Mitchell, Joseph McCarthy, Clark Rayner, Thomas Boothby, Frances Green, Barbara Hicks, Betty Banker, Florence Briggs, Betty McCready.

Grade Four (Miss Sampson): Arthur Bartlett, Nancy Coan, Prescott Downer, Ralph Ives, Andrew Manley, Esme Lawrence, Joan Lawrence, Howard Ness.

Grade Four (Miss Barnard): Demetrio Ciccarillo, John Murphy, Charles Thompson, Evelyn Hoffman, Louise Kerr, Dorothy Lumsden, Barbara McMullin, Grace Thompson.

Grade Three (Miss Jewett): Barbara Banker, Lois Pope, John Ball, Joseph Blair.

Grade Three (Miss Smith): Louise Webster, Lester Davis, Paul Ewing, Daniel Haughey.

Grade Two (Miss Johnston): Virginia Squiers, Daniel Cronin, Hazel Quinlan.

Grade One (Miss Lewis): Dexter Allen.

Grade One (Miss Green): Jane Dealy.

Kindergarten (Miss Flanders): Charles W. Nightingale.

Mason School

The Mason School has recently received one hundred lantern slides, and three pictures,—"The Embarkation," "The Dance of the Nymphs," to the seventh drawing room; and "The Dutch Girl," to Miss Lawrence's sixth grade class.

This gift of Mrs. Samuel Widger through the N. C. S. A. is greatly appreciated by the children as well as the teachers.

As a tribute to the memory of Washington and Lincoln, the interesting exercises were given in the Mason School Hall.

Pupils of the sixth grade who participated were: Barbara Flecknoe, William Stone, Oram Fulton, Minot Guild, Luella Ryall, Betty Greene.

A playette, "When Duty Calls" was given. The characters were impersonated by Thomas Lyons, Richard Scott, Katherine Randall, Jacqueline Hall.

The pupils of the third grades also contributed to the program's success. Each year in our foreign correspondence, we exchange samples of work done in our school with those of Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, France, Australia, Hawaii, and the Philippines.

We write them of our school—its work and play; of our city, state, and nation; of our authors and statesmen. In return we learn of much that helps to make life useful and happy in those other lands.

A portfolio has just been received from Geneva. The clever drawings, done in color, of their birds, the pictures of their beautiful homes and cities accompanied by the explanatory letters which have been translated into English by the Junior Red Cross carry bits of Switzerland into our class rooms that bring our friends across the sea nearer and dearer to us.

F. A. Day Junior High School

The half year elections are being held for the members of the Student Council and the Student Patrol. The pupils to receive election to these honors are chosen on the basis of scholarship and conduct respectively.

A very instructive film, "Living Secrets of Wild Flowers and Animals," by A. C. Pillsbury was given in the school auditorium under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday.

The girls of IF prepared and served a very attractive and excellent breakfast Monday. Miss Pierce and Miss Greiner were their guests.

Special classes in posture are to be held the seventh periods by Miss Larcum and Mr. Simmons.

The girls played their first interschool basketball game of the season with the Watertown West Junior High School. The girls played a very good game but lost in a score of 19-24.

Lasell

The annual mid-winter luncheon of the Lasell Alumnae Association held at the Twentieth Century Club on Monday was attended by about eighty graduates, former students and faculty of the Seminary living in the vicinity of Boston. Following the luncheon, Mr. Towne spoke of the educational development of the Seminary. Dr. Winslow of the recent substantial additions to the Endowment Fund and his vision of a fine future for Lasell and Miss Potter closed the program with very personal and tender greetings in the form of a letter to the Alumnae from President Emerita Dr. C. C. Bragdon of Pasadena, California.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

The party of sixty-eight returning from the White Mountains where they spent the week end at Intervale, reported perfect conditions for winter sports and a fine time.

The members of the Newton Rotary Club and their ladies were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Winslow at dinner on Tuesday evening. The Lasell Glee Club and orchestra contributed to the entertainment, and the Lasell Dramatic Club presented a one-act play, "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil."

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock Fred Vining Fisher will deliver a stereoscopic lecture on "America" in Bragdon Hall.

The Senior Class will give a "sailor party" to the Sophomore Class on Saturday evening in Bragdon Hall.

The Vesper speaker on Sunday evening will be Dr. Edgar Park of the First Church, West Newton.

On Monday evening, February 22, Washington's birthday will be celebrated by a fancy dress dinner followed by dancing in the school auditorium.

NEWTON CENTRE SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

On Friday, February 12, the Executive Board of the Newton Centre School Association gave a tea at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, for Miss Helen S. Tolman, who is retiring after thirty years of teaching in the Mason School.

Miss Tolman was brought up in West Newton and attended school in the building that is now the Court House. She also taught for a few years in West Newton before coming to Newton Centre. During her thirty years at Mason School she has made a most remarkable record, being absent for less than one week during that time.

The tea in her honor was attended by teachers, members of the School Department, friends and former pupils. One of these, Miss Mary Clark, added much to the pleasure of the afternoon with her selections and another, Miss Catherine Noyes, presented Miss Tolman with a purse of $200 in gold, the gift of some of the Mason School alumni.

At a recent open meeting of the School Association the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"The Newton Centre School Association has learned with regret, of the resignation of Miss Helen S. Tolman, for thirty years a teacher in the Mason School.

"The Association feels that by the resignation of Miss Tolman, the Newton Schools lose a teacher of high rank, and a woman of strong character, whose influence for good will be carried on by the men and women who have been her pupils.

"Be it therefore resolved:

"1st That the Association express, to Miss Tolman, its regret at her going, its appreciation of her work and its most affectionate good wishes for her future.

"2nd That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Miss Tolman and that they be incorporated in the records of the Association."

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The spring concert of the Newton Choral Society will be held Tuesday evening, April 13, at Central Church. Mrs. Marjorie Warren Leadbetter has been engaged as soprano soloist. Mrs. Leadbetter has previously given a great deal of pleasure to the audiences of these concerts. Her dramatic singing and beautifully shaded effects will be a feature in rendering Gounod's famous oratorio "The Redemption," which is to be presented at that time by the chorus, with orchestra and organ accompaniment.

The society is greatly enjoying their rehearsals for this superb work. The following new members have recently been received: Miss Mary L. Tuttle and Miss Ethel G. Lewis, of Newtonville; and Mrs. Laura Hudson of Brookline.

ALDERMANIC MEETING

of unquestioned character. Far be it from us to impugn his veracity, but when he made this assertion, his memory must have been quite at fault. Because, when he argued on the 18th of last May in the aldermanic chamber in behalf of the granting of a garage permit to the Cate estate, he said in plain English, and with good enunciation, that no outside pumps were sought.

Mr. Weston continued by explaining to the Board that his clients, last Spring, as one condition for receiving the permit, had agreed to leave an open space of 30 feet on the Davis avenue corner of the property. This was done in deference to a couple of objectors who regard this corner as dangerous. His clients now desire to use this open space for an outdoor filling station, but to meet any possible objection, agree to have a curve at the exact corner of Davis avenue and another curve adjoining the garage.

Mr. Weston told the aldermen that the garage is located in the business district, that one use of such districts is for filling stations, and that there is a real need of such a station at this point. He again quoted Frank Goodwin as saying, "There is no record of any accidents having occurred, caused by autos entering or leaving public garages." He said that inasmuch as the aldermen had granted a garage and filling station permit last year on this property, the same restrictions be placed on the garage to assure safety to pedestrians, when the permit was sought last spring, appeared, and the hearing was reopened to permit him to object. Mr. Enegess explained that he lives at 942 Watertown street, had received no notice of the hearing, and had just read about it in the Boston paper. He told how, eight months ago, he had opposed the obstructing of the corner of Davis Court, and that at that time Judge Weston had said "his clients were not looking for an outside gasoline pump."

He related that former Alderman Lloyd the then chairman of the License Committee had asserted that no permit would be recommended for the garage if an outside pump was asked for; that collisions between autos had nearly occurred on the day last Spring when the committee were looking at the site; and that Chief of Police Burke is opposed to the corner being used.

The second matter on the docket was the hearing on the application of Joseph B. Jurad for a permit to increase the amount of gasoline he stores at 11 Court street from 1000 to 3000 gallons. Mr. Jurad said that he desires this increase to provide for his customers on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning, when as many as 1000 gallons is not enough.

A communication was received from the Street Department asking for an appropriation of $40,000 additional for the removal of snow and ice. Between the 1st of January and February 6th, $32,000 was expended by this department; of this amount $21,000 was spent the first week in February.

Another communication from the Mayor transmitted a request of the School Committee asking that three acres of land be acquired near the corner of Ward street and Waverley avenue for school purposes. This action of the School Committee was taken at its meeting of January 11th. The land in question is part of the Harbach estate, which, shortly before January 11th, was acquired by Fred H. Chamberlain for development purposes.

A communication was received from the Street Department asking for $10,500 to purchase two Holt tractors. The Street Department also asked for an appropriation of $11,750 to permit the purchase of two Mack trucks. These trucks will replace two Kelly trucks which have been in use for many years, which are in poor shape. The new trucks are badly needed at present to aid in the removal of snow.

Chairman Bliss of the License Committee moved that permits for private garages be granted as follows:—L. Desantis, 11 Cottage Court, 2-car; Charles Goodacres, 9 Ardmore road, 2-car; M. J. Leonard, 4 Gardner street, 1-car; C. L. Loeb, 10 Emerald street, 2-car; J. Marino, 50 Westchester road, 2-car; Andrew J. McNeil, 296 Woodland road, 1-car; S. M. Selloy, 221 Grove street, 2-car; Edwin C. Fisher, 5 Merrill road, 2-car.

Mr. Bliss also moved that the petition of the Newton Investment Company for a 25 car public garage at the corner of Washington and Hovey streets, be granted. Alderman Madden of Ward 1, asked if the question of a setback on this garage had been given consideration. Alderman Bliss replied "that the License Committee has no authority to specify setbacks in business zones, that the site is small and it would be unfair to require a setback, and that the Stuart Garage, nearby, has no setback."

Alderman answered "that the setback should be at the Newton Investment Company garage alone, but that all the houses along Washington street, in this vicinity, are being bought by persons who intend to erect automobile buildings; that no sidewalk this side of Boston is used more by pedestrians, and that it should be safeguarded." Mr. Madden asserted that he has had to dodge cars entering and leaving the Garden City Garage, near this location; that if a row of garages be built between Thorun and Hovey streets, pedestrians will dodge a car issuing from one door to be hit by a car coming out of the next door. He said it is necessary to station a man at the entrance of the Stuart Garage to warn pedestrians when a car is coming out, and that the owner of this garage, who says a setback was not made in that building.

Mr. Madden told his colleagues that the aldermen of 30 years ago have been criticised for allowing the bank building to remain where it is, the aldermen of 15 years ago have been criticised for not taking the southeast corner of Centre and Washington streets, and that the present aldermen will be criticised if they allow a row of garages to be erected flush with the much travelled sidewalk on Washington street. He asked Mr. Bliss if the License Committee had sought the opinion of the Planning Board on this matter?

Mr. Bliss replied that his committee had not conferred with the Planning Board, but had given the matter very careful consideration and was unanimous in favoring the granting of the petition. He explained that the building will be used as a salesroom with glass windows on the corner of the two streets and that no matter what building will be erected on this corner, the place will be dangerous.

Alderman Earle said that this corner is not half as dangerous as many other corners in the city; and if the city starts to take every corner, it will become bankrupt. He remarked that autos are not sold like postage stamps, and it is unnecessary to cut this corner.

Alderman Bail volunteered the information that the petitioner had told him that there will be no entrance for cars on the Washington street side of the building. Alderman Madden came back with the observation that it will be easy to make an entrance later on; he cited certain changes which had been made in the plans of the Stuart Garage, after the permit had been granted. He said other wards in the city will allow no garages or filling stations; that the residents of Ward 1 are entitled to protection and that it is a question of dollars and cents versus life and limb. He moved that the matter be referred back to the License Committee for further consideration.

Alderman Grebenstein argued that to compel a setback will ruin the property and that it would be an injustice to further postpone the granting of the permit. Alderman Hodgdon favored the granting of the permit, saying that it would be a shame to penalize one when other garages had no setback. He said Hovey street can be made a one way street and the permit granted.

Alderman Heathcote said that during the past few years the aldermen have forced filling stations to have set backs to avoid blind corners. He agreed with Alderman Madden that the future should be considered; that the safety of pedestrians be regarded; and the Planning Board should be consulted. He thought a mistake was made when the aldermen failed to take part of the corner where the new block has been erected at Nonantum Square. Alderman Baker said the land in question is in the business section, buildings may be built out to the street line, and it would be starting a dangerous practice to compel persons to give up part of their land without compensation.

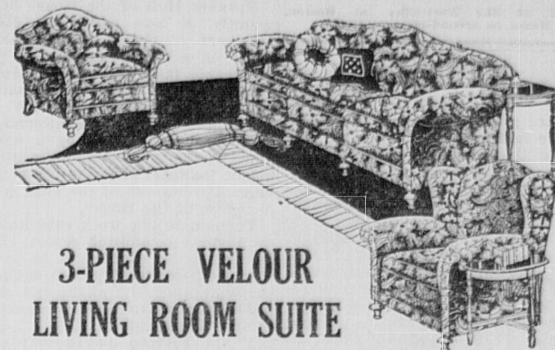

Alderman Madden replied to Mr. Baker, saying, that if the Ward 3 member had to use the sidewalk in front of the proposed building, had to dodge cars from the Garden City Garage, with the surety of more garages being built, persons will have to discontinue using the Washington street sidewalk. According to Mr. Madden, while those seeking permits come before the aldermen to plea for their projects, the public does not appear, but it depends on the aldermen to safeguard its interests. He asserted that it is a question whether speculators' profits will obtain more consideration than the lives and safety of the public; that no amount of revenue received in the form of increased taxes will compensate for injuries or fatalities, and that a fixed policy should be established. A vote was then taken on Mr. Madden's motion to have the matter referred back to the committee; the only voices heard in favor of this motion were those of Alderman Madden and Heathcote. The vote was then taken on the granting of the permit for the garage. The ayes were preponderant. No nays could be heard.

President Pratt told the Board that as some of the aldermen wish to confer with the Mayor regarding the confirmation of the appointment of Miss Florence Fitzgerald as Overseer of the Poor, this matter would lay on the table until the next meeting, unless some member objected. No objection was raised. President Pratt then announced the members appointed as a select committee on the New City Hall. He urged the members of the press to state with scrupulous exactness the duties which this committee will undertake. So, herewith is a verbatim copy of said duties: "Ordered—That the President be authorized to appoint a select committee to study the question of City Hall facilities and recommend what measures should be taken for temporary relief, and whether or not any steps should be taken at this time looking toward permanent relief." And that's that. The committee to consider the problem of proper City Hall facilities consists of Baker, Fitts, Grebenstein, Hawkins and Leahy.

Alderman Fitts delivered a dissertation on the closing of Elm road. He also submitted to an interrogation by Alderman Favinger regarding the amendment, Section 316 of the Buildings Code. Mr. Favinger showed his legal training by discovering a slight flaw in the shape of a comma incorrectly placed. Upon motion of Mr. Favinger, this comma was stricken out, clarifying the amendment. The amended ordinance allows the Newton Hospital to use a temporary building for three years that does not conform to the requirements of the present buildings code.

Alderman Collins asked if the alderman had any authority to close Elm road to traffic. City Solicitor Bartlett answered that if Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin approves of the closing it will be legal. Otherwise, not.

Alderman Earle then started a long discussion on the matter of asking the Legislature to authorize Newton and Wellesley to build a new bridge over the Charles river at Wales street, Lower Falls. The present bridge is but 21 feet wide and the new bridge will be 40 or 50 feet wide. In 1917 permission was given by the Legislature to build a new bridge at this place.

The cost then would have been $20,000; now it will cost $49,753. Wellesley is anxious to have the bridge built in the near future, as several autos have crashed through into the river from the present bridge. The present plan calls for Wellesley to pay half the cost and Newton the balance. Alderman Weeks inquired of the passage of a bill by the Legislature this year will compel the building of this bridge within a year. Mr. Bartlett informed him that two years can be taken to build the bridge. Mr. Weeks also suggested that Middlesex and Norfolk counties be urged to assist in paying for the cost of the bridge. Alderman Fitts conceived the idea of using the present old stone bridge as a one way affair, and have another narrow bridge built to carry traffic the other direction. Alderman Earle informed him that the Metropolitan District Commission has the "say so" regarding the type of structure to be erected. Alderman Noone offered the frank explanation that many motorists use Wales street to avoid the Wellesley cops; by steering clear of the Wellesley police at Lower Falls, said autoists can speed along Wales and Walnut streets. This is another reason why the bridge should be built in a hurry.

A communication was received from Fred Holland Chamberlain asking that the corner of Waverley avenue and Ward street be widened. A hearing will be heard on this petition on March 1st. The meeting adjourned at 9.55.

EDITORIAL

We are glad to note that the aldermen are taking plenty of time in considering the confirmation of the appointment of an Overseer of the Poor. In our opinion there have been too many mistakes made over this situation. In the first place the Mayor made a mistake in not making an effort at least to retain the services of Mr. Oswald J. McCourt, when he resigned to accept a more attractive financial office in Boston. The aldermen of last year then made a mistake in not consolidating the offices of city physician and Overseer of the Poor. The Mayor then made another mistake in appointing as "acting" Overseer of the Poor the person whose confirmation to the regular office had just been rejected by the board. If this procedure is allowed to go without a protest it may lead to the place where all our city officials could be "acting" and the confirmatory power of the aldermen become a mere farce, the Mayor being all-powerful in matters of appointment. We suggest that the best way out of the present situation is to ask Mr. McCourt to return to the office he so ably filled for some years and as a salary commensurate with the value of his services.

We are glad to note that a constructive effort is being made in the Newton schools to abolish the pernicious practice of school children begging for rides on passing automobiles. We have commented several times on this matter as being a dangerous practice not only to the children out in the street but to the motorist as well. We also like the idea of the Safety Council in urging the children to agree to act together in matters of safety and suggest that the begging of automobiles rides be included in these agreements. The automobile driver should also note that in case of an accident he is personally liable for any injuries incurred by children while in his machine. Children and motorists alike should discontinue this dangerous practice.

NEWTON CEMETERY

The annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation was held on Saturday, February 13th, in the Administration Building. The following trustees were re-elected: William F. Bacon, James E. Clark, Henry B. Day, Geo. M. Fiske, Frank J. Hale, Seward W. Jones, William H. Rice and H. Wilson Ross. William F. Bacon was elected president; William H. Rice, vice-president; H. Wilson Ross, superintendent, treasurer and clerk; Nils H. Mattson, assistant superintendent, and Geo. W. Auryansen, auditor. The superintendent's report gave the total number of lot owners as 2833 and the total number of interments as 11,156. New lot sales were over $59,000, and additions to the perpetual care fund aggregated $32,500. The total perpetual care fund now amounts to $341,550. Over $100,000 has been spent in new development work in the last four years, but this entire expense has been paid in full. The trustees expressed deep appreciation of the management of the cemetery and the lead which it is taking in modern New England cemeteries.

THE PLUMMER MEMORIAL LIBRARY

There was an enthusiastic meeting of the directors of the Plummer Memorial Library, Inc., on Wednesday evening. Plans for the future were discussed, and reports were made of progress along various lines. The resignation of Mr. Louis F. Ranlett, Treasurer of the Corporation, was accepted with regret. Mr. Ranlett has accepted the appointment of librarian of the Millicent Library in Fairhaven, Mass. The directors were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Charles E. Almy to succeed Mr. Ranlett in office. A building committee was appointed by the Chair, with Mr. Harold T. Dougherty as chairman. Another meeting will be called within a few weeks in order that the work of the various committees may be reported upon.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Speaker Hull of the House has frequently of late called on different members of the House to take the chair as acting Speaker, and it was noticeable last week that when Representative Leverett Saltonstall had come down from the Speaker's desk after presiding for the afternoon, he was cordially greeted by a score or more of the members. This little incident indicates that the Newton Representative is one of the most popular members of the House.

The Senate this week substituted for an adverse committee report, the bill favored by Mayor Nichols to have the Metropolitan area included in the census figures as part of the city of Boston. Senator Rice of Newton voted against substitution.

At the hearing on Tuesday on the bill to require automobiles to be equipped with a device to show pedestrians what speed the machine is traveling, Mr. William V. Hayden of Newtonville was a speaker favoring the bill. Mr. Hayden believed that the enactment of the proposed law would bring about the conviction of large numbers of persons who now escape the penalty of the law because the victim of the accident died before he could tell the rate of speed at which the other car was going. "As the matter now stands," he declared, "the only one who was present at the time of the accident is the man who is accused."

Representative Saltonstall has been appointed on the special committee on the matter of redistricting the state into Congressional, Councilor, and Senatorial districts.

We are glad to note that Representative Hollis was one of the very few Republicans who supported the bill suggested by Governor Fuller to prohibit members of the Legislature from appearing before various department heads in behalf of clients. The bill strikes at a serious evil and its defeat is not creditable to the Republican leaders.

History has been made this week with the advent of a woman occupying the Speaker's chair in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. We had the honor of serving two years in the same Legislature with Miss Donaldson, and the greeting and congratulations she received are fully deserved. The Legislature would be greatly improved if it had more members like the lady from Brockton.

the co-operation of the children. Miss Greenwood's talk was preceded by a neat little speech by Bert Bailey of the Newton High School who read the resolutions printed on the first page regarding the practice of "bumping" rides on passing automobiles and letters from Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of Motor Vehicles, Mayor Childs, Superintendent of Schools U. G. Wheeler, Chairman M. C. Hutchins of the school committee, Chief of Police B. F. Burke, Alderman Harry W. Flitts, Mabel C. Bragg, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Principal I. O. Palmer of the High School and Mr. Frank F. Carr of the Junior High School endorsing the movement. Miss Bragg's letter, specially directed to girls, follows:

"Boys and girls call it 'Thumbing a Ride' when they stand out in the street and beg automobile rides on their way home from school.

"It means Danger of loss of life or of serious accident. It means Danger from being picked up by the wrong kind of people.

"We are troubled when we see the boys running the risks, but when girls beg rides of strangers we are shocked. It just isn't being done, girls, by right-minded people. You are the right kind, we are sure of that. Prove it to every one else.

"Boys and girls we can't spare you; don't run such dangerous risks of death and accident. You are among the choicest possessions of our city. Don't shame your city, your school, and your homes by such questionable acts. Walk home, don't be beggars. The walk will do you good, and you will be much more self-respecting, law-abiding members of your schools and your community."

ROBERT F. CRANITCH

Robert F. Cranitch, a resident of Newton for 60 years, died at his late home, 22 Broadway, on Feb. 14. Mr. Cranitch was born in St. John, New Brunswick, 75 years ago, and for over half a century was engaged in the painting business in this city. His funeral services were held on Wednesday morning at the Church of Our Lady. A solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Walter Roche, assisted by Rev. Conrad Quirbach as deacon and Rev. Russell Healy as sub-deacon. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, where committal prayers were read by Rev. Francis Cronin. He was unmarried and is survived by two brothers, John and George M. Cranitch, and a sister, Miss Katherine Cranitch. The bearers were six members of Waltham Council, K. of C., which Mr. Cranitch had helped to organize. Mayor Childs and other members of the Newton city government attended the funeral.

NEWTON SPORTS

BROOKLINE MERMEN WIN

In the Newton Y. M. C. A. pool yesterday afternoon the Brookline high school swimming team defeated Newton high 48 to 26 in the annual dual meet between the two schools. The orange and black fought hard for victory and it wasn't until the final three events that the Wealthy Town team scored sufficient points to give them a comfortable margin. Captain Lloyd Osborne of the Newton team was the star of the meet. He won both the 100-yd and 220-yd swims. John Rae of the Brookline team smashed the tank record in the 100-yd breast stroke. His time of 1m 19s being faster than the old record held by Ray Millard, a former swimmer of the Y. team.

Brookline high was without the services of Martin Ford, one of its best swimmers. Bert Gleason, a hockey player on the Brookline six, joined the swimming team last week and gave a good account of himself yesterday by taking second in the 40-yd swim. The event was won by his teammate, Phillips.

The 100-yd was one of the best races of the day. Osborne won with Merrill of Newton and Phillips of the visitors close behind in second and third places respectively.

Maurey of Brookline finished but a short distance ahead of Wakefield, the Newton entry in the 100-yd backstroke.

Ted Hammond, the Newton plunger was nosed out by a foot for first place in the plunge by Densmore of Brookline. The Brookline man plunged 57 ft., which was just enough to beat Hammond's 56 ft.

Capt. Mackey of Brookline won the dive and also placed third in the 100-yd backstroke. Brookline captured the relay handsily. Maurey, the leadoff man, opened up a gap which his teammates kept. Capt. Mackey, the anchor, increased the lead somewhat over Captain Osborne.

The summary:
40-Yard Swim—Won by Phillips, Brookline High; Gleason, Brookline High, second; Lodge, Newton High, third. Time, 21 3-5s.

100-Yard Freestyle Swim—Won by Harold Osborne, Newton High; Merrill, Newton High, second; Phillips, Brookline High, third. Time, 1m 5-25s.

220-Yard Freestyle Swim—Won by Lloyd Osborne, Newton High; Stein, Newton High, second; Coats, Brookline High, third. Time, 2m 26 3-5s.

100-Yard Backstroke—Won by Maurey, Brookline High; Wakefield, Newton High, second; Mackey, Brookline High, third. Time, 1m 19s.

Diving—Won by Mackey, Brookline High; Green, Newton High, second; Oldfield, Brookline High, third.

Plunge—Won by Densmore, Brookline High; Hammond, Newton High, second; Golden, Brookline High, third.

100-Yard Breaststroke—Won by John Rae, Brookline High; Densmore, Brookline High, second; Essen, Newton High, third. Time, 1m 19s.

OBSERVES 90TH BIRTHDAY

Miss Sarah Fuller, principal emerita of the Horace Mann School in Boston and the first teacher to organize and establish a permanent oral day school for deaf children, observed her ninetieth birthday at her home, 122 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls, on Monday, February 15th.

Miss Fuller was born in Weston on February 15th, 1836, and at the age of nine years came to Newton Lower Falls to make her home with her sister in the house which has since been her home.

She was educated in the local schools and attended the Allen English and Classical School in West Newton, of which Cyrus Pierce, the first teacher to establish a school for normal training in this country, was associate principal.

In 1855 she was appointed teacher in the public intermediate school in West Newton in the upper room of the building which is now City Hall. From this she took a position in the old Boylston School, Boston, on the top of Fort Hill, of which Wm. T. Adams, known by his pen name of "Oliver Optic," was sub-master. Later she was transferred to the Bowditch School. While teaching here, she was invited to organize and establish an oral day school for deaf children, now the Horace Mann School of Boston, of which the first session was held on November 10th, 1859. She has retired in 1910, at the age of 74 years, having been principal for 41 years.

She was the recipient on her birthday of gifts, flowers, telegrams and cards, many of the latter coming from oral day schools for the deaf in all parts of the United States. Among the gifts was a tribute from the school which bore her family coat of arms, the school stamp and that of the city and state, and the inscription, "To Our Beloved Principal Emerita." This was signed by the pupils in the school and also by the teachers. With this was a generous check from past and present pupils and friends of the school.

She was acknowledged a forward-looking teacher and many things which she advocated long ago and which were deemed visionary by some are now accomplished facts in pedagogy.

It was Miss Fuller, who gave Helen Keller her first lesson in speech. She is in excellent health, active in mind and body.

JOHN CROSBY

John Crosby of 49 Clinton place, Newton Centre, died at his late residence on Saturday. The deceased, who was 80 years of age, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Crosby, and two sons—Ernest Crosby of Wakefield and Justin Crosby of Clinton place. Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Rev. E. M. Noyes officiating. The remains were placed in the receiving tomb at Newton Cemetery. Burial will be at Wakefield.

what he does, depends the movements of all the other players. In the past classes, first by soldiers, who ruled by force and who crushed anyone who dared to oppose their sway. Julius Caesar was the outstanding exponent of this type of ruler. Military rule always ended in disaster; the only nations which have survived through the ages are the two which have always been pacifist, the Chinese and the Jews. The former are now becoming inoculated with the virus of militarism, and warfare, they too, will go the way of all the other nations which used the sword.

The soldier type of ruler was succeeded by the religious rulers who utilized their power to aggrandize themselves. This misuse of power resulted in making the Middle Ages the most backward hour of civilization. Thibet is a modern example of a nation controlled by priests and is the most backward country in the world.

The third type of ruler has been and is—the professional politician. Their day of graft is passing and the front as the controlling class in shaping the course of events. A century ago the average business man had no social standing; it was considered a disgrace to work for a living, and the white collars and other furbelows worn by men today, were originally conceived as signs to mark the man of leisure.

But, today, all men are supposed to work and he who does not, is considered a "bum." Business has engaged in much bombast and "blah," we have too many Babbitts and too many Main Streets; revolution in many respects is needed in the conduct of business. The tendency in business has been upward and four things have contributed in placing business on a much higher scale. The first of these is "The recognition of the part of a few of the force of Faith."

By having faith in the honesty of their fellow men, a few merchants started to give credit and the practice of extending credit has become universal. The second truth discovered by business men as essential to the advancement of society was that cooperation and not competition, is the life of trade. Competition killed; cooperation causes mutual growth.

The third factor in the rise of business has been the recognition of the necessity of developing a code of ethics. Customers today are not regarded as objects to be preyed upon and cheated, but are accorded real service in the hope of making them permanent patrons.

The fourth agency in promoting the increasing good influence of business was "Service" must be the ultimate motive; profit making is not sufficient. In the past business men were concerned with the thought of "how much they could do their customers for." Today the endeavor of business men is "How much can we do for our customers?"

Mr. Cranexhorted the business men present to seek closer and more friendly relations with their employees and to participate in the movement to bring the conduct of business to a high level. He asserted that if business continues on its upward trend, the day is not far distant when the professional politician with his selfish schemes will be succeeded by the practical business man, working for the best interest of the country at large, because on the prosperity of the nation as a whole, depends the prosperity of business.

GIRL SCOUTS

Forty-two members of the Nonantum Girl Scouts hiked through the wet streets on Monday evening to the meeting of Troop VI held in the Stearns School. A Valentine party rewarded their efforts in getting there and after the regular opening meeting, games were played, valentines exchanged and refreshment were served. There will be no meeting on Monday next week of Troop VI because of the holiday. This was a disappointment to many of the girls but they will meet with all the more enthusiasm the following week because of this omission.

Monday, February 22 is to be a big day. Cedar Hill and Girl Scouts within commuting distance are invited to spend the day there and enjoy the winter sports. Coasting, skiing, skating, a treasure hunt, a grand barbecue, a moving picture in the big barn and camp fire and taps is the program for the day. If it rains games and relays will be the entertainment provided in the big barn. Many Newton girls expect to avail themselves of this good time and with their officers will enjoy a real holiday spent in the open.

Miss Freeman is not giving a local Training Course for Leaders this winter because of the other opportunities for training which are being given so near Newton. Miss Christian Moore is giving a course in First Class Scout work in Boston every Tuesday evening and quite a number of the Newton Leaders are attending this course. Miss Moore is an English Girl Guide and has much of interest to give the girls. She also has charge of the activities at Cedar Hill. Two courses given by Miss Edith Conant, of the National Educational Unit are open to the Newton Officers, and are being attended by a number of them. One at Radcliffe College on Monday afternoon and the other at Wellesley College on Tuesday evenings. Miss Freeman is attending this last course.

Y. M. C. A.

The talk given by Mr. Edward V. Ambler at the Fellowship Club last Monday evening drew a good sized audience. Some of the pictures shown were very beautiful and Mr. Ambler's description of his trips to the tropics was exceedingly interesting. There will be no meeting on the holiday, February 22nd. The next meeting of the Fellowship Club will be on Monday, March 1st, when the speaker will be Rev. Arthur Ellis, Pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville.

She has a sister, Mrs. Robert H. George of Providence (Katharine Ames), and two brothers, Burton and Lawrence Ames, now living in California. Mr. Lameyer is an architect with offices in Florence, having studied and practiced his profession in Munich, London, and Rome. He served during the four years of the World War, as an officer in the cavalry, and later in the balloon service. The wedding will take place in the early autumn.

SENIOR PLAY A SUCCESS

The Newton High School senior class play, "Prunella," written by Lawrence Housman and Granville Barker, was presented last Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday evenings in the assembly hall of the school before large audiences.

Not only is due credit for the success of the production given to the actors and actresses and to Miss Irene M. Hawthorn, the coach, but also to the committees of students who performed their duties with co-operation and efficiency.

Mary Wright, who played the part of the leading maiden, made a very pleasing presentation as Prunella and Pierrette. Merrill Hammond, as her passionate lover, very effectively portrayed the various moods which the character of his part entailed.

James Colton took the part of a statue of Love and was called upon to stand for an hour and a half at each performance with only the time between the acts in which to rest.

John Fellows played the part of a "little boy" to the great delight of the audience.

The entire cast played their parts very creditably and their efforts were sincerely appreciated by the audiences.

The Senior Play Committee consisted of the following:

Alice E. Goodnow, Faith Stone, and M. Carleton Redman. Mrs. Blanche Bemis was stage manager, with M. Carleton Redman, Richard Leach, and Constance Ruby, as the student members of the committee. Those in charge of scenery were: Peter J. D. Kuntz, faculty chairman, Victor S. Badger, and Francis Beirne. Electrical effects were taken care of by Edwin R. Pitt, faculty chairman, Francis Sullivan, Leonard Taylor, and Richard Porter.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

STATE FEDERATION

Two announcements will be given in detail next week that can only be mentioned here, owing to necessity for report of the Legislative Meeting of February 16th. The Art Exhibit in Rogers Building of Technology, the first two weeks in March, should be attended by Club women, as the coming Course in Club Journalism, planned by Miss Alice Gwendoline Albee, State Press Chairman of ideas and enthusiasm, is a news item of note, and the course itself will be awaited eagerly by all interested in "putting publicity across."

As an introduction to enjoyment of this exhibit there is a timely Course in Appreciation of Painting and Sculpture, beginning February 23rd, at the Boston Normal Art School, by the University Extension Division of the State Education Department. Details as to this course may be obtained from the State House, Boston.

Club women should not forget, also, the broadcasts that are coming from Station WNAC, by arrangement of the State Federation. On Friday evening, the 19th, there is to be an especially pleasing Musical Program, through the Music Department, Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, Chairman, this being in the interest of "music memory." At 8 P. M., the Boston Orchestra Players will present such numbers as "Pomp and Circumstance," "Anitra's Dance," "Largo," trumpet solo, "Sylvia," and others as lovely and worthy of knowledge and appreciation.

On the 24th, at 11 A. M., "Citizenship" will be the topic by Mrs. Benjamin D. May.

Speaking of Mrs. May, through her splendid management, Americanization held a most successful Round Table Conference on Thursday, the 11th. More than sixty club women of the State attended the meeting, and it became necessary for the gathering to adjourn to Grace Horne's Studio, because of the unexpectedly keen interest in this conference, especially during adverse weather conditions. Mrs. Clarence W. Clark, 2nd Vice-President, welcomed the conference. Mrs. Herbert W. Gurney gave a heart to heart talk on "The Spirit of America" that was at once an inspiration and a joy in the way of humor. Mr. Joseph Spano and Mr. Charles Herlihy gave worth-while suggestions and explanations on Immigration conditions. Miss Edna Phillips gave food for thought in the viewpoint of reading for the foreign-born and Dr. K. A. Kovalsky, spoke most interestingly on the "Problem of the Russian Immigrant in America." The Conference proved not only the need for this most inspiring committee in the Federation, but proved, further, that Mrs. May and her committee are handling the problem in a way that is attracting Club interest and co-operation.

Legislative Day, February 16th, saw the Colonial Theatre, Boston, filled with delegates and club women. It was an inspiring spectacle, and it was an attractive spectacle, also, in the array of flowers and costumes upon the platform. Mrs. Frederick Gladier Smith opened the meeting promptly at ten o'clock, and doors were closed religiously between speakers. The usual opening of singing of "America the Beautiful," always thrilling in this audience, the salute to the flag, and the reading of the Club Litany, brought the proper frame of mind for the day's tasks.

Mayor Nichols was unable to be present, so that Councilor Charles G. Keene brought greetings from the city. Two sentences of his were outstanding; that we needed protection from weather-vane politics, and the women could use their influence in this steady direction; and that 1400 organizations were at work in Washington to influence legislation. This certainly brings home the necessity for the clubs to watch out lest they become the unwitting tools of such organizations in our own State.

Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indiana, as First Vice-President of the General Federation, brought greetings, and Mrs. Milton J. Rosenau, President of the hostess club, welcomed her guests. Mrs. George Perkins, a former President, voiced her appreciation of the friendships her years of club service gained for her, as her dearest possessions, and her desire for the welfare of the organization.

Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, Legislative Chairman, aptly presented the speakers on the various measures. James J. Quinn, Superintendent of the Winchester Schools, spoke in favor of the placing of issuing of certificates of health to children who wished employment exclusively in the hands of the school physicians, and he made a point that for dancer and significance neither he nor many of his audience realized. In stating that such physicians are not adequately paid and performing their work perfunctorily he unwittingly raised the question of danger in making such positions the aim of doctors who have no practice, and the danger of placing upon the school authorities supervision of the child that rightly is the obligation of the parent. The bill was endorsed by a vote of 407 delegates in favor and 11 against.

Mr. Harris A. Reynolds, of the Mass. Forestry Association, spoke in favor of House Bill 47, on elimination of forest fires, and Representative Charles R. Bassett spoke in opposition especially as to section two. The bill had been passed by the House, sent back by the Senate to Committee, and will come up again. Mr. Bassett opposed the bill solely on the ground that Towns and Cities would have no say as to who should be appointed Fire Wardens. Mr. Reynolds agreed with Mr. Bassett that section two on this point should be changed, and it was admitted by both that only by such a change could the bill become law. It became evident from the discussion on the part of delegates that many were opposed to endorsement, since the Towns felt themselves against the measure. Thereupon, one delegate, seeing the danger of losing the Federation endorsement to a measure in most respects excellent, asked if an amendment were in order to a resolution offered by the State Federation. While amendments are usually in order, as the delegate knew, she wished to be sure that no rule of the State Federation as to its offered resolutions made such an amendment impossible. The Chair stated amendments were in order, and the delegate moved that the Federation endorse House Bill 47, with the proviso that Section Two be changed to meet the mutual approval of proponent and opponent, Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Daggett. The object of this amendment was plain to many delegates, but some lost its significance, and raised questions. Since the bill could only pass after such an amendment, as agreed by both friends and opponents to the bill, it was obvious that an endorsement of the Federation as it now read would be unfortunate, but that to endorse as it would read, would give the Federation the honor of sanctioning the corrected form. The President put the amendment to vote and 281 delegates voted in the affirmative. Objection was raised to consideration of the amendment, on the ground that it was time wasted, and the endorsement was the prime object, but the Chair appreciated the parliamentary point that it was too late for such discussion, as the affirmative vote on acceptance had been taken. Vote for the negative was called for and 22 registered against the amendment. Vote on the endorsement, as amended, followed, and 498 voted in favor, and 6 against.

Mrs. Culbert called attention to the fact that for the first time in history a woman would preside over the House of Representatives when on Thursday afternoon, the 18th, Miss Sylvia Donaldson would preside, through the courtesy of Mr. Hull.

Senator Gaspar Bacon spoke in favor of the Wadsworth-Garrett amendment to the Constitution, and Mrs. Edward P. White of Indiana, guest from the General Federation, opposed it. She made her points tell, and her accusation that this change is solicited to stop consideration of the Child Labor Amendment brought forth some heat from Mr. Bacon. When it is considered that out of the hundreds of matters sought for amendment, Congress has only permitted twenty-four to be presented in all the years since our Constitution was framed—19 being accepted—it hardly proves the argument of the Wadsworth-Garrett amendment that it is necessary to make changing any harder. It is worth the notice of club women, too, that had this amendment been in force a few years ago we would not now have suffrage, and certainly we can not consistently vote for a measure that would have robbed us of being recognized as citizens under the statutes.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole brought a message from the General Federation and was received with great applause.

Mrs. Pride, Resolutions Chairman, presented a resolution, that members cultivate the habit of wearing badges, club pins, etc., on the left side of the waist, in the interests of uniformity. This resolution was endorsed in the afternoon.

Luncheon was served at the restaurant of T. D. Cook, which had been taken over for the delegates' convenience. In the afternoon Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller and Jeska Schwartz Morse entertained with several duets. Representative Elijah Adcox brought greetings from the Commonwealth, and voiced Governor Fuller's approval of Biennial Sessions of Legislature. Speaking of the so-called crime wave in Massachusetts, he aroused laughter by stating that there were now going on in the East the sort of banditry and crimes that had formerly been considered exclusively the prerogative of the West! Not changing the law of severity of punishment, but public opinion and legal procedure as to enforcement of existing laws, and refusal to countenance legal "fixers," would stop the present tendency to crime, he declared.

Mrs. Carl J. Watson, Director of Sixth District, gave a greeting and her quotation of a little poem of inspiration, that ended that "the best work hadn't been done," was received in pleasure by many.

Mrs. Culbert then presented speakers on House Bill 103, as to raising compulsory school age from 14 to 16 years. Mr. A. B. Lord appeared for Dr. Payson Smith, of the State Education Department, in favor, and Mr. Scanlon spoke in opposition. While the cost of putting this bill into effect was not spoken of, remembrance of the admission of the Superintendents' Association occurred, when last year they stated that to care for the increased number of children, in school quarters, and teaching force, would add twenty-two millions of dollars to the tax obligations. The measure was endorsed by the delegates by a vote of 259 in favor and 151 opposed, showing that on this matter there was by no means the concerted approval of club women that there had been on the other measures up for discussion.

Mrs. Case, Chairman of Credentials, reported 616 club delegates present, representing 230 federated clubs, and 30 State delegates, a total of 646.

Five new clubs were presented, and their representatives made excellent impressions for their statements, their poise, and their wit. Miss Ruth Richards, President of the Young Women's Club of Winthrop, made her audience aware of what an asset this younger group of women are to our organization. Her quaint humor in the statement that by joining the Federation their club had already gained prestige in the eyes of Winthrop, showed conclusively that prestige could also be given to the parent organization from the capabilities of these young girls.

A pleasant surprise was sprung by the President when she introduced as a guest Mrs. Harry Burnham of Maine, the Chairman of the New England Conference. She proved to be a woman of charm and compelling personality, and her words on New England were received with apparent pleasure and satisfaction.

The address of the afternoon was given by Dr. Bruno Roselli, on the topic: "When Youth Demands Responsibility." He had much of wit, and much of understanding of the changes in this country from the early days of its settlement, and his audience enjoyed his humor. But throughout there was the underlying belief in the importance of Latin influence upon world affairs, and the objective of criticism of restriction of immigration which affected that race. The purpose of his public speeches is not so apparent as when he addressed certain Newton Clubs a few years ago, possibly because he has learned it is wise to hide that purpose, but his attack upon restriction of immigration is just as real, even if more subtle. There is the question as to how many of his audience who applauded him saw beneath the wit of his remarks. That there were many who did, was evidenced by the comments as the delegates disbanded.

NEWTON FEDERATION

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Chairman of Conservation, announces a "Nature" lecture, by Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb, as one of the special treats her Committee is arranging for all garden lovers, to be brought to them at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, in the next few weeks. All are invited to attend this course. The opening lecture by Miss Cobb is for March 2nd, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Goodridge, being a loyal Chairman, is following the lines laid down by the State Federation on Garden Lore, now that "Spring is in the offing," and Newton women will be fortunate that they do not have to travel to Boston to take advantage of some of the lectures, sponsored by the State, but may gain knowledge and inspiration by a journey to so convenient a spot as Austin street.

RECENT EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Celebration of Valentine's Day is not left just to the enthusiasm of the very young—in other words, to those who still live their schoolward—but was enjoyed by a Club that still delights in education along dramatic lines, namely the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands, on Saturday last. Mrs. W. J. Bicknell not only played hostess for luncheon for her fellow members, at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association on Beacon street, Boston, but she decorated her tables in festive honor of St. Valentine, and presented to each person present a facsimile of her generous heart. Besides this enjoyment there was the program of review of the play the Club has been studying in the several past meetings—"A Winter's Tale." Mrs. H. W. Drew, in charge of the Quiz, awakened wit by her questions on the internal and external evidences of the time of the play, as shown in Shakespeare's lines; demanded proofs of the similarity of the jealousy of Leontes with that of Othello in the latter play; wanted statements that showed the comparison of the trial of Hermione with that of Katherine in Henry VIII, and of the pastoral scenes with those of the shepherds' environment in "As You Like It." She wound up her discussion with evidences required as to the accidents and dramatic incidents found in the play that were outstanding in force and meaning. Altogether, the day was one that had food for thought and development of appreciation, as well as a repeat that was fitting celebration for a day that even Shakespeare would have enjoyed, knowing his keen appreciation of merry antics, as shown in his "Midsummer Night's Dream," as well as in others of his dramas.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"American Home Committee Day" was the topic for the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 12th. The tables for the luncheon, which was served at 12:30, were attractively arranged as the months of the year.

Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Twelfth District Director, and Mrs. Harry H. Burnham, of the Massachusetts State Federation, were guests of honor.

The President, Mrs. McLean, gave a few pleasant remarks, gave the origin of the months. The hostess at each table responded with a toast.

Mrs. Congdon commended the Club and the Twelfth District for its number of scholarships, and for the support given the dental clinics, and the Americanization work.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Burnham, speaker of the afternoon, gave her talk on "Poetry and Dishwashing."

She said, in part: "We do not expect each club to have all the divisions of the American Home Work, but do wish you to know where you can go for information." She spoke of the early work of Maggie Barry, also of the opposition which some of the colleges had to home economics, as they did not wish to teach kitchen mechanics. A working knowledge of cooking and home-making is essential to happiness and security in the home.

The three R's of home life are, first, Religion, which should become a living thing; second Rhythm, and third, Risibility, or a sense of humor.

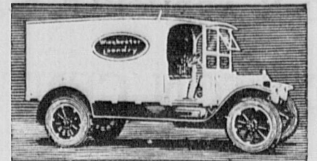

The many conveniences of the home to-day give us time for more reading, and poetry is advised as well as prose. "Poetry will lift us out of the common. It can say things to us that cannot be

Will remove all spots and stains out of your garments. It is made of all-wool fabrics. This cleaner will rub off most of the spots dry, like an eraser will rub off pencil marks. If it should fail to remove the spots, use any cleaning fluid, or warm water, in a saucer, add a spoonful of ammonia, dip the cleaner into this, just enough to wet the surface of it, then slide it over a cake of any soap you have handy, rub the cleaner over the spot or stain and it will surely vanish. Therefore you should have two cleaners on hand, one for dry and one for wet.

The list of good books, which she hoped would be read follows: "A Home of Your Own," "Every Day Art," "The Family and Its Members," "Women and Leisure," "Religious Education in the Home," "Wives of Famous and Infamous Men," "Julia Ward Howe," by Her Daughters. She closed her talk with the following little poem: "A little house to live in Built upon content. And all securely walled around With cheer and merriment. Peace in its halls abiding, Love at its portals, too. And in that little house of dreams Just yours, and you."

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The "best laid plans of mice and men gang oft a-gley," and bad weather conditions have certainly interfered with the truthfulness of many announcements that have appeared in the newspapers the last few weeks. So with the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club the program planned for last Monday evening, when Mr. Thomas W. White was to have spoken on legislative matters, was changed, due to the calling to Washington of this speaker. (Continued on Page 11)

WHAT SHALL I READ IN LENT?

Lent is a time for worthwhile reading. Shall it be religious reading? If a religious book is one which points the way to the highest goals of life, surely it may well be one's Lenten choice. Under this classification, may be included the best in all literature, not excluding fiction,—anything which gives moral determination spiritual strength mental stimulus abiding faith

More especially, however, the mind naturally turns to some one of the following classifications of subject matter as being particularly appropriate to the spirit of Lent:

Biographies, especially those of religious leaders or those who have been outstanding figures in their generation on account of unusual high ideals of life, or special services for the community, socially, educationally or politically.

Social aspects of religion,—i. e., practical application of Christian ideals. Tools for the church worker, either along the lines of instruction or of social service.

Bible commentaries,—anything which serves to make clearer the meaning of life in terms of interpretation of the Scriptures.

Modern speech Bibles,—truths of Biblical text couched in the every-day language of the average man.

Bible lands and characters, also fields of missionary activity.

Newer books of a distinctly religious character, many of them written from the stand-point of the average man and woman, so that they may be read and really enjoyed by all.

The following are suggestions of possibilities for Lenten reading:

Life's Little Pitfalls, by Royden, a practical book, clearly written.

The Man Nobody Knows: A discovery of the real Jesus, by Barton.

The Education of the Modern Boy, by a group of men experienced in dealing with boys as they meet them in school, on the playground, or in friendly groups.

How to Enjoy Life: everyday philosophy for everyday people, by Dark.

The Bible and Common Sense, by King.

Everyman's Life of Jesus: a narrative in the word of the four Gospels, edited by Moffat.

The Old Testament, a new translation, by Moffat.

The Master and the Modern Spirit, by Strang.

The World's Living Religions: an historical sketch with special reference to their sacred Scriptures and in comparison with Christianity (Life and religion series) by Hume.

From over the Border, by McCombs—an interesting account of missionary work among the Mexicans, with something of their national background, and of the daily life of the people.

Historical development of Christianity, by Joseph—a small volume, concisely and interestingly told. Contains an index, also an appendix with questions, additional reference sources, and suggestions for further topics of study.

D. R. MEETING

The Annual Meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R. was held on Friday, February 12, 1926, at 10:30 A. M., at the home of Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson, 6 Merton street, Newton.

The following list of officers for 1926 and 1927 was elected.

Regent, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter; Vice-Regent, Mrs. Edward H. Keach; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Raymond S. Fosgate; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson; Assistant Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Charles A. Durant; Treasurer, Miss Gertrude Ensign; Historian, Mrs. John G. Godding; Counsellors, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Mrs. Roland A. Thayer; Auditor, Mrs. Oliver M. Fisher.

Delegates to the Annual Convention of the General Society, D. R. to be held at Philadelphia next July were also appointed with their alternates. They are:

Delegate: Mrs. Virginia King, Mrs. Gertrude Whitney, Mrs. Alice Esterbrook, Mrs. Emma Ferris, Mrs. Lela Goodridge, Mrs. Helen Ratcliffe, Mrs. Grace Johnson; Alternates: Miss Nettie Stone, Mrs. Bessie Fosgate, Mrs. Susan Sampson, Mrs. Mary Murdock, Mrs. Genevieve Crawford, Miss Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. Clara Gould.

After the business was concluded all were invited to partake of a box luncheon for which our hostess, Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson, had graciously provided certain delicious additions.

As is always the case when Sarah Hull members come together, they thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to express the sincere friendliness which they feel for each other. This spirit of oneness is enhanced each year as the members labor together to accomplish their good works of patriotism and philanthropy.

GLEE CLUB COMPETITION

New England music lovers will be offered a rare treat on April 24 when some fifteen men's glee clubs will be massed at the Quincy Armory for a competition and concert.

In the afternoon the clubs will compete for three prizes of $500, $300 and $200. The contest will be judged by Dr. George W. Chadwick of the New England Conservatory of Music; William Arms Fisher, head of the Editorial Staff of the Oliver Ditson Company; and Prof. George Wass of Bowdoin College.

In the evening the same clubs will sing their prize selections, followed by a concert of all the competing clubs massed under the direction of a guest conductor.

The Highland Glee Club of this city is entered in this contest.

Mr. Paul N. Goddard of Newton Centre is secretary of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, which is managing this contest.

CONCERT AND DANCE

One of the outstanding musical events of the season is the Concert and Dance to be given on Saturday, February 27 at the Auburndale Club House by the M. A. C. Musical Clubs.

The M. A. C. alumni are greatly interested in this concert and a large attendance is expected.

POLICE NEWS

In court on Saturday Judge Bacon found Mrs. Marie Fenton of 390 Waltham street, West Newton, not guilty on the charge of going away after an automobile accident without making known her identity. On February 2nd, a Studebaker car driven by Mrs. Fenton collided at the corner of Otis street and Lowell avenue with a Chevrolet car driven by James Sheehan of West Newton. Mr. Sheehan's car was considerably damaged; and he testified that Mrs. Fenton refused to give him her name and address when he asked for them after the collision. Judge Bacon ruled that she did not realize the circumstances compelled compliance with Mr. Sheehan's request.

Julius Bianchi of Adams street was fined $20 in court on Saturday for failing to attend night school. Julius, who is 18, is compelled by law to get some education, as his book-learning is quite limited. But, he apparently does not thirst for knowledge and was failed into court a few months ago on the same charge. He was given a suspended fine at that time, when he appeared again on a similar complaint, Judge Bacon revoked the suspension.

Mount Ida School, like all boarding schools containing charming young ladies, has been bothered more or less by youthful sheikhs who are obsessed with the delusion that they are somewhat like Rudolph Valentino. These swains loaf near such schools and attempt to attract the attention of the fair maidens. But, Mount Ida School is not troubled much now with the activities or inactivities of the ogling Romeos. The Newton police patrolling Mount Ida have effectively discouraged the frequenting of the school neighborhood by the unwelcome gallants. Officer Ed Maguire has been especially active in this respect.

AN APPRECIATION

The passing from the life of the community of one who has quietly and effectively served it should be the immediate occasion for pointing the moral of such a career. Probably few even of George McNeil Angier's most intimate friends were aware of the many ways in which he made the influence of his character and ability felt. Unassuming, self effacing, he attracted no attention to himself except in virtue of his geniality and friendliness. Strongly conscious of the responsibility which is imposed by the possession of capacity for organization and the gift of inspiring others to do their best, he modestly put those powers at the disposal of the city which he loved. For him citizenship meant more than exercising the privilege of the franchise; it clearly called for placing at the disposal of the community any powers he possessed and this he freely and unhesitatingly did. He recognized the need that the State had for a disciplined young manhood and in so far as he could he assisted those in whom he saw the possibilities of development without the means of providing it. The complaints so often voiced by those who have lost faith in the democratic form of government and who are pessimistic for the future could be silenced and those who complain could learn much if they would study this man's attitude toward his civic responsibility. If only a bare majority of us would follow his example how much better a place to live in would this city and this country be!

AN INTERESTING EVENT

A tea which aroused considerable local interest, in that it gave the opportunity to announce three important social events, was given last Saturday afternoon by Mrs. George W. Crampton of Grafton street, Newton Centre. In the first place it was a shower for Miss Eleanor Lyon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Lyon of Newtonville, whose engagement to Mr. Sherman Baldwin was recently announced. It was also a farewell for Mrs. Dudley Milliken, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Harriman of Newton, who leaves this week to join her husband in Florida. But the great surprise of the afternoon was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Helen Crampton, the daughter of the hostess and Mr. J. Gould Cook, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sidney Cook, Jr., of West Newton. Miss Crampton is a graduate of the Knox School of New York and the Katherine Gibbs School of Boston. Mr. Cook is a graduate of Phillips Andover and is engaged in business with his father, who is president of the A. Stowell Co. of Boston.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING

The School Committee held a meeting on Monday night. Considerable discussion took place over the question of the "No School Signal." A special committee was appointed to study this matter and to report whether the signal will be reestablished, or whether the present method will be continued. Mrs. Hutchinson introduced a motion that no awards, prizes or letters be made in any of the Newton schools for perfect attendance. Under existing conditions, many pupils struggle to school on very stormy days in order to maintain their perfect attendance record. Mayor Childs transmitted a letter to the Committee regarding the matter of transportation for children from the Stearns School district to the Barnard School. It was referred to the Transportation Committee. The School Committee voted to request the Mayor to recommend to the aldermen the construction of a tunnel under Elm road from the Classical High School to the new High School building; this tunnel to be constructed, when, in the course of carrying out the present building program for schools of Newton, the construction of said tunnel becomes feasible. The committee also drew up resolution on the death of the late George M. Angier; said resolutions to be transmitted to his family and spread upon the records of the Committee.

THE VITALITY OF RELIGION

The following article, entitled "A Movement or a Monument" is taken from the calendar of the First Church of Newton Centre.

"From time to time some one rises to remark that religion is an outgrown superstition, and the Church a meaningless survival. The latest of these prophets is Luther Burbank, who is quoted as saying that 'religion is tottering.' In this view, the Church is a monument to a glorious past, rather than a movement toward a yet more glorious future.

"Mr. Burbank is deservedly famous as a close observer of nature, but he evidently is not familiar with current religious life. As Cardinal O'Connell

Summary of the Sixty-Third Annual Report

To the Massachusetts Insurance Department as of December 31, 1925

In general, this statement shows that the Company is now stronger financially than at any period in its history; also that it is writing more new business and paying larger dividends to policyholders.

The Company now carries Insurance on the paid-for basis amounting to $2,232,076,863

In policies on the lives of some 3,600,000 persons.

To insure the fulfillment of these contracts the Company maintains assets amounting to $368,818,073

Of this the Policyholders' Reserves, on the exacting Massachusetts Standard, amount to $316,383,808

In addition to the Reserves there are liabilities for future payments to policyholders and others, aggregating $21,922,459

Including $11,250,000 for policyholders' dividends payable in 1926.

After providing for these liabilities, totalling $338,306,267

The Company has Contingent Surplus Assets, or Emergency Fund, of $30,511,806

The New Insurance issued (an increase of 13.62% over 1924), was $383,335,035

Representative Clarence S. Luitweiler most ably took his place, and in a very comprehensive manner presented first the "right of petition," a custom peculiar to our Massachusetts Legislature, and to his mind a great safeguard; second, "Law Enforcement," dwelling at length on various bills pertaining to the crime wave, such as the stealing of automobiles and parts, unlawful appropriation, probation of criminals, criminals, suspended sentences, bail, etc.

Refreshments in honor of the Club's seventh anniversary were served, and a social hour followed.

The Club reports with pleasure the swelling of their funds for various worthwhile causes, and their pride in loyal members who aid so splendidly in all their efforts.

Mrs. Harry Cook gave a very successful whist party on February 10th, at which $40.00 was realized to swell the Club funds. At this party Mrs. Cook generously donated to the Club 24 very new linen-bound card-boards, for whist playing.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"It was the thrill of my life when I saw the grain of pollen on the screen and the protoplasm whirling around in the grain." It was this scientific interest which has led Mr. Arthur Pillsbury to spend months in the "morgue" of the University of California where he could devote himself to the microscopic and photographic study of a grain of pollen.

In that grain principle enlarged 100,000 times, the life principle truth discovered. Mr. Pillsbury, who lectured before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon is a native of Medford. He has spent the past twenty-five years in the Yosemite National Park; the last five in making pictures of plant life. He expects to return next summer and establish a research laboratory in Yosemite Valley.

Mr. Pillsbury says that when he first put them in a dark place and lets them recover from the shock—for it is a shock—similar to that felt in the animal world, when they are uprooted. They are placed in water and the camera makes a record of the movements. This is developed so that in thirty seconds the growth of one week can be shown on the screen.

Flowers are continually in motion, as was demonstrated by many beautiful examples. The grace of this marvelous plant unfolding is enchanting, and opens up a new world to the beholder, who now, through the aid of the moving picture, can see in the flower beauty of motion as well as of color and form. The views of the Yosemite were descriptive of the dash of the waterfall, the sublimity of the mountains and the calm of reflections in lakes and streams. Humorous scenes of feeding the tame bears drew laughter from the children in the audience and threw an interesting sidelight on the personality of the lecturer.

Auburndale Woman's Club

February 16th was Legislative Day for the Auburndale Woman's Club and a most interesting program was provided.

Mrs. Van Orsdel, National President U. S. N., sent the society a large colored print of "Old Ironsides." The society has a splendid name and very appropriate at this time, and the only society to bear the name of "Old Ironsides."

A letter of welcome was received from Mrs. James Charles Peabody, State Vice-Regent D. A. R., and Miss Jennie G. Moseley, Senior President of the Signed Lantern Society of Brookline.

Mrs. Rodman, Senior President, read extracts from the National Constitution and the by-laws of the Society. She then introduced the Junior Officers, Robert Bigelow Chapin, Jr., President; Nancy Scofield, Vice-President; Alice Hooper Chapin, Recording Secretary; Barbara Webster, Corresponding Secretary; Barbara Eaton, Treasurer; Charles Calvin Stuart, Historian; Barbara Rodman, Registrar; Stanley Gilbert Parker, Color-bearer.

Mrs. Eaton, Regent of Lucy Jackson Chapter, spoke a few words of greetings and Mrs. Holmes showed the society some interesting old documents, one of which was a Lieutenant's Commission signed by Abraham Lincoln. The meeting then adjourned. The members of the Society then addressed themselves to the children in the local hospitals and homes. A social hour followed with refreshments.

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

On Friday, February 12th, The Mothers' Club of Grace Church celebrated its fortieth anniversary. At two o'clock in the afternoon the mothers sat down to a fine turkey dinner. There were thirty-two mothers present. There were verses of sweet peas and daffodils on the tables. After dinner the clergy greeted the mothers and complimented them on their success in keeping the club together these years and the work they had accomplished for the church. After a short address, the mothers greeted Mr. William F. Banks, sexton of Grace Church for thirty-five years. In response Mr. Banks thanked the mothers and then he presented some lantern slides of English Churches and Cathedrals, which he had seen on his visit to England several years ago. This ended a happy afternoon for the mothers' club of Grace Church.

LODGES

Newton Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold a community party and dance on Tuesday night, February 23rd in Dennison Hall, Newtonville. Amongst the many novel features to be produced will be an old time and modern singing schools, old time dances led by Mellie Dunham impersonated, a movie ballroom scene, Sandy MacFarlane, known to a million radio fans, will appear in person in character songs and sketches.

Music will be furnished by a first class orchestra (Allen's Allstonians) and plenty of modern snappy dances. Punch will be served and a good time given out to everybody.

was to have read her paper on February 10th, when the meeting was cancelled on account of the storm, will present her subject at the 24th meeting. Her topic is "Reconstruction and Adjustment," continuing the course of Study of American History, which the Club is enjoying.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

Newton is represented in the presidential chair for the next meeting of the Boston Woman's Civics Club, when Mrs. S. L. Eaton, its Vice-President, presides, while Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball sails through the Panama Canal, and into the warm land of California, on a much-needed, and (we hope) greatly to be enjoyed vacation.

As Mrs. Kimball does not expect to return until April, Newton will pay honor to one of our well-known club women, as acting President of this Club, for several meetings. As usual the Hotel Brunswick is the place of meeting, and the time also is the same, 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Walter G. Denison, the Corresponding Secretary, takes charge of the Current Event period, and Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, of the Community Service Committee, of the State Federation, will discuss informally the work of her Committee. The speaker of the afternoon will be Dr. Miner H. A. Evans, who will take the topic of "What is the Mind of the Child."

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

On Saturday, February 27th, the Shakespeare Club enters upon study and enjoyment of another play of the great dramatist, Miss Edith M. McCann has charge of the Quiz for the first two acts of "Cymbeline," and Mrs. B. R. Gilbert opens her home at 41 Woodward street to Club members and guests.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Attention is again called to the opportunity to enter for the Class in Gardening, which is planned to begin on March 11th. Mrs. Raymond Thornley is now receiving applications, and wise club members—looking out upon snowy drifts, but visioning a glory of color and fragrance that is sure to be there some months hence, if only they make the most of the month of March, will not put off notifying her of their intentions to join the class.

Other fascinating activities of the Club include dramatics and literature study. Mrs. Lowell Burrows will direct the rendering of "Miss Julia" by Strindberg, which will be given by the Dramatic Class Thursday, February 23rd, at 8 P. M. in the Junior High School. This will be the last meeting, as the committee will be occupied in preparation for the play to be given in the spring.

The life of Kate Douglas Wiggin has been chosen as the subject of the next meeting of the Class in Literature to be held Wednesday, February 24th, at 8:30 P. M. Mr. Palmer will tell of the author's life and home in Maine. Her work for Kindergarten and selections from her writings will be given by others.

The Hospital Committee announces that there will be a meeting on Thursday, February 26th, at 1:30 P. M., with Miss Julia Butler, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Slade, 300 Cabot street. A cordial welcome is extended to all club members to attend this meeting. The committee is doing valuable work and asks the co-operation of a larger number of workers.

Newton Community Club

The Annual Muscular of the Newton Community Club will be given on Thursday, February 25th, in the Underwood School Hall, at 2:30 o'clock. Members are advised to be in their seats before the hour of opening the meeting, as there is to be no speaker, and no program other than the very delightful Muscular, and business will be omitted. A word to the wise.

The pleasure of last year's similar program ensures a particularly enjoyable afternoon, for the Club is again to have the delight of entertaining our foreign neighbors, who gave us so much last year in enjoyment of being guests. In their honor there is to be not just "Tea," but a "real party," with refreshments of ice cream and cake, served by the Social Committee. The major part of the program will be furnished by the newly-organized Choral Class, under the direction of Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale, assisted by Mr. James B. Houghton, baritone, and Mr. Cleon Hopkins, trumpet. The Club, proud of its new Singers, takes particular pride in having their talented members provide the entertainment for their guests, so proving the ability in their midst.

After the meeting there will be an offering of the popular Food Sales that are being so efficiently and so warmly provided by the Home Economics Committee, of which Mrs. Harold M. Moore is Chairman.

The Conservation Chairman, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, brings to her Club members—even to their very doors—so that they neither have to attend similar meetings in Boston, or elsewhere—a Course in Garden Lectures, in the Hunnewell Parkers, the first one taking place on March 12th, at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Elizabeth G. Patton, Landscape Architect, gives the first lecture. Three of the course will be illustrated by lantern slides; one will be pictures of a colorful perennial border—visions of achieving which will be a joy to all beholders—and the last will be a visit to the Lathrop Model Gardens at Grotton, by way of inspiration and joy, and it is hoped, as an example of what might have been but wasn't in gardens of hopes. At least let it not be so, on account of neglect in gaining instruction and profiting from suggestions offered through this course. Applications should be made at once to the Conservation Chairman.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

February 25th, at 2 P. M., is the time of the next meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. After the regular business meeting there will be an art lecture by Charles Theodore Carruth. Club singing and tea will complete the afternoon's program. Mr. Carruth is what might be termed a specialist in Italian Art, and his lectures on the Masters of the Florentine Renaissance are in demand at the leading colleges, museums, art associations and clubs throughout the country. This is not surprising since Mr. Carruth has spent long periods in Italy, browsing among his favorite artists, and securing superb colored illustrations with which to delight his audiences, and he has, besides, that asset of all public speakers, charm of manner, and attractive stage presence.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Rev. E. Morris Ferguson, A. M., D. D., will give an address on "Windows of the Soul", on Friday, February 26th, in Players Small Hall, as the program for the West Newton Women's Educational Club. There will be music and tea will be served.

LADIES' NIGHT

The annual ladies' night of the Newton Rotary Club held on Tuesday was a great success. The meeting was held at the Lassel Seminary on the invitation of Rotarian Guy M. Winslow and a large number of members and their ladies attended.

The seven tables at which the members and ladies were seated at the dinner were gaily decorated with hand-made centre pieces contributed by Rotarian Matthew Ruane, the well-known florist.

An excellent supper was interspersed with community singing under the direction of Dr. Cecil Clark and by several selections by the Lassel Glee Club.

Prof. Roy Davis, assistant dean of Boston University, gave an interesting and entertaining talk on "Why people laugh and what they laugh at." Prof. Davis said that humor was international and had always existed and cited numerous examples of caricature which had come down from the far distant past. Prof. Davis also traced some of our modern jokes to writings of two and three thousand years ago. The talk was illustrated with numerous and well chosen jokes and examples of humor of different nations.

The Lassel Music Clubs gave several splendid selections with an orchestra of twenty pieces, which were greatly appreciated.

There was an exhibition of moving pictures, and the last but by no means the least on the program was a one-act play by the Dramatic Club.

DR. GRIGGS' LECTURES

Dr. Edward Howard Griggs will open the current series of free lectures under the Read Fund Foundation at the Underwood School Auditorium, Vernon street, Newton, on Saturday evening, February 20 at 8 P. M.

This is the second engagement of Dr. Griggs in Newton. Last spring his series of lectures on Shakespeare attracted such large audiences that it was necessary on several evenings to close the doors twenty minutes before the advertised time for the lecture to begin. It is hoped that the larger auditorium available this year will accommodate the audiences who will be attracted by this popular lecturer.

The subject of this year's course will be "American Statesmen." "Washington: The First American" will appropriately open the series on Saturday, February 20.

The dates and subjects of the remaining five lectures in the course will be as follows:

February 27, Franklin: The Practical American; March 6, Jefferson: The Democratic American; March 13, Hamilton: The Constitutionalist; March 20, Lee: The American Warrior; March 27, Lincoln: The Prophetic American.

PRESENT OPERETTA

The girls of the parish school of the Church of Our Lady, at Newton, on Tuesday evening in the school auditorium, presented the three act operetta "Princess Chrysanthemum." The scene was laid in Japan and the cast included Gertrude Romkey, Alma Abbott, Dorothy Sullivan, Ruth O'Donnell, Grace Morello, Ruth Rogers, Eleanor Dearborn, Margaret Earls, Alice Meade, Helen Malloy, Florence Hennessey, Gertrude Neal, Helen Kenslea.

Music was furnished by Gladys Sullivan, piano; Mary Pucellari, violin, and Doris Forte, cello.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the shareholders of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be held at the banking rooms of the corporation, 299 Walnut street, Newtonville, Tuesday, March 2nd, 1926, at eight o'clock P. M. for the election of officers for the ensuing year and transaction of any other business that may come before the meeting.

ABOUT TOWN

It may be of interest to those persons who speed autos through slushy streets, indifferent to the fact that such speed causes muddy water to spatter onto persons on the sidewalk, to know that damages can and have been collected from autoists who have ruined pedestrians' clothes by splashing slush on said clothes.

It is difficult to satisfy everybody; most persons agree that it is almost impossible to satisfy everybody. On stormy days, it was formerly the custom, in Newton, to sound the "no school" signal. Many parents thought that this signal was often sounded on days when their children could and should be in school. Finally in response to repeated demands, the school committee, some years ago, decided to abolish the practice of sounding "no school" signals. If certain parents wished to send their children to school in the rain or through the snow, that opportunity was afforded them. Other parents, more apprehensive of their youngsters' health, might keep them at home on stormy days.

During the recent blizzards, a large percentage of the pupils in the local schools did not brave the weather. But many of the students, anxious to maintain a regular attendance record, struggled through the drifts and went to school. After making this sacrifice, the zealous pupils were somewhat chagrined, when they heard the teachers tell those who had not attended school on the inclement days, that they would not be marked absent.

If one new transportation route is needed in this city—it is a bus line along Centre street from Newton Corner to Newton Centre, and Newton Highlands. Such a line will meet a popular demand and make it unnecessary for persons to travel around in a half circle as at present.

The Sunday papers, in telling of the dinner of the "Clover Club" at Boston on Saturday night, enumerated among the guests Mayor Nichols of Boston, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge and Mayor Beale of Waltham. Mayor Childs was to have been present, according to the newspaper account, but was absent because of illness. This was regrettable, as Mayor Childs, poet laureate of the Boston News Bureau, had composed some lyrics lauding our Mayor.

We were about to make inquiries regarding the illness of the Mayor, when we came upon another news item telling that on Saturday night, Mayor Childs was the speaker at the annual banquet of the alumni of the Arloch Wentworth Institute. Thinking that His Honor might have suffered acute indigestion at the banquet, we investigated, and were relieved to learn that he was not ill last Saturday night.

Friday and Saturday employees of the gas company were digging in Nonantum Square to locate a slight gas leak. In connection with their work a cover was removed from a manhole in the square on Saturday morning. A passerby carelessly threw a lighted match into the manhole, and as some gas had gathered in it, a slight explosion resulted. A man from Waltham was accused of the stupidity, but he was innocent of the culprit. A woman, who was passing nearby, suffered a slight nervous shock, and two men who were in the vicinity alleged that their mental equisipe had been disturbed.

It costs money to keep our streets in repair. Persons who pay taxes and desire some knowledge as to why it costs so much to keep our streets in repair, should ride or walk along Washington street to observe the damage caused by heavy auto trucks. These trucks, which together with their loads weigh frequently 15 tons, are equipped in the winter season with heavy cross chains attached to the tires. These chains gouge into the surfaces of streets and cause damage which takes many thousands of dollars to repair. Either the use of these chains should be prohibited, or trucks using them should be taxed enough to pay for the damage they do. Why should the ordinary taxpayer be compelled to "dig down" to provide traffic facilities for huge trucks any more than to provide railways for privately owned railroad freight cars?

Bemis and Nonantum residents are hoping that the busses will be installed on the line serving those villages without further delay. Since the two snow storms, the service on the Bemis line has been away off schedule.

Alderman Ed. Earle, in the course of the debate on setbacks for Washington street garages, said—"They are not going to sell postage stamps in these automobile salesrooms. There is a difference between selling autos and postage stamps. Not so many persons buy autos." He might have mentioned another difference. Persons buying postage stamps, stick them on; some persons who buy autos, get stuck on them; so they claim.

Fred Morgan, who was one of the first letter carriers appointed in this city 37 years ago, when free delivery was first established, says—"I have never seen the sidewalks in such bad condition." Fred ought to know. For 37 years he has faithfully plodded over the streets of this city, frequently carrying loads that weighed almost as much as himself. Fred does not tip the scales at much over 100 pounds. But, he has lost less time through illness than any man in the postal service in Newton. In connection with Mr. Morgan's comment, it might be remarked that the ordinance relating to the removal of snow from sidewalks is not being obeyed. Complaints are also heard—that in the efforts to clear the streets of snow, to facilitate auto traffic, sidewalks are not sanded as in former years.

"Bill" Hanna of Fair Oaks Avenue had to take almost as much abuse from his fellow participants in the Central Club Mistletoe Show, as his famous namesake, Mark Hanna, received from the cartoonists of William Randolph Hearst.

Do any of your neighbors operate regenerative sets? And does the skillful operation of such sets by said neighbors cause your set to howl? And, when your set howls, because your neighbor's regenerative set is oscillating, do you howl and accuse such neighbor of being either a moron or a hog? Do you loudly assert—that a federal law should be passed forbidding all regenerative sets that spoil reception on other sets nearby.

There is no skating on Bullough's Pond. But one can go skating or snow-shoeing there.

If owners of certain buildings in this city do not use more care to prevent snow and icicles from falling off the roofs of their buildings, they may face some damage suits.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending February 13, patients in hospital 118, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 62, patients paying less than cost of care 29, free patients, including babies, 27, babies born, 11, 6 boys and 5 girls, patients treated by the out-patient department, 104, accident cases 3, social service calls at the hospital 1, at homes 2, patients transferred by social service car 5.

Miss Betty Schofield brought a gift of valentines to the children in Dennison Ward and in the contagious department. The valentines were made by the children of the C. A. R.

Miss Taylor with her Sunday School Class from the North Congregational Church, also brought valentines to the hospital. The children visited the wards and sang to the patients.

Friday night, February 12, Mr. Arthur Baird entertained the nurses at the hospital with an evening of magic tricks and psychic phenomena. The receipts of this entertainment helped to pay the expenses of the student representatives to the Y. W. C. A. at Northfield.

Miss Muriel Seeley and Miss Lillian Grahm returned Sunday from the Y. W. C. A. at Northfield. Each college in New England is allowed to send two delegates to this conference. Newton Hospital being the only Nurses Training School belonging to the student Y. W. C. A. which sends delegates, the subject of the conference was "Why are we 'Christian To-day'?" Mr. Reinhold Niebuhr of Detroit was the principal speaker.

Miss Allen the superintendent of the hospital has recovered from her recent illness and has gone away on a leave of absence.

MME. SUNDELIN'S COMING

Marie Sundelius, the charming Swedish-American prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has had an unusually successful career. Born in the province of Warrland, Sweden, a territory rich in legends, Mme. Sundelius, like her distinguished countrywoman, Christine Nilsson, early evinced her remarkable vocal gifts. Her first public appearance taking place at the age of seventeen, coming to this country as a child of ten, the singer obtained her entire musical education from American teachers, except for coaching lessons with the prominent Swedish composer, Peterson-Berger, and Edmond Clement in Paris.

With her fresh "seraphic" voice and charming personality, Marie Sundelius has won countless successes on the concert and operatic stage. It is not often that Newton has an opportunity of welcoming and hearing so distinguished a singer. For the song recital which Mme. Sundelius is to give in Eliot Church on the evening of Wednesday, March 3rd, there is a long list of patronesses.

WELFARE BUREAU

The postponed meeting of the Board of Directors was held on Friday afternoon, Mr. Leon B. Rogers, the President, presiding. After the usual routine business, the budget for the current year was considered. It was agreed that the amount of $11,500 was needed for the various activities, and the Board relies upon the zealous co-operation of public-spirited citizens of Newton.

"It takes an entire community to relieve, correct, and prevent its own ailments."

In keeping with a program of steady advance in serving the community life of Newton, the Board determined that it was a duty to develop Occupational Therapy for those who need it.

Miss Butters, the General Secretary, reported that in January the problems of 63 families were met with insight, understanding and sympathy by the Bureau staff. Ill health was the heaviest disability during January, but the staff was concerned over cases of unemployment.

One example was given where an able and willing man had been out of work eight weeks, losing $224 in normal wages and using up his small savings.

The resignation of Miss Christine Tarpinian, Assistant Secretary, was accepted with regret. Miss Tarpinian has accepted the position of Visitor with the Family Welfare Association of Springfield.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

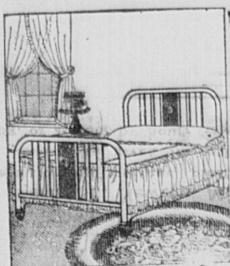

Complete success expresses the outcome of "The Cool Collections," which was presented by the Blue Triangle Club last Friday and Saturday evenings. The co-operation of the girls was simply splendid, and those taking part in the play, as well as those on the committee, deserve a great deal of credit for what they have done in putting this "over the top." Our Hosts, Hostesses and Patronesses are also to be thanked for the help which they have given us.

On Monday, February 15th, the club spent a great part of the evening in discussing the play, after which singing was enjoyed. Next Monday, the holiday, many of the girls are planning to attend in a group the exhibition being held at Perkins' Institution in Watertown.

The Y. W. C. A. will be closed all day on Monday the 22nd.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

Eliot Church of Newton extended its formal welcome to their new pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson Eusden, in the form of a reception last Tuesday evening. There were about two hundred present. The Chapel was most attractively decorated with oriental rugs and flowers.

The receiving line stood in front of a beautiful bank of green palms and flowers at the front of the room.

With Mr. and Mrs. Eusden, were
Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin G. Hinckley, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Barker.

Mr. Everett Truette arranged an interesting program of music, consisting of selections by Mrs. Vesta W.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The celebration of the Twentieth Anniversary of the Knights of King Arthur of the Congregational Church of Auburndale started on Sunday evening with a Vesper Service, when five Esquires were raised to the degree of Knighthood. The public knighting was followed by a most interesting address given by the Rev.
Edward Payson Drew, pastor of the church.

On Monday there was dinner in the dining room of the church and about eighty-five boys and their friends were present. Following the dinner there was a public conclave and program in the Chapel. The program consisted of four short speeches by former Knights. Each speaker covering a period of five years of his work in the organization. The first five years were covered by Mr. Arthur S. Browne of Belmont, the first Pandragon. Mr.
Warren Conn told of the second five years, Mr. W. J. Spaulding of the third and Mr. Harland Plisk the last period of five years. The last three speakers were all of Auburndale. Mr. Raymond Sikes gave piano solos and Mr.
Ralph Keyes was the vocalist. Mr.
Esty, State Representative, Knights of King Arthur, gave a most interesting address.

The Lady of the Lake is Mrs. J. P.
Draper and the other Queens are Mrs.
Edward Payson Drew, Mrs. Edward
J. Frost and Mrs. W. J. Spaulding.

The great success of the anniversary celebration was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Draper, who had the arrangements in charge.

Mrs. Drew was chairman of the dinner committee and with the mothers of past and present members served a most delicious menu.

MRS. NAOMI KIMBALL

Mrs. Naomi Kimball died on February 13, at her late residence, 544 Walnut street, Newtonville. She was born in Farmington, New Hampshire, 85 years ago, and was the widow of Jeremiah Kimball. Her funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J.
Edgar Park officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Helen K. Balley.

NARROW ESCAPE

Tuesday afternoon Arthur Lamson, eight years old, of 40 Cook street, Nonantum, had the most exciting few minutes that have as yet occurred in his young life. Arthur and some companions were indulging in the ancient and hazardous sport of teetering on the ice in the Charles river opposite California street. He became more daring, ventured out towards the middle of the river to the edge of the channel, with the result that the ice he was standing on broke away from the field and started to float down river. As the ice raft, about ten feet square began to move in the direction of the dam above Lewand's plant, Arthur's companions commenced to shout for help. Persons from nearby houses rushed to the river bank and someone telephoned the Watertown Fire Department to send the ladder truck.

Meanwhile Arthur was pacing about his craft nervously and listening to shouts of advice and encouragement from those on the shore. One woman yelled to him—"Keep Cool." This may have seemed superfluous advice to give to a small boy on a large cake of ice, but taken figuratively, it was good counsel. Luck was with young Lamson. Just as the ladder truck came speeding up pleasant street, followed by the Watertown police ambulance, a cross current swerved the ice cake from the center of the open stream to the Watertown shore. Even before it touched solid ice, Arthur gave a leap and landed solidly, if not gracefully on the snow covered bank. Bystanders started towards him, but before they reached his side, the hero of the "thriller" vanished in the direction of Nonantum as rapidly as his small legs would permit.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED

William Horton LeFurge, 18, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. LeFurge, of 12 Edinboro Terrace, Newtonville, attached to the Coast Guard destroyer Cassin as a fireman, third class, was drowned Sunday afternoon when a gigantic wave swept him from the deck of the destroyer while it was cruising off Martha's Vineyard.

LeFurge's tragic death occurred on his first trip on a destroyer while in the service, he having signed up only four weeks ago after having been discharged from the navy when officials found that he had served 16 months while under age.

He visited his parents for a few hours on the day of the first heavy snowstorm and wrote to his mother last Tuesday stating that he was going out on his first eight day cruise on the following day. The body was recovered.

LeFurge was born in Lynn but has resided most of his life in Newtonville where he attended the public schools. He enlisted in the navy when he was 16 years of age and served on the Pacific coast for 16 months.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At a luncheon on Saturday, Feb. 20th, for a few of their intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Loveland of Newton and Chatham announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Loveland, to Mr. Richard Donham, son of Dean and Mrs. Wallace B. Donham of Brattle street, Cambridge, and of the Chatham Summer Colony. Miss Loveland is a graduate of Miss May's School in Boston and made her debut last year at a dance at the Country Club. Mr. Donham attended preparatory school at Exeter and is of the 1927 class at Harvard. He is a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi.

NEWTON WINS

In the second game of the round-robin series of the Interscholastic hockey league at the Arena Wednesday night Newton high outplayed Melrose high, which had run up a string of eighteen consecutive victories with but one tie game, and shut out the last year champions, 2 to 0. The Newton boys won by reason of better team play, the stopping of Captain Peter Lloyd of Melrose by Captain Guy Holbrook of Newton, the flashing playing of little Frank Spain and the goalkeeping of Thompson, who outdid himself in the net.

Holbrook was the outstanding star of the game and he figured in both of the orange and black's score which came in the second period. The entire first period was scoreless, and both outfits fought tooth and nail to penetrate the opposing goal. Each team had one or two chances to count in the opening session but the goalies turned the shots aside. McHugh, the Melrose net guardian, had nine stops in this period to four for Thompson. Newton was showing great hockey and ill luck more than anything else prevented Spain from tallying.

Pete Lloyd tried his best at the start of the second period to finish things up quick, but Thompson turned away all four of the Melrose leader's shots which came at him one after the other. Finally the local team invaded their opponents' territory. Holbrook broke away and skated up center ice with Frank Spain down the left lane to take a pass. The Newton leader went to the defence and then turned the disc over to his teammate. The little left wing, who is righthanded, shifted his stick over to the other side and let go a knee high shot past McHugh for the first score. Right after the next face-off Lloyd started down the ice and Holbrook met him. The two crashed together and the light-haired Newton boy was ruled off the ice for two minutes. Melrose brought every resource to bear to tie the count but Newton's five men staved off the attack. Holbrook came back on the ice and proceeded to score the other goal unassisted. He took a pass outside the defense and dribbled through for a close-up shot which McHugh could not stop.

The third period was full of thrills but neither team could score. Thompson made four fine stops and then his work lightened as Melrose tired.

The summary:
Newton—Stubbs, rw; Holbrook, c; Spain, lw; Proctor, rd; Andres, ld; Thompson, g.
Melrose—Ripley, lw; Lloyd, c; Sanford, rw; Morehead, ld; Cushman, rd; McHugh, g.

Score—Newton 2. Goals, first period no scoring, Spain 2m 41s; Holbrook, 9m 26s; third period no scoring.

Sidelights of the Game

Newton's team play was far superior to Melrose. The north of Boston team failed to pass and although the forward line was dangerous at all times the Newton boys held them at bay.

Guy Holbrook proved himself to be the peer of any schoolboy centre ice of the season and has earned a place among the best of those of all time.

Frank Spain was not far behind his captain when it came to displaying first class hockey.

The third period became rather rough. At one time Melrose had but two men beside the goalie on the ice but these two held Newton off. Near the close of the game Lloyd and Frank Stubbs came to blows and were penalized for two minutes.

Newton deserved its win but it was a tough game for Melrose to lose after a season record of eighteen wins and one tie. The victory practically assures Newton of the championship as they have only to play Cambridge Latin in the third contest of the series. Holbrook's team has already defeated the Cantabs in a preliminary round contest and should have little difficulty in winning again.

GIRL SCOUTS

Cedar Hill was the Mecca for the Girl Scouts on Monday, February 22. They arrived from all parts of Greater Boston in great numbers to enjoy the sports and good times planned for them for the holiday. Captain Fairbrother with three lieutenants and a group of scouts spent Sunday night there in the famous "bowling alley" so well known to many scouts and were ready bright and early Monday morning for the fun. Coasting, skiing and snowshoeing with races and outdoor sports was the morning program. After a barbecue served in the big barn at noon the girls started on a treasure hunt and after the treasure had been unearthed all enjoyed a movie in the barn. It was a great day and many Newton scouts were there to enjoy the fun. Elizabeth Plimpton, Troop XIII, won the skiing contest.

Troops VIII and XVIII spent a delightful day in the open at the Brae Burn Country Club this week. They had a coasting party with a fine lunch in a sheltered spot on the golf course and hot cocoa which was served at the Club House.

A Food and Candy Sale will be held in Abundale by the Scouts of that village on Saturday this week from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. A vacant store in the Taylor Block on Auburn street has been loaned them for this affair, and the girls will have baked beans, different kinds of bread and cake and candy for sale.

Troop XX gave a very nice party last week. A banquet to the Mothers of ten girls in the Troop was held in the attractive Coffee Shoppe on Centre street and was a most successful occasion. Mrs. Frank Day, Miss Converse, Mrs. Eaton, Miss Dean, Mrs. Redfield and Miss Freeman were guests besides the mothers and committee members and were asked to speak on different phases of Scouting. Jane McGregor was toastmistress of the occasion. Eloise Barber led the singing and Scout cheers, and Virginia Brown gave a very fine tribute to the troop and its officers, which was greeted with great applause.

HIGH SCHOOL ORGAN

A group of Newton people who are interested in the advancement of music in our schools have organized as a committee for the purpose of raising the necessary funds to install a pipe organ in the auditorium of the new High School building. This committee is known as the "High School Organ Fund Committee."

Necessary provisions for the placing of the pipe organ have been made by the special board which had charge of the planning of the new building, space beside the stage, provided with grill openings into the auditorium, having been reserved for the purpose.

In view of the fact that it is practically impossible for the city government to appropriate the money necessary to purchase the organ, or even a major part of it, the Organ Fund Committee has taken upon themselves the work of bringing the matter to the attention of Newton citizens and of soliciting their aid and co-operation in raising the necessary funds.

That the organ was considered an important part of the equipment of the auditorium by those in authority who planned the building is shown by the fact that they saw fit to set aside the necessary space when certain other much-desired items had to be omitted for lack of space.

The great value of the pipe organ in school life is being keenly appreciated today, as is shown by the large number which are being placed in schools all over the country. New York City, for example, is completing the installation of seventeen pipe organs, one in each of its high schools. In the West, school organs are more numerous than in the East. People who are deeply interested in educational problems believe that good music in the schools is of tremendous importance. The function of a pipe organ in this respect is too apparent to need further comment.

Not only would this organ in our auditorium be of limitless value to the school life for singing, orchestra work and for recitals, but it would have a

KIWANIS CLUB

Newton is to have a Kiwanis Club, according to plans made by business and professional men at meetings during the past week at Newton, and is to become one of over 1340 cities having representation in Kiwanis International.

Business and professional men of Brookline who are members of Kiwanis and who are interested in having a club in Newton, requested Walter C. Hampton, field representative of Kiwanis International of Chicago, to make survey of Newton. His report indicates that there is not only a field for such a club in Newton but there is need of such an organization.

The following men were elected as temporary officers: President, Frank L. Wilcox; Vice-President, Walter Moore; Secretary, Frank M. Grant; Treasurer, William M. Cahill.

The following men in addition to the officers have signed applications for membership and are picking the personnel to make up the charter requirements:

Frank H. Pope, Fred A. Cahill, J. Edward Callanan, William Skelton, Wilfred Chagnon, G. Clement Colburn, Raymond E. Williams, Rev. Earl E. Harper, Mark V. Croker, Ernest Gibson, Charles Barrows.

A Kiwanis Club is composed of representative business and professional men in the city in which it is located and, according to its constitution, may have not more than two members from the same line of business or profession. The aim of the club is to maintain a high standard of business and social ethics, to promote a spirit of fellowship and co-operation and the application of the golden rule in the private, civic, social and business life. The club meets once a

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Joseph Daniels of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. was the speaker Monday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club, held as usual at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. Daniels traced the growth of civilization by its improvements in fire and light. He showed how important this was in the earlier stages of civilization by its improvements in built to protect the sacred fire. His talk was illustrated with slides showing the various means of lighting by candles and oil, and the variety and extent of the accompanying fixtures.

Edison invented the first electric light about forty years ago, but it was not suited for commercial purposes until generators were built, and electric wires made to carry the current.

The first light took about 6 watts per candle power and constant improvements have reduced this to about six-tenths of a watt for the modern gas-filled bulb. The increase in power has necessitated the use of inverted reflectors and Mr. Daniels showed several slides to illustrate the improvement by the use of different kinds of globes and reflectors.

The electric business of the country Mr. Daniels stated now amounted to $750,000,000 per year. The club will meet next week with the Watertown Rotary Club on Tuesday.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

We do love the winter with its pearly snow drops and invigorating blasts, but we will welcome the advent of the Henry Ford of the automobile industry. This paddling in the puddles takes all the edge off our daily walk to trains or car, for a home on the edge of the suburbs has all the hardships of the real country life with none of the tax reductions. Of course it isn't always paddling in the puddles; often it is wading in the snow-drifts, and that wouldn't be so bad if the drifts lasted all the way. However, the daily trip to Boston in the winter always brings up the problem of footwear. Arctics or rubber boots are all right for the first stage, but the last mile is often made on the steam heated sidewalks, where the young men are wearing ox-fords and the weaker sex, whether old or young, are tripping gaily along in pumps.

How often we have buckled on the old harness for fighting snow and sleet, and have taken our way to the city, satisfied that our costume was the proper thing for the weather and the footing, only to find ourselves the centre of all eyes as we walked the dry sidewalks to the office. Apparently we were looked upon as direct from a presentation of the "Old Homestead." Again we have tripped gaily to the train from the office in our sporty low shoes to find that the path homeward was knee-deep in snow or slush.

What we really want is a "Men's Exchange" in the true sense of the word situated near the South station or Park street subway. Here we could drop our goloshes or rubber boots and slipping on our summer shoes prepare to meet the competition and the comfort of the steam-heated sidewalk. On the way back the exchange could be reversed. Here is the chance for the promoter of tomorrow to erect these exchanges at proper centres, have lockers installed to be let at a yearly rental like letter boxes and the problem is solved.

We cannot help but envy those who defy the severity of Winter weather and go without hats or coats or both. Much has been written on the hardy physical condition which permits of this, but it is not the general subject with which we would deal. What we would like to take up is the intrepid store employee or store-keeper who dodges in and out of his place of business minus headgear or outer garment. Many a time have we sauntered down to the village in the morning, swathed in our heaviest overcoat and muffled to the chin with lamb's wool only to encounter a store clerk sailing along from his shop to the bank as though it were midsummer.

Often have we shivered at this amazing sight and more often have we wondered how these good friends of ours stood it. We have never been able to plunge one foot in a mud puddle without feeling the effect of this slight immersion. But here are men who never seem to know the temperature is below freezing and that the wind is sharp and penetrating. We have seen a man leave his store on a terribly cold day and start for the bank dressed just as he was for indoors. Perhaps he would put his hat on, but merely that he might salute the paying-teller and not to protect his head. And some of the good store folks have neither hat nor hair. Not that we wish to be personal, however. Maybe it's a cure for baldness—one of the trials of life we have thus far escaped. But we doubt if it is hatless and coatless give heed to baldness. Why should they mind a slight matter like this if the cold blasts of Winter do not disturb them.

We don't see so much of the straw-hat with which the provision men used to adorn their heads in Winter time. These same men, as we recall, went without hats in Summer and wore their straw hats in Winter. Although we are unable to establish any supporting facts we are of the opinion that working in a store gives one complete immunity from colds and influenza. We shall try to find out if this is so or if they have a special prophylactic obtainable only by "those on the inside."

We long have heard that there are two sides to every story. Isn't it also true there are two views of every picture? We maintain this latter statement to be an accurate one. In support of our contention we will call upon the members of the Board of Aldermen and others who are obliged to listen to both sides at hearings for permits to erect automobile filling stations. Unable to give our readers a stenographic report we must trust to our memory—to the best of our recollection—as the court phraseology presents it. After reading or listening to the two pictures, or rather the two views presented by opposing sides, our impressions remain vivid. Depending, as we have said, on a more or less retentive memory, the attorney for the petitioner has left with his hearers and readers this picture:

The filling station which the petitioner proposes to erect will be a distinct ornament to that part of the city. The lay-out will have been supervised by a prominent landscape gardener of great accomplishment. The structures will be of a highly desirable type, from the plans of one of the most famous architects money could employ. No expense will be spared to perfect the most minute detail. There will be a series of beautiful flower beds that will flourish during the warmer months while a conservatory will be maintained during the winter for the growing of orchids and other rare and exquisite examples of floriculture. There will be absolutely no odor from the filling tanks. These will be placed underground and no one will know of their presence from the smell of gasoline. A new device that makes the gasoline smell like new mown hay will be installed. The result will be that people will want to live in the neighborhood. Real estate values are certain to be greatly increased and the revenue to the city from additional taxation will help reduce the city's tax rate. In short, the proposed filling station will prove of immense advantage to the public.

Now let us see if we can remember how the opponents to a filling station talk at these public hearings. O, yes, we recall. It is thus: "If you gentlemen allow this petition to build this terrible monstrosity he proposes to erect, you will be dealing a death blow to that part of the city. There will be constant danger from fire and from automobile accidents. School children will always be in peril, both from the fumes of the gasoline and the moving automobiles. Property values will depreciate and none of those who now live in the neighborhood will care to remain there. When they sell their property it will be at a great loss. We know that the health of all the neighborhood will suffer. Many of those who own property in this section have worked hard and saved their money to buy their places. They believe it a grave injustice if they are driven out. The city has never done anything to improve this part of Newton. All improvements in this section have been made at the expense of the owners of property. Why should an exception be made in this case and discrimination shown by the city. We believe you gentlemen are fair-minded and will see that it is not just to those who have the most at stake. We understand the petitioner is not asking for himself but is going to sell out to one of the largest gasoline concerns in the country. We are not seeking any favors; all we want is common justice and decent treatment."

The problem remains to sift the truth from all this great torrent of words from the two sides. We do not envy the task of those compelled to arrive at some decision.

The greater the fall of snow the greater the flow of conversation on snow removal. Such is invariably the case. Inasmuch as it has been some years since the snowflakes have deposited themselves in our midst in such large numbers, we naturally like to talk about this condition. It seems that we have heard about everything that could be said from bitter criticism to unstinted praise. We think that if ever there was excuse for householders and other property owners for failure to clean their sidewalks it was the recent experience. The fact remains, however, that some did their best while others took advantage of the overwhelming drifts and protested the job was too much for them. Just how the city authorities are to settle this we do not know. Opinions differ as they always will.

Now, as to the question of cleaning the streets, opening the gutters and sanding the sidewalks. Critics have come forward to tell what should be done and what was not done. We have our own notion about this. We think it was a battle, nothing less, and that the Newton street department came out ahead of course. And of course some sections were cleaned while others were not. Is it humanly possible to cope with the conditions such as were imposed in a short time? We are not disposed to plaster this column with encomiums, but we do think that allowances should be made all around. We think the street railways could have done more—they couldn't have done less. We also think that if the city proceeded along the lines that some of the critics suggested the cost of snow removal would have resulted in a staggering total. We know there are those who do not subscribe to this view. But who shall say which is the correct view?

As an example of how varied are the sentiments of Newton people we repeat what an official told us. He said that he received a telephone call from an irate citizen who demanded that more men be put on the job, storm or no storm, that horses and plows be employed regardless of expense. He was not about it very. The next telephone call this official received came from another citizen who protested that it was not humane to employ street cleaners under such conditions, that no matter how impassable the thoroughfares and sidewalks, no man should be forced to risk his life, etc., etc.

That Newton has no pernicious "night club" problem is no doubt due to the alacrity shown by our officials in putting out of business such few groups of individuals as have from time to time attempted to establish these sort of places in different parts of the city. We believe that it proves the wisdom of nipping-in-the-bud an enterprise that can do the city no good. Doubtless attempts will be made in the future, for Newton is after all a "quiet place" in the minds of those who would establish gay resorts for their own profit, and the problem will come up in some other form. A "quiet place" like Newton "within easy motor distance of Boston" must, in order to protect itself, sit on the lid and keep sitting there, through the medium of its police department.

The resolution to discourage the practice of school pupils of "bumming rides," announced by the Citizenship Classes of the Newton High Schools, has many things to commend it. Most notable, in our opinion, is that the idea comes from the pupils themselves. Reforms from within are much more certain of success than reforms from without. Therefore, we congratulate these young people, for we know they mean business.

week at luncheon time, to develop a friendly spirit among its members. Business building and community development are included in its aims. "Membership in a Kiwanis club," said Mr. Humpton, "is limited by being restricted to definite business and professional classifications. Its purposes, aims, and ideals require that its membership be made up of high grade men who stand for fair dealing, for service, for human fellowship, and for the vital principles of the golden rule. Such men not only benefit each other by getting together once a week at lunch time, but they constitute a body in Kiwanis which stands ready to aid every community movement that looks to betterment. In other words, to use a modernized alliteration, it is an organization of men with purpose, pep, punch and personality, which is a real asset to the city."

"Allow me to make it clear that the Kiwanis Club in no way overlaps or duplicates the activities of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, or Lion's Club. In more than 800 cities shows that these organizations have proved to be essential to the progress of the community. Each body has its distinct sphere of operations and in practically every city where they function these organizations act in harmony with each other."

Several Newton men are familiar with the activities of Kiwanis clubs in other cities, and are most enthusiastic over the prospects of having a similar club here.

LODGES

The officers of Winchester Lodge No. 1445 of Elks visited Newton Lodge for the purpose of performing the ceremony of initiation, on Thursday evening, Feb. 25th. The ritual was exemplified in a most impressive manner. An entertainment and refreshments followed. There was a large attendance.

wide field of usefulness in other activities, such as choral societies, concerts and various civic and community affairs, which will be carried on in this assembly hall.

The space reserved for the organ permits of a four manual instrument, which, constructed by one of our best organ builders, would cost approximately $27,000.00. This may seem to some people to be a large sum of money to be used for this purpose. It is, however, a moderate price for a good organ, possessing good tone and constructed of good materials which will insure long life with small expense of upkeep. The committee, many of whom are well-known organists of our city, consider this organ to be no more than adequate for the needs of the auditorium.

The School Board has expressed most hearty approval of the endeavors of the Organ Fund Committee. It is represented on the organ committee by Dr. William T. Foster.

A number of Newton citizens have already been approached on the matter. Their response has been gratifying and many generous subscriptions have been pledged.

It is earnestly desired that the full amount may be subscribed within the next few weeks, the need for haste being due to the fact that about eight months is required for the building and installation of an organ, the order must be placed very soon if the organ is to be ready for use during the coming fall.

The Organ Fund Committee solicits the support of every Newton citizen, not only by subscription but by their active co-operation in all possible ways.

Checks, made payable to the "High School Organ Fund," or pledges which may be paid at some specified later time, may be sent to the Newtonville Branch of the Newton Trust Co., care of Mr. George P. Buell, treasurer of the committee, or to any one of the following members of the Organ Fund Committee:

Leland A. Arnold, organist, Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

William Lester Bates, organist, Second Congregational Church, West Newton.

Oliver K. Burrisson, 147 Prince street, West Newton.

A. J. Fairbanks, organist, Congregational Church, Newton Highlands.

Edward N. Griffin, supervisor of music in Newton schools.

Earl E. Harper, organist, Methodist Church, Auburndale.

Charles B. Harrington, High School, director of instrumental music.

A. T. Luard, organist, 168 Walnut street, Newtonville.

D. Ralph McLean, organist, First Congregational Church, Newton Centre.

E. Rupert Siroon, organist, Unitarian Society, West Newton.

Edgar J. Smith, 19 Hyde avenue, Newton Highlands.

Everett E. Truette, organist, Eliot Church, Newton.

Albert L. Walker, organist, St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls.

Miss Lillian West, organist, Central Church, Newtonville.

DEATH OF MR. RILEY

Phil M. Riley, forty-three years of age, of 80 Manomet road, Newton Centre, died Sunday, N. H. Sept. 25, 1892, the son of George W. and Emma Elkins Riley. He attended the public schools of Laconia, N. H., and Burdett College, Boston. He began his business career with his father in the Laconia Lumber Company.

In 1904 Mr. Riley came to Boston and became associate editor of the Photo Era magazine, which post he held for eight years. He then was for three years with Doubleday, Page & Co., New York, as editor of the Country Life in America. For the past ten years he was editor of the India Rubber World of New York, and manager of the Boston office.

Mr. Riley contributed to many magazines and newspapers throughout the country on architecture, photography, rubber and cotton. He was the author of many books on architecture, among them "Colonial Architecture of Salem," "Colonial Architecture of Philadelphia" and "The Woodcarver of Salem." He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Caroline M. Riley; a daughter, Sylvia E. Riley, and two stepsons, Stanley K. Walton and Sidney E. Walton.

W. C. T. U.

The members and friends of the West Newton W. C. T. U. had a most enjoyable social on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, 108 Crescent street.

Games, readings and music were all enjoyed. Miss Catherine Donahue was the soloist and the readings were by Miss Betty Hall. Refreshments were served and the hostesses were Mrs. Flora J. Allen, Mrs. Dora Kelley and Mrs. Gladys Potter.

March 1st, the Evangelical meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Jessie Clark, 61 West Pine street, Auburndale. Hostesses, Mrs. Nellie Cooney and Mrs. Jessie Clark.

NEWTON CENTRE WOMEN

On Tuesday, February 23rd, a meeting of the Federation of Women's Church Societies of Newton Centre was held at the Parish House of Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

Many representatives from each of the five Protestant Churches of Newton Centre were present. With the call to the meeting went a notice that members were requested to bring, or send, garments of all kinds to meet needs of the Newton Welfare Bureau; and that the day would be devoted to making necessary repairs on clothing brought. New material was in readiness to be used if there was not repair work enough to keep everybody busy.

Gifts of clothing needing only small repair work were so generous that little of the new work was needed. At noon an hour was given, while sewing went on, to short talks on interesting topics. Mrs. Norman F. Pratt spoke of legislative measure of special interest concerning women and children.

Mrs. George W. Parker, President of the Federation, spoke of the proposed drive to raise money for the new Library Building in Newton Centre.

Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor told of the origin, purpose and work of the Newton Welfare Bureau; and of officers of the Welfare Bureau, Newton Central Council, Newton District Nursing Association, the Newton Branch of the American Red Cross; all located at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. Mrs. Taylor gave a brief account of special needs in Newton and of the demands upon the service of the Welfare Bureau.

Coffee was served by the Hostess society.

At the close of the day a very substantial amount of clothing, all in excellent condition, was sent to the Newton Welfare Bureau. Fully as important a result of the meeting was the general interest and hearty co-operation among the different societies. We are promised that similar meetings will be held at least three times a year.

MME. SUNDELIUS' RECITAL

Next Wednesday, at 8 o'clock in Eliot Church, Newton, will occur the eagerly awaited song recital by Mme. Marie Sundelius, the distinguished Swedish soprano. There have been many inquiries as to Mme. Sundelius' program which is to be brilliant and varied. She will give solos both from oratorios and from operas in which her reputation has been made, and among other selections will sing a group of Swedish folk songs which always prove exceptionally popular. When she last sang in Sweden she was given a great ovation by the famous students' chorus of the University of Upsala.

Mrs. Dudley Fitts, who has many friends in Newton also, will accompany Mme. Sundelius.

The doors will be opened at 7:30 and an early attendance is urged, as the seats are unreserved. The concert will begin promptly at 8, and late comers cannot be seated until after the first number.

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

"First Things First in Our City's Program" will be the subject for discussion at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Central Council at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, 1280 Centre street, Newton Centre, Wednesday, March 10. Dinner will be served at six o'clock under the able direction of Mrs. Francis N. Nathan.

Community singing led by Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale will follow the business of the annual meeting.

All are invited to the open meeting at 8 o'clock at which plans for Newton's future development will be presented: From the Administration Point of View by Mayor Edwin O. Childs; from the Financial Point of View by Mr. George W. Pratt, President of the Board of Aldermen.

This meeting will be of interest to every taxpayer. Come prepared with questions for the question box.

All honor to Sam Moore, the 17-year old Newtonville lad has established a new world's record that will no doubt stand for some time. He, perhaps, is the only boy that can surpass. It seems at times as though there was no limit to the number of shots that he can send into the bulls-eye provided he had the endurance.

Drawings for the races at the Harvard-Dartmouth-Cornell meet tomorrow night to settle the high school relay championship of the state have been announced. In the trial heat Newton will run against Brockton and Boston Latin.

Win Robinson of Newtonville will be seen in action tomorrow night at the triangular college meet. The former Newton athlete will compete for Dartmouth in the hurdles.

Battery candidates for the high school baseball team will report for practice next Wednesday afternoon in the high school gymnasium. Prospects are good for an excellent team this spring, and the battery candidates are fair. The pitching problem this year is not as bad as usual and Coach Dickinson will have several good men to choose from. McClary, Hanscom, Macy, Young, Pickard, and Wilson are the likely prospects with the last named the outstanding performer. Behind the bat Spain and Menahan are awaiting the call.

SALVATORE SIMEONE

Salvatore Simeone, a well-known business man of Newton, passed away on Friday, February 19, at his late home, 3 Thornton street, after a long illness. He was born in Elena, Caserta, Italy, 56 years ago, and had been in business in this city for 23 years, conducting grocery stores in Newton and West Newton. He had attained an excellent reputation among his business associates and all with whom he came in contact, and had contributed liberally to public and charitable activities.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Matilda Simeone, three daughters—Carmen, Rosina, and Matilda, and one son, Salvatore.

Funeral services were held on Monday, February 22nd, at the Church of Our Lady, a solemn requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. Conrad Quirkback, assisted by Rev. Walter Roche and Rev. Robert Mantle. The interment was at Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. The large number of mourners and the wealth of floral tributes manifested the esteem in which Mr. Simeone was held.

Newton Centre

—Marie Sundelius, Wednesday, Mar. 3, at 8 P. M., Eliot Church, Newton.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Gillling of Chestnut Hill enjoyed the holiday at Bethel, Me.

—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Coveney of Fisher avenue is suffering with measles.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Drowne of Takewold road spent the holiday in New Hampshire.

—Mrs. Joseph Wellman, formerly of Newton Highlands, is visiting her son at Ridley Park, Pa.

—Miss Mabel Melcher of Berwick road is enjoying a week's stay in Washington, D. C.

—The Misses Perry and Mr. John Perry, Jr., spent the holiday at Poland Springs, Me.

—Mr. Warren Peirce has returned from New York, where he has been engaged in business.

Tuesday morning at 3:25 Officer Moan espied two boys plodding in a listless fashion along Elmwood street, Newton. He questioned them and found that the pair—James Perkins and James Souza, each 15 years of age, had run away from their homes in Hudson the day before. The wanderers were quite fagged and were willing to be returned to the town on the Assa-

NEWTON SPORTS

BASKETBALL

Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball team has added one more victory and one defeat to its standing by defeating Cambridge 27 to 26, and losing to Lynn, the State Champions 41 to 22.

The second team has lost its last two games 24 to 16 to Lynn, and 23 to 17 to Cambridge. The constant improvement of the Newton five is shown in comparing the results of the last game with Cambridge with the result of their first meeting, when Newton lost by 18 points. While the guards, Vulliamier, Rae, McIntire, and Shields have been covering the back court, Hardy, Brimblecom, and MacGillivray have been scoring consistently. Newton has four more games on its schedule: Somerville at Somerville, February 27th; Boston at Boston, March 6th; Everett at Newton, March 10th; and Worcester at Newton, March 24th.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. boys' basketball team took part in the Two-State Boys' Basketball Tournament at Worcester, Monday, February 22nd. Teams were entered from fourteen 'Y's' in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Many of the games were won or lost by close scores, with the Beaver Team of Cambridge 'Y' winning the championship. Newton 'Y' lost its opening game of the tournament with the Beaver team.

Coffee was served by the Hostess society.

At the close of the day a very substantial amount of clothing, all in excellent condition, was sent to the Newton Welfare Bureau. Fully as important a result of the meeting was the general interest and hearty co-operation among the different societies. We are promised that similar meetings will be held at least three times a year.

POLICE NEWS

Fifteen drunken individuals were arrested over the holiday. To be exact, fourteen different persons were arrested for being drunk. One person, who evidently was determined on intensive intoxication, was taken into custody Monday morning at 9:30 and bailed out a few hours later, when sufficiently sobered up to be released. Twelve hours later, this same party was "taken in tow" a second time as he alighted from a Waltham car.

TRUCK RUNS AMUCK

Much publicity has been given in the press of late to driverless autos which are operated along streets by radio control. In fact, this stunt is becoming rather common. Wednesday, a small delivery truck owned by the Ford Motor Co., travelled on its own initiative, a considerable distance at a high rate of speed without any assistance from radio. The truck commenced its journey at the top of Mt. Ida and rolled with increasing impetus down Bellevue street, kept on a straight course by the deep ruts. Charles Seeley of St. James street was driving an auto up the hill when he observed the driverless truck descending on him at express train velocity. Seeley managed to get his car into a driveway just in time to escape a collision. The runaway continued on until it reached Centre street, where it was stopped when it hit a 7-ton truck. The big truck was not much damaged, but the Ford truck was a wreck.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

STATE FEDERATION

The Fine Arts come in for attention in the next few weeks under the sponsorship of the State Federation, and it is fitting that now, with the heavier topic of legislation disposed of, so far as endorsements, with the weighty decision and pondering which has led up thereto, are concerned, that the methods of beautification, be it in sculpture, painting or gardens, come in for their share of consideration.

An exhibition of Memorial Sculpture in Relation to its Setting is planned for the first two weeks in March, in the Rogers Building of Technology, Boston. In arranging for this exhibit, which has the approval of the Boston Society of Sculptors, the Art Chairman, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart—whom Newton delights to claim—has been desirous of having each federated club represented by at least one talented member. To this end she has not made a rule of expert workmanship, but encouraged execution that showed expression of ideas by means of sketch models. Surely, such a method of displaying workmanship should prove stimulating to genius, and of interest and information to the general public—which, alas! being hurried and worried, only too often is indifferent to, or ignorant of, many wonders in their midst, nay, upon their very doorsteps, pleading for recognition! Never was truer statement ever uttered than that of the prophet without honor in his own country. Many a prophet has returned carrying wreaths of fame from a foreign land to be rapturously embraced—at last!—by neighbors who should have—but didn't—shown intelligent appreciation long before the journey afield! Full details of the exhibit may be obtained from Miss Bertha Tuttle, 118 Commonwealth Ave., Boston.

As an aid to the intelligent surveying of this exhibit—a timely opportunity—the University Extension Division of the State Department of Education is offering a course in Appreciation of Painting and Sculpture, so that there will be no excuse for the clubwomen on the score of lack of understanding of what constitutes ability in these two arts, as the basis for refusal to attend the Exhibit! The Course began on February 23rd, and is to be given at the Boston Normal Art School by Melville Polson Webster, A.M. of Harvard University. Details in regard to the course may be obtained from the State Department in charge of it.

Miss Alice Gwendoline Titus, "peppy" and efficient State Federation Chairman of Press, makes an announcement that is a big news item for all interested in "putting publicity across." She is to have charge of the issue of a Course in Club Journalism, to consist of twelve lessons. Among those who have been asked to contribute are John D. Sherman, a well known journalist of the middle west, whose wife is the President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Leslie Stringfellow Read, General Federation Chairman of Publicity; Mrs. Marx Obendorfer, General Federation Chairman of Music; Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, General Federation Director for Massachusetts; Mrs. Frederick Clavier Smith and Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, President and first Vice-President respectively, of the Massachusetts State Federation; Miss Alice F. Titus, Chairman of the Northeastern Division in General Federation press work, and W. L. Thomas of Worcester.

The course has been formulated under Miss Albee's leadership by the members of her department who are trained newspaper women. The result of their plans were submitted to editors and reporters on metropolitan and small city and town papers for criticism. In this way the committee in charge of the work endeavored to make the course of practical value in work with all types of papers.

The lessons will discuss the newspaper from an editor's point of view, from the reader's, and the value of the press to club work. The organization of newspaper departments and the processes of publishing a paper will be described in detail. A press exhibit contributed from one of the State papers, containing mounted material used in publishing a page of the paper, will illustrate this work. Space is given in the exhibit to advertising material. The divisions found in newspaper columns are discussed, leading to the important part of the course, the four lessons in the technique of newspaper writing. This section instructs club women in what is news from the newspaper point of view, how to get it, put it in written

Gardens

With the coming of the spring month, and with thoughts turning to gardens, it is interesting to note how many Clubs are supplying their members with opportunity for learning about this important outdoor sport—nay, more than sport—fulfillment of dreams. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Conservation Chairman for the Newton Federation, has arranged for a series of lectures to be given at 12 Austin Street, Newtonville, on several Tuesday mornings. The first one of March 2nd, at 10 o'clock, is to be a "Nature Talk," by Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb. Miss Cobb is well known not only as a Clubwoman, but as a lecturer and author of various delightful "nature" books, and her general discussion will be a fitting opening to the more specific topics to follow, and will serve as an inspiration to those who perhaps as yet only vaguely feel the coming spring urge to "dig" into the heart of nature and to help forward its fruition of beauty to come in those drowsy summer days.

Mrs. Goodridge also presents to her Club, where she is local Conservation Chairman, a Course of Garden Lectures, comprising at least five, with Miss Elizabeth G. Pattee, Landscape Architect, speaker for the first one, of March 12th. These will be held at the Hunnewell Parlors, at 1030 o'clock, on the mornings planned of the Course. There is a fee of three dollars for the series. They are sure to be most enjoyable and instructive, having that enviable feature of visible instruction, as three of the lectures will be accompanied by lantern slides. One will show the possibilities of the perennial border. The final lesson of the course will be a visit to the Lothrop Model Gardens at Groton.

Newtonville offers to its members of the Newtonville Woman's Club a Class in Gardening, consisting of three meetings in March, the 11th, 18th, and 25th, to be held at the home of Mrs. George A. Clapp, at 1030 A. M. on those dates. The fourth lesson, at a later date, will also be a visit to the Lothrop Model Gardens at Groton, when their display of beauty will be at their height to spur on Club women to achieve similar delightful examples. Mrs. Raymond Thornton is receiving applications of members to join this Course, "Tel. N. N. 2188-W."

Newton Centre Woman's Club, through the Art Committee, of which Mrs. John Bergeson is Chairman, announces a Class in Landscape Gardening, to be conducted by Robert Swan Sturtevant, which will take place the first three Mondays in March, at 10:30 A. M. at the Club House. There is a fee, and applications should be made to Mrs. Charles W. Bond, Tel. C. N. 0623-M. Mr. Sturtevant is Secretary of the American Iris Society and the choice of subjects for his lectures seems particularly enticing, especially to those who may wish to set out for the first time a new type of garden. There should be many ideas of interest. "Laying Out the Small Place," "Planting in Accordance with Designs," and "Special Problems; Rock Gardens and Shade Planting," etc., are indicative of what he has to offer for consideration and inspiration.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Exhibition of Portraits by William Cushing Loring, which opened on February 11th, for one week, in the Art Room of the Club House, under the auspices of Mrs. John Bergeson, Art Chairman of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, has had so much to offer to lovers of beautiful paintings, that it has become necessary to continue the exhibit for the remainder of February, at least. Weather conditions during the opening week of the exhibition prohibited many who would have enjoyed seeing these pictures from attending, and many, also, who know Mr. Loring as a resident of Newton, and a friend—before his talent took him far afield over the world in search of masters that could aid in his progress, and to his profession as head of the Drawing and Painting Department in the Rhode Island School for Design—would have been glad to pay him honor and renew old acquaintance. There is offered extended time for these in the few coming days.

One of the pleasurable features of the exhibit was a Tea and Reception proffered to Mr. and Mrs. Loring by the Art Committee and Officers of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Monday the 15th, when those present had the pleasure of reclaiming friendship, or making acquaintance with the artist, and Mrs. Loring, and of enjoying a private view of the portraits, with words of explanation from their producer that added much to the appreciation, doubtless.

Those who have not seen the Portraits as yet should not lose this pleasurable opportunity.

Social Science Club

Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, in her paper upon "Reconstruction and Adjustment," before the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, the 24th, painted a very vivid word picture of

"DOUBLE A"
that's

the condition in this country following the Civil War of 1860. "A recital of a series of misunderstandings and blunders" was a term applied to the history of this period. The country was divided in three sections. The North, the border states, and the solid South, each with their own problems. After Lincoln's death in April, Andrew Johnson became President. He was an able, self-made man, but not suited to the delicate task of reconstruction. He endeavored to follow Lincoln's plan as shown in his proclamation of amnesty, which was in many ways the same as that of 1863, but Congress feared him and turned against him and his policies, resulting in the impeachment proceedings against him which came after Johnson's defiance of the power of Congress, when he endeavored to remove Stanton from the Cabinet, and replace him by General Grant. Eventually the North came to realize that "the mutilation of one member (the treatment of the South by the North) results in the suffering of all," (the country), and an attempt was made to give the South representation again in Congress under General Grant's leadership.

The Ku Klux Klan also had its beginning during Grant's first term. In the North a panic seized the country after brokers tried to corner the gold market. The spoils system flourished and the western railroads were built very rapidly, outstanding characteristics of Grant's years as President. Eventually we learned the 14th amendment was passed and our shattered, divided country began to grow into the nation we know today.

Miss Eleanor Merrill gave a very interesting story of the life of President Andrew Johnson. Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell told of the Purchase of Alaska, and Miss Helen Woodman described the Mexican Situation at this time as supplementary to the paper, adding greatly to the interest of the morning.

It was also announced that the lecture by Professor Damon, which had to be cancelled because of the storm, would be given on April 7th at 11 o'clock and guests invited.

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

"Cymbeline," is the next of Shakespeare's plays to be taken up for study and entertainment by the members of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands. Saturday, the 27th, the club members will meet at the home of one of their number, Mrs. E. R. Gilbert, on Woodward street. The first two acts of "Cymbeline," will be read and discussed, with the Quiz in charge of Miss Edith M. McCann.

Christian Era Study Club

On March first the Christian Era Study Club holds its next meeting and the program is in the hands of Mrs. H. E. B. Case who will give a paper on "Quebec," and of Mrs. Edward T. Edmunds who will present the subject of "Montreal," the fellow-city.

Waban Woman's Club

Mr. Melville Freeman, head of the History Department in the High School of Practical Arts, Boston, comes to the Waban Woman's Club on the afternoon of March 1st, with "The Inspiration of Books." One who has searched through history, with its literature and high endeavors, be they of ambition, or of worthier ideals, should certainly have a fund of information and introspection from which to draw, that should be of interest to his hearers. This will present a new angle of literature to club women who so often hear of the new books, or of current literature topics—even including the popular current events—but who seldom approach the book world today through lecturers that seek out, through the centuries, the value of the written word.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A musicale has been arranged for the enjoyment of members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club for their next meeting, in the evening of Monday, the first of March, at Emerson School Hall, at 8 o'clock, by Mrs. Warren H. Roey, chairman of Community Service. The Linnell Entertainers will provide the program. Miss Charlotte Linnell, an accomplished Soprano, with a voice of unusual beauty and range. Miss Marjorie French delights her audience with her violin selections, and is also a reader. Miss Lola French, the third of the Group, is a talented cellist, and one of the leading pianologists in the East. It is an open meeting, and the public can obtain tickets from club members.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale and for breach of the conditions contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John Christopher and Michael B. Zaharenko, co-partners, doing business under the firm name and style of Liberty General Contracting Company, Watertown, Middlesex County, Massachusetts to Gertrude L. Kotzen, of Boston, Suffolk County, dated July 5, 1925, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds, Book 4868, page 250, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday, March 26, 1926, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and thereinafter described as follows:

"The land in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, being shown as lot 8 on a plan showing subdivision of lots 8 and 17 in plan of Converse Estate Development, Newton, Mass., for Harry J. O'Mara, W. C. Woolner, Landscape Architect, A. C. Peters, Plan Book 333, Plan 26, said subdivision plan being made by A. C. Peters, dated February 1925, duly recorded bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Concolor Ave. 78.66 feet, northerly by lot 8 on said subdivision plan 115.89 feet; easterly by lot 7 on said plan 54.90 feet; southerly by two lines measuring 42.64 feet and 56.08 feet, respectively, said two lines being by Cabot St. and southerly by a curved line forming the junction of Cabot St. and Concolor Ave. 23.41 feet, containing 9555 square feet of land, and according to said subdivision plan.

This conveyance is made subject to all taxes assessed as of April 1, 1924; also subject to the following restrictions which are to remain in force for 20 years from Aug. 18, 1925, and no longer viz:

1. Only a private dwelling house constructed for and to be occupied by one family shall be erected or placed on said lot.

2. Said dwelling house shall cost not less than $10,000.00 exclusive of the land, and based on present day building prices.

3. All buildings to set back at least 30 feet from the line of Cabot St. and Concolor Ave.

4. A private garage may be placed on said land to be used in connection with or as a part of the dwelling house.

For reference to title see Deeds recorded with Middlesex Co. Dist. Deeds in Book 4765, pages 461, 462, and 463.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, municipal liens and municipal assessments, if any there be, $2,000, will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale; other terms as follows:

by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, Tuesday, March 2nd, when Presidents and Officers of a large number of Women's Clubs are to be guests for the afternoon, of the local organization. In the receiving line with Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, the President, will be the Vice-Presidents and Past Presidents and special guests of honor, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter of Greenfield, First Vice-President of the State Federation, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., President of the Newton Federation and Mrs. Joseph G. Congdon, Director of the Twelfth District.

A half hour reception will precede the afternoon's entertainment, which is to be entirely supplied by members of the Club, under the direction of Mrs. T. D. Ginn, Chairman of the Music Committee. The Club Chorus is to sing, and Mrs. J. S. Gove is to read from Kipling, and there will be piano solos by Lucy Simonds, and songs by Mrs. R. L. Rutherford and Florence Hale Ginn. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments will be served by Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver and members of the Social Committee.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Margaret Welmer will give a Demonstration Tea at the meeting on Tuesday. This will be an attractive afternoon for the hospitable home-maker as practical party suggestions will be included. There will be a talk by Mrs. Gladys B. Jones of the American Home Department of the State Federation, and Chairman of Home Economics Teaching. Mrs. George E. Eames and her Committee will assist in serving the tea. Mrs. Royal T. Lap-ham has arranged the musical program which will include two solos by Mrs. Carl C. Davis: "Lovely Night" by Ronald, and "A May Morning" by Denza.

The Gardening Course meets with favor and over twenty have registered as members. Mrs. Raymond Thornton will be glad to receive names of any desiring to join the class.

Auburndale Woman's Club

With the coming of thoughts of gardens there come many accompanying thoughts. As the world awakes and dons a new dress, and bonnet of many lovely blossoms, so we of the human variety—not plain garden—delight to don our new fresh dresses. What more fitting, then, than inspiration proffered to club members—as the Auburndale Woman's Club has arranged—in words of wise advice from one who knows her subject, namely, Mrs. Elsie E. Chamberlain on "Heads and Hats."

Mrs. Chamberlain is spoken of as a well-known lecturer on interior decoration—but from her subject for the meeting of March 2nd, it would seem that her topic is to be on EXTERIOR decoration—and an authority on correct costuming. For many years she has had opportunity to show skill in this latter subject and to acquire further knowledge on modern dress, by being connected with the Clothing Information Bureau of Filene's.

In addition to this attraction for their next meeting the Club has arranged for Solo Dancing by Ellen Marr Perkins.

West Newton Community Service Club

The Community Service Club of West Newton meets in Unitarian Parish House, on Wednesday, March 3rd, at 2:30 P.M. Mr. Guy Caldwell, noted naturalist and lecturer, at the Children's Museum, Jamaica Plain, will speak on "Bird Songs and Wild Flowers."

This will be an entertaining meeting for adults as well as children.

Newton Community Club

On March 4th, at 2:30 P.M., Mrs. Ida Porter Boyer gives another in the series of the Current Events Lectures in Underwood Hall for the members of the Newton Community Club.

On March 12th the Course in Gardening opens at the Hunnewell Parlors, for all who wish to notify Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge that they desire to take this Course. There is a fee, but the lessons will be delightful and practical demonstrations of possibilities, illustrated by lantern slides, for inspiration and enjoyment.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On March 4th also the Newton Centre Woman's Club has a program of Public Health, under the auspices of that Committee. Mrs. Murray P. Horwood, Chairman. Dr. Robert B. Greenough will lecture on "Cancer in Women." Dr. Greenough is well-studied in this topic, as he is surgeon in charge of the Collis P. Huntington Memorial Hospital for Cancer Research, Assistant Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School, and Director of the Cancer Commission of Harvard University.

The Art Room remains open for the rest of the month to enable members to see the splendid Portrait Exhibit of Mr. William Cushing Loring.

And a Garden Class starts on March first, for those who are planning that satisfactory addition to their homes this summer. Mrs. John Bergeson, Art Chairman, has secured Robert Swan Sturtevant to conduct a Class in Landscape Gardening, which will take place the first three Mondays in March at 10:30 A.M. Apply for tickets to Mrs. Charles W. Bond, Tel. C. N. 0233-M.

Mrs. Bergeson also announces an Exhibition in the Art Room of Paintings by Newton Artists from March 11th to 18th, inclusive, from 2 to 5 P.M., to which everyone will be welcomed. And she plans further a Visit to the Art Museum in April.

RICHMOND—FLAGG

The wedding of Mr. Wallace E. Richmond, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Richmond of Newtonville, and Miss Dorothea Kimball Flagg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Flagg of Andover, took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, D.D., pastor of the Old South Church of Andover.

The bride's gown of ivory satin with court train was embroidered with pearls, and her tulle veil was held in place by a coronet of princess lace and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Miss Elizabeth Flagg, Wellesley '27, attended her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Frances Flagg, sister of the bride, and Miss Eleanor Richmond, Connecticut College, '27, sister of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor was in old-gold lace, and she carried Ophelia roses. The bridesmaids wore gowns of cornflower blue and peche and carried bouquets of yellow roses and larkspur.

Mr. Richmond had as his best man Mr. Hayward S. Houghton, Dartmouth '27. The ushers were Mr. V. Stoddard Bigelow, Yale '24, Mr. Malcolm H. Frost, Yale '24, Mr. Loyal B. Holland of Bradford, Pa., and Lt. Burton Chippendale, U. S. N.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, at which the bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Flagg and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Richmond, Sr.

The bride is a graduate of Walnut Hill School, class of '22, and a member of the class of '26 of Mount Holyoke College. Mr. Richmond is a graduate of Williams College, '23, and belonged to Theta Delta Chi fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond will make their home in Bradford, Pa.
